Nature: My Life as a Turkey

Deep in the wilds of Florida, writer and naturalist Joe Hutto raised wild turkeys from chicks—until the day came when he had to let them go off on their own. Hutto's poignant story eventually became a book, Illuminations in the Flatlands.

Airs Thursday, November 24,
at 8 p.m.

Bob Ross: the happy painter

This behind-the-scenes look at the beloved public television host's journey from humble beginnings to an American pop culture icon reveals the public and private sides of Bob Ross through loving accounts from close friends and family, childhood photographs and rare archival footage. Bob Ross enthusiasts, including talk show pioneer Phil Donahue, actors Jane Seymour and Terrence Howard, chef Duff Goldman, and country music favorites, Brad Paisley and Jerrod Niemann, provide fascinating insights into the man, the artist and his legacy. Airs Wednesday, November 30, at 10 a.m.

Prohibition This three-part documentary series, directed by Ken Burns and Lynn Novick, vividly tells the story of the era of Prohibition. The series raises vital questions that are as relevant today as they were 100 years ago about individual rights, the proper role of government and who is a “real” American. Airs Sundays at 9 p.m., November 6, 13 and 20.

Angle of Attack chronicles the 100-year history of naval aviation, interweaving archival footage, interviews with historical and military experts, contemporary footage of cutting-edge aircraft, and insights from today’s fighter pilots. Airs Sunday, November 6, 10 a.m.-noon, on WUSF 16.1; and Friday, November 11, 9-11 p.m., on WUSF 16.4

Alone In the Wilderness, Part 2 Dick Proenneke’s simple yet profound account of his 30-year adventure in the remote Alaska wilderness continues in this sequel. Watch, through his eyes, as he documents the stunning Alaskan wildlife and scenery through his 16mm wind-up Bolex camera. Airs Thursday, November 17, at 10 p.m.
