Great Performances: Eric Clapton and Steve Winwood

Eric Clapton and Steve Winwood are reunited for this soul-stirring concert at Madison Square Garden in 2008. Despite their accolade-studded careers spanning four decades, this is the first time the two British rockers played together since their days as bandmates in Blind Faith in 1969. None of the magic is gone. In this Great Performances concert, they perform a dynamic mix of Traffic (Winwood's band from 1967 to 1975) and Blind Faith gems, cuts from their solo careers, and covers of other songs. The song list includes "Presence of the Lord," "Can't Find My Way Home," "Had to Cry Today," and "Crossroads." From this inspired performance, it's clear that these legends of rock and rhythm and blues are still in top form. Airs: Friday, June 5, at 9 p.m., and Sunday, June 7, at 8 p.m.

JUNE TV HIGHLIGHTS

Dr. Wayne Dyer: Excuses Begone! On the 10th anniversary of his first PBS special, Dr. Wayne Dyer presents a program based on his newest book, Excuses Begone! After identifying the most commonly used, self-defeating excuses, Dr. Dyer teaches viewers a method they can use to change damaging habits and move into new realms of possibility. Airs: Monday, June 1, at 8 p.m.

Say hi to Pocoyo ("Little Me" in Spanish). He's the new kid on our children's program schedule. Pocoyo and his friends welcome pre-schoolers into his wonderful world of discovery, fantasy and adventure. Each program is carefully crafted to ensure that material and language are both appropriate and relevant as seen through the eyes of three-year-old Pocoyo. Airs Monday through Friday at 7 p.m.

The Big Band Years features songs that kept the home fires burning and soldiers' hearts alive during World War II and kick-started the baby boom. Hosted by veteran entertainer Peter Marshall, this retrospective features vintage live, rare and unreleased footage of bands and vocalists from the 1930's and '40s. The program is part of My Music, a PBS series with a goal to preserve American music. Airs: Saturday, June 6, at 8 p.m.
