MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

The beginning

This has been an exciting first year for the new Digital Scholarship Services department in the University of South Florida Tampa Library. We have combined two previously separate areas—scholarly communications and digitization. We also set up a new expanded office space, documented a three-year strategic plan, cleared off over 150 linear feet and two filing cabinets of backlogged or outdated materials, added new digital collections including 3D collections, set up a departmental web page, and upgraded some of the digitization equipment. Midway through the year, tragedy struck when Nafa Fa’alogo, a long-time and much-loved member of the library’s staff, died suddenly. Nafa was an integral part of the library family, and words cannot express how much we miss him. Though several members of the department only had a short time to work with him, the department pulled together to support each other during this difficult time.

The future

The DSS Strategic Plan (2016/17-2018/19) outlines four strategic directions for the department, the first of which is to create a state of the art digital scholarship department. The remaining three involve marketing, outreach, education, and preservation, all of which support the first initiative by enhancing relationships with our community and ensuring long-term access to our collections. This has been a year of getting organized, establishing a solid foundation, and focusing on new initiatives and directions. We are eager to move forward into our second year as a department!

Director, Digital Scholarship Services

Overview

With our powers combined...

In July 2016, Todd Chavez, the Dean of the USF Libraries, made the strategic decision to combine scholarly communications staff and digital information services staff into one unit: Digital Scholarship Services (DSS). This new department combined support for the USF Tampa Library's two repositories—the Scholar Commons institutional repository (hosted on the bepress Digital Commons platform) and the Digital Collections digital repository (hosted on the Sobek platform).

This reorganization combined the skills of two related areas with complementary goals that were previously located in separate departments with little to no cross-communication or coordination. This allows for the acquisition and expansion of skills in each area, better utilizing staff time during downtime from either side. DSS also provides services to students and faculty who may lack access to the software, hardware, or expertise needed to implement digital projects for their teaching or research goals, placing digital scholarship services on equal footing with more traditional library functions.

The two repositories have historically had varied goals and outside pressures. Digital Collections was originally part of Special Collections, and at the time of the merging, was still mainly reformatting materials from that collection to house in the online repository. Scholar Commons was formed to serve faculty and to collect, disseminate, and showcase original research from USF faculty and students. Through merging these previously separate units, DSS is better positioned to impact the success of the library's strategic goals.

VISION

DSS's vision is to promote worldwide long-term open online access to research and primary source materials on behalf of USF and its partners.

MISSION

DSS's mission is to support the research and teaching activity of the USF community, promote innovative educational opportunities for students, and enrich the worldwide research landscape. As part of this mission, DSS will:

- 1 Build digital collections that provide open access to research and primary source materials.
- 2 Advocate for author rights and promote scholarly publishing literacy.
- 3 Help researchers at USF move their work through the various stages of the research lifecycle.
- 4 Partner with faculty to present their research online and preserve their work through our repository systems.
- 5 Preserve long-term access to digital materials.
- 6 Explore applications of emerging technologies.

Personnel

IN MEMORIAM

Nafa Fa'alogo

This year, DSS lost a beloved colleague when Nafa Fa'alogo suddenly passed away. For 16 years Nafa shared his audio and video expertise, working with Jane Duncan in the now defunct Library Media Center and Digital Collections and Services (now Digital Scholarship Services). It is estimated that he produced over 200 combined library events and oral histories and edited literally thousands of audio files. His work will continue to support research and scholarship through nearly 30 digital collections including the Asaba Memorial, Holocaust and Genocide Survivors, Concentration Camp Liberators, Tampa Bay Estuary, Oculina Bank, and Florida Public Health oral history projects, to name just a few. Nafa had a keen interest in NASA and the space program, so the Library has dedicated one of our digital collections in his memory:

Richard Schmidt conducted a comprehensive review of digitization best practices for Dr. Steve Jones's Digital Humanities class. Two of Dr. Jones's students, Kristen Collins and Harley Campbell, inquired about opportunities to volunteer for the DSS reformatting team. Throughout the Summer semester they gained first-hand experience scanning and editing dime novels, turn-of-the-century children's literature, and documents, slides, and images from the Environmental Land Acquisitions and Protection Program. To understand the full workflow of digitization and reformatting, they were also trained on scanning, editing, quality control, and uploading to Sobek.

