Services

The Instructional Media Department makes available a large array of media and distance education technologies. The Poynter Library's Media Center has three large and three small group listening and viewing rooms for all audio and video formats, a digitization center, a studio seating 32, control room, production room, dubbing and archive room, storage and repair rooms. The instructional materials and juvenile collection reading areas seat 44.

Each classroom on campus is equipped, at minimum, with an overhead projector, television monitor or data projection system, computer and DVD/VCR. All classrooms now provide data and video projection or presentation. Instructors may arrange for other standard audiovisual equipment as needed through written or online requests.

State-of-the-art and standard classroom equipment for checkout or delivery and set-up include:

Camcorders, tripods, digital cameras, data projectors, document cameras, DVD players, cassette recorders, laser disc players, laser pointers, TV/VCR's, microphones, stands, mixers, amplifiers, overhead projectors, podiums, slide projectors, screens, and boom boxes.

Instructional Media Services is responsible the teaching technologies found within the USF St. Petersburg smart classrooms. The Department is focused on supporting the University in its teaching, learning and research endeavors.

The Department supports, services, and upgrades all of the equipment within campus teaching spaces and responds via its Help Desk to any problems that users may encounter. The department prides itself on quick response to requests, technical support, and other services.

The Department is responsible for the Video Conferencing facility located in the Poynter library. A satellite dish installation can provide independent satellite downlinks. Videoconferencing set up allows for worldwide communication.

Digital audiovisual services are provided to faculty, students and staff to develop multimedia packages for teaching, delivery of information, learning and research.

Deliveries and set ups

The goal of the department is to provide fixed equipment at all service points. All of USF St. Petersburg's classrooms have data/video projection, DVD/VHS playback, and computers permanently installed.

Distance Learning

Distance Learning extends the University of South Florida St. Petersburg academic resources to help learners meet their educational goals by providing courses in a variety of disciplines and options in time, place, format, and delivery systems using technology.

The staff of the Instructional Media Services assists faculty in the form of consultation, design, and/or maintenance for online distance learning applications.

Courses are offered online and typically utilize USF's Blackboard portal to gain access to course materials. Examples of distance learning formats include streaming video, podcasting, and hybrid, interactive CD and DVD's or any combination thereof.

Online courses are offered as streaming video or podcasting and use high-speed Internet access; an active e-mail account and Internet access is required. Instructor interaction with students may be synchronous or asynchronous. The staff of the Instructional Media Services assists faculty with student use of these functions.

When faculty prefer, the hybrid method includes courses using both synchronous and asynchronous software to provide faculty and students with options, such as 50% web and 50% face-to-face course.

Media Center Collections

The Instructional Media Collections of the Nelson Poynter Memorial Library serve the instructional and curricular needs of the USF St. Petersburg community and the individual study, scholarship, cultural enrichment and recreation needs of University students, staff, and faculty. All items circulate and are accessible through the Library's online catalog.

The Instructional Materials Collection (IMC) includes juvenile easy-to-read, juvenile fiction, juvenile non-fiction, school textbooks, teacher's manuals, guides, games, kits, and paperbacks.

The Media Collection contains DVDs, videotapes, cassette tapes, CDs, and slides. They all circulate for one week and are renewable.

Other Notable Initiatives and Accomplishments

After several assessments it was apparent that though the Media Collection circulated well, many library patrons, especially students, were not aware of the collections on the second floor. The Tampa campus library had recently moved their Media Collections from the sixth floor to the first floor. After several visits to the Tampa campus library to talk to library staff and faculty about the process and practices followed on their move, a plan was developed here. The Reference collection on the first floor was consolidated and the entire Media Collections were moved to the first floor to increase its visibility to patrons and, in addition, its circulation.

Took off inventory and disposed of additional obsolete equipment in the Production Room and Storage Room.

There has been increasing departmental support for Special Events such as Festivals, Convocations, building openings, celebrations, dedications, conferences, Campus Board meetings and other non-academic and classroom activities. These have increasingly required the services of IM Services at night and on weekends.

Additional upgraded and updated the departmental website, including posting current information on newly acquired media items.

Shelf read entire media collection

Created, with Head of Reference and Reference Librarians, three additional Reference tutorials.

Created several online Distance Learning methodology tutorials.

Designed classroom standards for equipment and wiring that is now viewed as "campus standard". This standard was implemented on the new Science & Technology building.

Designed and was project leaders for the AV equipment install for the RHO classroom.

Faculty assessment of equipment installed in our classrooms.
