April's ArtWalk Brings Heart to the Galleries

St. Petersburg's Second Saturday ArtWalk on April 12 combines art and community by spotlighting The Heart Gallery of Pinellas & Pasco.

The St. Petersburg Arts Alliance is cosponsoring this month's gallery hop, HeartWalk, with The Heart Gallery, an independent, charitable organization that promotes adoption through portraits of local foster children.

In addition to featuring new art and artists in galleries and studios across downtown St. Pete, select locations will feature portraits of adoptable children. Heart Gallery volunteers will be stationed at various stops to provide more information.

"Participating in ArtWalk gives us the opportunity to reach those not familiar with the Heart Gallery and show that these are real kids that need loved," said Carol Hughes, Events/Programs Director for The Heart Gallery. "Just like art reaches out and touches a person, the photographs of these children do the same."

The Second Saturday ArtWalk is collaboration between the Warehouse Arts District, Arts Association of St. Petersburg, the Edge District, the Central Arts District, the Grand Central District and the St. Petersburg Arts Alliance.

Harpo Foundation Offers Grant Opportunity

The Harpo Foundation, which supports unrecognized artists and encourages new ways of thinking about art, is offering a new work project grant opportunity. The foundation considers proposals that directly support the production of new work by visual artists of any age and/or collaborative teams relatively unknown in the field.

Applications are evaluated on the quality of work, the potential to expand aesthetic inquiry and alignment with the foundation's mission of providing support to emerging artists. The production may be an installation, public intervention, residency, or exhibition.

DEADLINE: Submit the letter of inquiry form online by April 22.

A Different Frame of Mind

The USF Contemporary Art Museum is accepting proposals from artists for an experimental project. As part of ongoing efforts to find new methods for sharing resources and creative capital with the community, USFCAM is inviting artists to create works specifically designed for used (but still fully functional) fine art frames. In addition to the recycled frames, USFCAM will offer selected artists studio space in public galleries to use while creating the new works.
