Women's Program Seeks 'New Direction'

New Directions for Women, a two-day program to help women better understand themselves, will be held Feb. 19 and 20 on the Tampa and St. Petersburg campuses of USF.

Featuring group discussions and lectures by leaders in education and women's rights, the conference is designed to examine the changing world of American women and to give participants an opportunity to share their feelings with other women with common ideas and problems.

A Personal Identity Inventory, in the form of the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator, (a psychological test) will be administered at the conclusion of each day's session.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bolton, program coordinator for the Center for Continuing Education, said the test will allow each participant to evaluate herself. Such evaluations, according to her, are valuable in dealing with other people, choosing a vocation and deciding on one's priorities for life.

Although primarily of interest to women, the conference is also open to men.

Both days' sessions will begin with coffee and registration at 9 a.m. All meetings on Feb. 19 will be in the auditorium of the St. Petersburg campus and meetings on Feb. 20, in the University Center Ballroom.

Dr. Margaret C. Fagin, director of women's and out-of-state programs and associate professor of education at the University of Missouri, will give the opening lecture at 9:30 a.m. Feb. 19 entitled "The 70's: Woman's Decade." She will also open the Feb. 20 session with a talk on "Wife, Mother, and/or?", also at 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. Judy Ochshorn, assistant professor of women's studies at USF, will introduce a series of group meetings on the "Seven Stages Of Women" to be held both mornings. Topics for these meetings and their leaders are "Unmarried Working Women," Miss Betty Tutton, speech and humanities teacher, St. Petersburg Jr. College;

"Married Women With A Job And No Children," Mrs. Ochshorn; "Women With Preschool Children," Mrs. Helene Silverman, who teaches a course entitled "The Nature of the Feminine Experience" at Hillsborough Community College and who has completed a study entitled "The Non-Pictured Non-Person: Female in the Six Basic Reading Series."

"Women With Children In School," Mrs. Alice Smith Redd of Lakeland, who was selected as one of the Ten Outstanding Young Women of America in 1972; "Women Whose Children Have Left Home," Mrs. Jean Johnson, school community coordinator of the Human Relations Program, Pinellas County Board of Public Instruction; "Women With Re-

"Magic Space Theatre" Premieres Feb. 16

The premiere of "Cine Naps," by visiting cinematographer Stanley VanDerBeek, is scheduled in the USF Planetarium Friday, Feb. 16, 7:30 p.m. through 11:30 p.m. A second showing is set for Feb. 23.

"Cine Naps" is a four-hour multimedia event which VanDerBeek calls "magic space theatre" and "dream theatre." Planned so as to induce sleep, "Cine Naps" is meant to stimulate common dream content in large groups of participants.

The production surrounds the audience with an endless stream of visual and aural images. Media utilized in the presentation include animated and computer-generated film with sound tracks, quadrasonic tapes, lights, and the Planetarium's own apparatus for projecting star images.

Reserve seat tickets at $2 ($1 for full-time USF students) are available from the Theatre Box Office (974-2323). Seating is limited to 74, on a "first come, first served" basis. Tickets must be picked up prior to the performance.

President Announces Policy Statement Review

A review of the "USF Policy Statements" and the possible development of an all-University procedure and policy manual "to serve as a general reference for the University" have been announced by President Cecil Mackey.

In a recent memorandum to the three vice presidents and the director of university relations, he stated: "I have carefully reviewed the University Policy Statements which were issued prior to my appointment as President. Many of the statements are taken verbatim from the Board of Regents Manual and others involve operational procedures at the University which would appear to be more appropriately issued by those directly involved with the specific activity. Therefore, I am submitting to you a list of the Policy Statements divided among you according to your area of interest.

"Please review each Policy Statement assigned to you, consulting with the other Vice Presidents and any groups or individuals who might be concerned." Following their review, the USF officers were asked to recommend whether each specific Policy Statement should be deleted because it is covered somewhere else, re-drafted to reflect changes or continued in its present form.

President Mackey also indicated that he "contemplated the development of an all-University procedures and policy manual" to serve as a general reference, replacing the currently out-dated USF Policy Statements.

Commenting on the significance of the assignment, President Mackey said: "I am confident that clearly ascertainable and available policies and procedures for the conduct of the University's business is essential and that the promulgation of such procedures is of utmost priority."
