Brief report from the General Education Committee:
1-15-2010

Long Term Goals for General Education:

- Trimming the number of GE course offerings
- Continuing the assessment of GE

Accomplishments from Fall 2009:

- We are continuing the review of current General Education courses and are creating a matrix for assessment of GE courses to determine which courses are meeting which general education student learning outcomes and to what degree of proficiency
- We have approved and instituted an application process for new General Education courses
- Conversations system-wide about GE cross-over in the system and articulation agreement among sites in the system

Coming in Spring 2010

- Due to the success of the previous year's General Education Task Force conversations, during the spring semester the General Education committee will once again hold task force conversations around general education areas and outcomes.