3D MODELS

Digital Documentation Collection

(109 ITEMS)

A Digital Heritage & Humanities (DHHC) collection, the 3D Model Collection draws from work performed on a variety of grants and research projects involving digital heritage from around the world. University of South Florida (USF) Principal Investigators Drs. Lori Collins and Travis Doering are leading a new initiative at the USF Library to promote 3D applications and heritagescience through digital scholarship.

FARID KARAM M.D. Lebanon Antiquities Collection

(149 ITEMS)

The Farid Karam, M.D. Lebanon Antiquities Collection includes jars, goblets, bottles, oil lamps, unguentariums, and busts/figures. Most of the items came from Roman Syria, a wealthy province on the Eastern Mediterranean, and date from the 1st through the 4th centuries AD. Previously a 2D collection of photos, Dr. Davide Tanasi and his students 3D scanned the Karam artifacts. The 3D models are made available online via Richard Bernardy's 3DHOP-based MODEL3D viewer plugin (SobekCM).

CELTIC HERITAGE

Oral Histories

(4 ITEMS)

In Spring 2016, USF offered the course "The Irish in America" for the first time. Students were given the option to conduct oral histories with community members who claimed heritage from one or more of the seven Celtic nations: Ireland, Scotland, Wales, Brittany, Isle of Man, Cornwall, or Galicia. The students worked in pairs and conducted the interviews either at USF Library or the Dunedin Historical Museum. These interviews were transcribed by the library's Digital Scholarship Services unit and are now available as part of the Celtic Heritage Oral History Program.

HIDDEN TREASURES of Rome Collection

(249 ITEMS)

This collection, initiated by Dr. Rachel Opitz, features vessels from ritual and funerary contexts in the area of Rome, Italy. In partnership with the University of Missouri, archaeologists have been cataloging these previously unknown objects from Room V of the Antiquarium at the Musei Capitolini in Rome. In order to accurately catalog these materials according to best practice, DSS metadata librarian, Xiyang Mi, Systems Administrator, Richard Bernardy, and faculty member Rachel Opitz helped research and apply the Europeana Data Model metadata schema. Complete content access is made available to the research community by special permission. However, the descriptive metadata is available to everyone.

ROBERT PORTER ALLEN

Collection

(73 ITEMS)

Robert Porter Allen was an ornithologist and conservation activist with the National Audubon Society. He founded the Audubon Research Center in Tavernier, FL and dedicated his life to documenting various bird species. His efforts to document the Whooping Crane nesting sites in North America generated national media coverage and aided in the creation of the Endangered Species Act in 1973. This collection features digitized items from the USF Libraries Special Collections holdings.

MULTIMODAL

Data Project

(~300 ITEMS)

In August of 2016, DSS forged an academic partnership with College of Education faculty and graduate students to create a new way to offer researchers access to content in our digital collections. Aiming to advance digital scholarship and support open-access publishing, DSS scheduled a series of meetings with Dr. Jenifer Schneider and her colleagues to design an interactive interface for a multi-modal data project housed in our SobekCM repository. The researchers framed their analysis within literature from relevant fields. Using a process of curation, they collected, conceptualized, selected, contextualized, and arranged data products from their independent studies to form a cohesive collection of texts and methodologies. DSS loaded approximately 300 individual digital files of each researcher's project into the Sobek repository and designed the interface. The result is Multimodal Data Analysis: A Curated, Open-Access Collection of Methodologies for Analyzing Digital, Visual, Gestural, and Filmic Texts. We invite you to take a look:

Ongoing Projects

Scholarly Communication

SCHOLAR COMMONS

1 QUALITY CONTROL Project

The CAS Project began in 2013. It consists of items in Scholar Commons from three different departments in the College of Arts and Sciences: Geosciences, Psychology, and Communication. Currently, the Digital Scholarship team is working on quality control on the items in the CAS project. This entails checking that all links work and including a DOI if available. There is a standardization of fields for these records, such as authors and citations, to give Scholar Commons a consistent feel.

