Executive Summary

Since its inception as the repository of Nelson Poynter's papers, the USF St. Petersburg library has obtained a variety of rare books, manuscript and audio/visual collections, and other primary sources materials that form the core of our Special Collections and Archives area. This report summarizes institutional and personal tasks, challenges, and accomplishments during the period from July 2002 through June 2003.

Respectfully submitted,
JIM SCHNUR

Web Page Development

Ongoing maintenance of web pages under the <http://www.nelson.usf.edu/spccoll> domain through spring 2003. Approximately one-third of the pages provide general information (hours, location, links to other resources) and remaining pages highlight specific collections or record groups. Some collections include full-text finding aids on the web. Substantial revision of web pages planned for 2003-2004.

Bibliographic Instruction

Two sessions on oral history education for regularly scheduled classes. Total students served: approximately 45.

Eight classroom bibliographic instruction sessions (five history classes; one theory of history class; two political science classes) on using primary and secondary sources in the library. Approximately 175 students in attendance.

In-class bibliographic instruction sessions for credit-bearing courses taught at USF St. Petersburg during 2002/2003: AMH 3423 (Summer 2002 and Spring 2003), AMH 200 (Fall 2002 and Summer 2003). Total students served: 118, including senior auditors.

[^] Collection already existed, but new accessions were received in 2002-2003.

^{*} On-going, as new materials are received.

Special Collections and Archives Goals during 2003-2004 Academic Year

...for general special collections:

- continue to establish and cultivate relations with potential donors
- acquire publications, within budgetary limits, that are appropriate for special collections
- work with Crow's Nest, Library Leads, and other appropriate publications to promote use of collections by the university community

...for University of South Florida St. Petersburg archives:

- foster an understanding of the value of collecting archival materials on campus
- expand our holdings of faculty publications; build database of publications
- work with appropriate accountable officers to transfer records to the USF St. Petersburg archives
- preserve and construct research tools for audio/visual archives transferred from the Media Services area in spring 2003

...for University service:

- participate in committee assignments for campus and the overall university
- build and strengthen cooperative links with Tampa library Special Collections, the USF Florida Studies Center, the Florida Studies Program of Distinction, and other university-affiliated bodies

...for University and community outreach:

- maintain regular communication with area cultural and historical organizations
- serve as an ambassador advocating the preservation and promotion of local and regional history through outside involvement with non-profit organizations
- participate in at least one local or state conference as a presenter or panelist
- continue research and pursue publication of topics related to local and regional history
- offer lectures, academic courses, and other community education activities that complement my academic responsibilities at USF
