Strategic Planning Update

A Note From the Regional Chancellor

As we prepare for a break, I thought I'd take this opportunity to thank you all for your hard work over the last few months. We've made tremendous progress on our Strategic Planning goals, as evidenced by the updates reported during our Bold Goals meeting in November.

In moving forward on our Distinctive Identity goal, many of you participated in discovery meetings last month with TWG Plus, the national higher education branding firm we've retained to help us articulate and promote our distinctive qualities. In January, we'll work with TWG to distribute surveys designed to gather more insights into existing perceptions, challenges and marketing opportunities. Please be on the lookout for these surveys and take a few minutes to provide thoughtful, candid responses. TWG will be back on campus soon, and we look forward to very productive months ahead as we work to create an even greater awareness of the excellence that is USFSP.

If you have not been involved with our Strategic Planning process and would like to be, please contact Chitra Iyer or Amy Harcar.

Our light shines brightly this holiday season.

All the best,

Sophia

Faculty & Staff Campaign Torch Handed Off to KTCOB

The Kate Tiedemann College of Business is the recipient of the first hand-off of the Gold Medal Games Torch for participation in the USE System Faculty & Staff Campaign at USFSP.

USFSP Police Chief David Hendry delivered the torch to the Dean's suite, where it will be displayed until the next campaign update. KTCOB has an overall participation rate of 77 percent, and the faculty and staff had reached 81 percent of their goal as of Nov. 30.

USFSP Police Chief David Hendry hands off the campaign torch to Rebecca Harris, co-volunteer for KTCOB Faculty and Staff Campaign, and Gary Patterson, interim dean.