2 OPEN-ACCESS TEXTBOOKS Collection

http://scholarcommons.usf.edu/oa\_textbooks
Our OA Textbook Collection was Scholar Commons' second most downloaded collection (after ETDs) with 191,397 downloads. With 470,905 downloads, our most downloaded textbook was Anol Bhattacharjee's Social Science Research: Principles, Methods, and Practices. The second most downloaded textbook was William F. Trench's Student Solutions Manual for Elementary Differential Equations and Elementary Differential Equations with Boundary Value Problems with 32,203 downloads. The third most used textbook, with 9,234 downloads, was our newest addition to the OA Textbooks Collection, Jenifer Schneider's The Inside, Outside, and Upside Downs of Children's Literature: From Poets and Pop-ups to Princesses and Porridge.

3 OPEN-ACCESS TEXTBOOKS Collection

<http://scholarcommons.usf.edu/conferences>
Scholar Commons provides a page for sponsoring faculty member(s) to centralize their conference information. Because the sites are hosted in Scholar Commons, they enjoy the platform's discoverability benefits. Some sites are designed to provide the program information for the conference, and others use the submissions feature to manage conference abstracts or full-text papers. All sites are archived in Scholar Commons.

We added support for several conference sites in 2016-2017, including:

Open Access Week 2016

Is There Any Such Thing as a Language?: 30 Years After "A Nice Derangement"

Interdisciplinary Symposium on Qualitative Methodologies 2017

Re-Shaping the Future of Graduate Education in the Humanities

Family, Home and Community in Africa and the Diaspora

Fair Use Week 2017

4 ETD Collection

<http://scholarcommons.usf.edu/ETD/>
The Electronic Theses & Dissertations (ETDs) in Scholar Commons is one of the largest and most heavily used portions of the repository. There are 6,776 ETDs currently in the collection, which have been used a total of 5,576,239 times. Rather than having to request a print copy of a dissertation through interlibrary loan, ETDs are easily discoverable online through the repository. Our ETDs are harvested by the Networked Digital Library of Theses and Dissertations (NDLTD) and are preserved in the Digital Commons Private LOCKSS Network.

Whats new with Scholar Commons?

Scholar Commons now hosts 19 journals in the USF institutional repository. One new journal went live this year, The Sunland Tribune.

These open access journals allow researchers across the world 24/7 access to research that has traditionally kept behind a subscription firewall or limited to a few physical print copies. Twelve of our journals are peer-reviewed, keeping to the same quality standards as traditional journals. Two of our journals are included in Scopus (International Journal of Speleology and Journal of Strategic Security), and two have an impact factor (International Journal of Speleology and Journal of Public Transportation).

Subject matter is varied, ranging from geology to homeland security to the humanities. Nine titles are in the Global LOCKSS Network, with the remaining titles being preserved in the Digital Commons Private LOCKSS Network. LOCKSS is a geographically distributed archiving system, ensuring that this content is available even if something were to happen to the repository itself. We also work with Portico to archive Scholar Commons journal content in their dark archive.

Periodically, and as requested, statistics for all journals are pulled and analyzed. For our top journals, we are able to pull additional Google Analytics.

The central Scholar Commons email is consistently monitored for journal activity and forwarded as needed. Assistance and training for journal editors are provided as requested.

KARST INFORMATION PORTAL

What is KIP?

Karst Information Portal (KIP) launched a new platform on the USF Libraries Digital Collections platform on August 23, 2016. As requested, USF continues to maintain both the karstportal.org and karstinfo.org domains. This includes a redirection service at the global and item level. Statistics included below are for items used on the USF Digital Collections platform.

