

11-5-2013

NNB News : 2013 : 11 : 05 : Meme's Beauty Gallery: Bringing Professionalism and Warmness to the Community

Yan Nie

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.usf.edu/nnb_news

Scholar Commons Citation

Nie, Yan, "NNB News : 2013 : 11 : 05 : Meme's Beauty Gallery: Bringing Professionalism and Warmness to the Community" (2013). NNB News. 2.
https://digitalcommons.usf.edu/nnb_news/2

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Neighborhood News Bureau (USF St. Petersburg campus) at Digital Commons @ University of South Florida. It has been accepted for inclusion in NNB News by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ University of South Florida. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@usf.edu.

🕒 November 5, 2013 📧 Midtown 💬 No comments

MEME'S BEAUTY GALLERY: BRINGING PROFESSIONALISM AND WARMNESS TO THE COMMUNITY

BY YAN NIE

NNB Student Reporter

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — Finding someone to give you the haircut, color or style you have been waiting for is not easy.

In Meme's Beauty Gallery, four professional trained and licensed stylists have their own hairstyle that matching face and personality.

"Professionalism is what I am expecting," said Y. Renne Mosley, a loyal customer who has been coming to Meme's once a week for three years already. "I am very satisfied, and I wouldn't go anywhere else."

Meme's Beauty Gallery is located at 1782 22nd St. S., St. Petersburg, Fla., in the same plaza where the Sweetbay grocery store had been and where the Wal-Mart neighborhood market will be. Jamekka R. Harris, owner of Meme's, wants to draw attention from grocery shoppers, and therefore increase the salon's customer base.

Harris joked about her ultimate goal to expand business to other locations and to be able to run the salon without working so hard. After more than 20 years of working as a professional hairstylist and seven years of being the salon owner, Harris is confident with the good quality of work and services that Meme's provides to its clients.

"There are other salons in this area, but not as competitive as we are, because we do provide full service," Harris said. Meme's offers facial and nail treatments as well as a warm environment to win more customers.

"The employees are fabulous; they really care and if you tell them the problems you are having with your hair, they take immediate action," Mosley said. "They are very knowledgeable about the latest hair styles."

Harris said that like any other small business the majority of Meme's clients live in the community. The most effective method of advertisement for Meme's, besides spotting on the Internet, is word of mouth.

"A lot of our costumers are like our family," Harris said with a smile on her face. She then shared a story about one of her customers who was in depression, and who eventually gave up her thoughts of committing suicide after chatting with Harris about her life struggles.

Harris said that even though their "no-children-in-the-salon" policy upsets a few costumers, she believes that this policy would keep children away from chemicals and hot irons inside the salon, and the salon would have fewer risks to be involved in possible lawsuits.

Yan Nie | NNB
Courtney Lawes's mother, left, helps the stylist to braid a long fake hair while waiting for her daughter's hair to be done.

RECENT POSTS

Their Midtown vintage market draws thousands of customers

To these upbeat volunteers, every animal is a priority

Her job: make white people aware of blacks' struggles

His work graces public places and private homes around the country

At the age of 6, she knew what she wanted to be

They shared a childhood of tense times, warm memories

He rocks 'n' rolls in a music buff's dream job

Photojournalist finds her bliss behind the camera

Unsavory people and heinous crimes? That's his beat

By being honest about who he is, he makes a difference

13 Years later, she's back as a teacher and role model

A Sunday tradition: faith and fancy hats

For Times photojournalist, life's a day at the beach

Pop open a cold one at Midtown's 3 Daughters Brewing

Polish distillery brings distinctive spirits to Midtown

On patrol, the routine can suddenly turn serious

At alternative weekly, food and drink are her beats

Passionate piano, colorful footwear help him coach journalists

Mining disaster helped steel him for a new career in public relations

As college building goes up, he's a maestro in Midtown

School strives to break the cycle of generational poverty

He finds the facts, the people and the payments that elude others

He lives his son's dream, every step of the way

Lorene's is still thriving after two decades in The Deuces

Inside a struggling middle school, the student newspaper is thriving

"That's natural in any business. You are not gonna be able to satisfy everyone. But we just try to find what exactly they are not satisfied with, and then we try our best to make them happy," Harris said.

Meme's strives to create a nice clean and warm environment for customers. "For anyone interested in receiving a great service, come to Meme's beauty gallery and you will enjoy it." Harris said.

Leave a Reply

Your email address will not be published. Required fields are marked *

Name *

Email *

Website

Comment

DEPARTMENT OF JOURNALISM
AND MEDIA STUDIES