In the 2016/2017 year, there were 259,183 downloads for the 3,877 records currently publically available through KIP. This was the result of 93,579 unique visits or sessions. From August 23 to date, 253 titles have been added to the collection, encompassing 1500 pages of content. Many of these titles were from a backlog of items submitted in the previous year, which provided an opportunity to cross-train staff on copyright clearance work.

Traversing nations...

The materials in KIP cover a variety of languages, as shown below:

English 2,826	Portugese 478	Spanish 133
Greek, Modern 113	French 46	Russian 44
Italian 28	German 25	Bulgarian 6
Hungarian 1	Multiple Languages 150

Karst Impact

Below are the top 10 accessed items/titles, each of which have been downloaded nearly 250 times or more:

Title	Count
National Cave and Karst Research Institute Annual Reports	346
Proceedings of the 2015 Multidisciplinary Conference on Sinkholes and the Engineering and Environmental Impacts of Karst	323
Proceedings of DeepKarst 2016	296

Sinkhole Conference

This year, we also dual-registered the DOIs for the 2015 and 2013 Sinkhole conferences. To the left is an example of how that information displays when someone uses the DOI link. This links the user to both the Scholar Commons platform and the USF Digital Collections platform.

For the 2013 Sinkhole Conference, we only had the main document for the proceedings at the time we dual registered the DOIs. Now that the individual papers are available on both platforms, we can dual-register DOIs for the individual papers for that conference.

NOTABLE ORAL HISTORIES

Dr. Troutman

During the 2016-17 academic year, members of the USF Libraries Oral History team conducted interviews with Dr. Adewale Troutman, a recent retiree from USF's College of Public Health. Dr. Troutman was the leader in helping health folks recognize health inequities and recently was national president of American Public Health Association—the nation's largest health organization.

Florida Public Health

We have completed the quality control review of the Florida Public Health Oral History Project, which consists of 60 interviews conducted by former Florida public health officer, Dr. Charlton Prather, and documents the history of public health in the state. Scientists, field practitioners, midwives, nurses, laboratory managers, and legislators discuss the motivation to pursue their career, the challenges and highlights of their jobs, and their determination to ensure the health of the people of Florida in a time of organizational and political upheaval. We have completed the Celtic Heritage project with four new interviews available online. This project is related to the Irish in America course, first offered in Spring 2016. Students learned how to conduct oral histories with community members who claimed heritage from one or more of the seven Celtic nations: Ireland, Scotland, Wales, Brittany, Isle of Man, Cornwall, or Galicia.

USF 25th Anniversary

The USF 25th Anniversary Oral History project is completed, with a total of 53 interviews, including full transcripts. The Office of the President and the College of Arts and Sciences instituted the Silver Anniversary Project in 1985 to commemorate 25 years of university history. USF history professor Nancy A. Hewitt conducted the majority of the interviews with members of the USF faculty and staff.

Stats: Digital Collections

What's the scoop?

Digital Collections added 6,846 items to Digital Collections (of which 3,877 were from the Karst Information Portal), bringing the total to 60,510. There were 2,095,430 total item views for the collection. We also added 7 new collections this year, bringing us to a total of 187 collections.

We transitioned the Karst Information Portal to Digital Collections from a Drupal platform. The department created its first faculty project interface with the Multimodal Data Collection. Digital Collections now hosts three new collections of 3D Models: the 3D Digital Documentation Collection, the Farid Karam M.D. Lebanon Antiquities Collection, and the Hidden Treasures of Rome collection. We look forward to hosting additional collections featuring the research outputs of the University of South Florida faculty in the coming year.

Stats: Scholar Commons

Lifetime full-text DOWNLOADS

TOTAL DOWNLOADS

SOCIAL SCIENCE RESEARCH:
Principles, Methods, and Practices

470,905 Full-text Downloads

Lifetime full-text downloads for Scholar Commons have grown 27% percent from 6,876,173 to 8,765,438. While the percentage of growth decreased from last year, the total items downloaded in 2016/2017 (1,978,795) was greater than in 2015/2016 (1,814,576).

Open access academic journals, the original reason for the creation of this initiative, have consistently added new content. The ETD collection continues to receive some of our greatest download statistics. Thanks to the April 2016 publication of our first library-published open access textbook, downloads for the OA Textbook collection (already one of Scholar Commons' highest collections) have increased.

Since 2013, the top downloaded item has been Anol Bhattacharjee's OA textbook, Social Science Research: Principles, Methods, and Practices. Dr. Bhattacharjee's textbook was added to Scholar Commons in 2011. This item has now has 470,905 full-text downloads of the English version (the six translations have received a collective 35,759 downloads since being added). From July 1, 2016 to June 30, 2017, Social Science Research received an impressive 146,664 downloads. While the total downloads may not put OA Textbooks as the most heavily used series, individual items within this collection have received some of our highest usage.

FACULTY PARTICIPATION

Departments + DSS

Top ten departments with faculty participation by percentage

Together, we are better

The Digital Scholarship Services department is proud to partnering with departments across campus. These partnerships enrich the collections in the USF Library and also help to provide new services and features for faculty members. DSS reaches out to departments through word of mouth or by visiting and speaking to faculty members at department meetings or other campus events. These partnerships can result in collections in either Scholar Commons or the Digital Collections, depending on different factors.

Faculty + Scholar Commons

One way that we can evaluate the outreach efforts for Scholar Commons is to look at the percentage of faculty participation in Scholar Commons by department. To calculate these figures, all of the authors in Scholar Commons are compared to the list of current USF faculty members. If a faculty member is the author of one paper in Scholar Commons, then they are counted as participating. These statistics enables DSS to strategically focus on particular departments in order to achieve departmental goals.

GOOGLE ANALYTICS

***Please note that Google Analytics does not track visitors on all pages. Visitors using a search engine, like Google, or a link that goes directly to an item, are not included within these statistics.

The past fiscal year brought 432,105 visitors to our site pages, with 333,356 unique being unique users. This is an 8.89% increase from last fiscal year's figures for our annual site visitors. Our returning user rate stayed steady at 23.4%, with the average visit duration lasting around 00:01:39. Our page view each user dropped slightly to 1.94 pages, versus 2+ from last year. Examining where the referral traffic is coming from (like Google Scholar, Open Access Theses and Dissertations (OATD), and network.bepress.com), we can see that our marketing and promotion efforts are driving traffic to our site.

While the majority of our users are from the U.S. with English language settings, we receive visitors from over 200 countries/territories using over 175 different language settings.

Conclusion

It's just the beginning

It has been an eventful year of growth and change for our budding Digital Scholarship Services department. The content of Digital Collections is growing beyond digitized special collections and oral histories into research output from USF researchers. Scholar Commons continues to grow and increase vdiscoverability with more robust metadata. Our ETD collection now holds over 6,000 student works, which continuously receive top rankings in our most downloaded items. By the end of June 2017, Scholar Commons included over 45 publication series, 38 faculty series, 18 academic journals, 4 galleries, over 20 conferences, events and lectures, 3 student works series (including the ETD series filtered into over 70 sub-series), 4 book series, 2 data series, and a patent collection.using over 175 different language settings.

Short-term goals:

1 Continue working to get faculty members from different colleges and departments to deposit their work into Scholar Commons

2 Establish a department-wide preservation plan, including setting up regular feeds from Digital Collections into the Florida Digital Archives and Amazon Glacier, and getting the Scholar Commons content backed up in Amazon S3.

3 Initiate metadata feeds from Digital Collections to Hathi Trust to provide an additional discovery point for the collections

4 Set up three new faculty projects in the DSS repositories, providing discovery mechanisms for faculty research

5 Hire a Digital Graphics Designer to help us create a more contemporary look for new and existing collections and projects

6 Complete quality control work on Scholar Commons

LONG-TERM GOALS

- 1 Complete record of scholarly works produced by all USF faculty and staff
- 2 Passage of a university-wide open access policy that utilizes Scholar Commons as the home for faculty research articles
- 3 Become the key location for conference hosting and faculty research at USF
