SEEING STARS IN THE NIGHT

Joseph A. Carr, curator in natural science, gives a student, Glenda Lentz, a view of the stars through the telescope which is used for the Basic Studies Physical Science classes and labs of astronomy classes. The 'scope features a clock drive—a timing device set up to compensate for the earth's rotation by driving the 'scope back at a rate which will keep it focused on the same sky area. The other 'scope on campus is an 8-inch reflector donated on loan to the university by the Tampa Astronomical Club, which meets on campus. Future student observation posts will be located on the Physics building. Also planned for the future is a separate small observatory on the north part of the campus away from interfering lights. The object of current study is the decline of the eleven-year, or half-way point, of the sun spot cycle.

Vandals Slash Tires in USF Lot

Times are changing; however, it seems as if there are still some decadent people around. Last week, Mrs. Janice Gaskin went to the USF parking lot to find that her 1959 Cadillac had a tire completely slashed. It is difficult to believe that any students here would resort to such juvenile vandalism. This is a reflection on the intelligence of any person who is considered mature enough to be enrolled in college. This asinine action not only is juvenile—but it is expensive.

Orientation Program For Staff Sept. 4

An orientation program for faculty and administrative and professional personnel will be held Tuesday, Sept. 4 in the USF Chemistry Building from 9 a.m.-4 p.m.

Featured at the session will be many explanatory talks by deans and directors of programs.

Several group meetings will also be arranged before the beginning of Trimester I.

Culminating the orientation program will be a picnic to be held at Bahia Beach on Sept. 21.

Student Association Welcomes Suggestion

The University of South Florida Student Association is formulating plans for a suggestion box to be placed in the main lobby of the University Center.

Purpose of the box is to inform the Student Association of student views and needs.

Officers Skipper Smith and Mike Shea are in charge of the project which is expected to be completed in time for Trimester I.

Charter Class Out Dec. 1963

The Charter Class graduation ceremony for the University of South Florida is now tentatively set for December, 1963, according to a university policy statement recently issued by Dr. John S. Allen, president.

Students completing their graduation requirements before this date will receive a statement from Allen affirming their completions and an invitation to return for the formal commencement exercises. Those who cannot return will receive their diplomas by mail.

Only The B.A. Those students completing requirements in April, 1964, will receive a diploma indicating that they are members of the Charter Class.

At the forthcoming commencement, only degrees will be conferred—the Bachelor of Arts. The diplomas of all those graduating as members of the Charter Class will have a notation indicating this fact.

Students graduating with special insignia.

No graduation fee will be charged. Caps and gowns will be available for rent in the University Bookstore. Each graduate candidate will purchase his own commencement invitations, which also will be available in the bookstore.

13 Students Of Alpha Hall Lose Credits

Alpha Hall misdemeanors have caused loss of credit hours for 13 students during the past three weeks.

One female resident was suspended until September, 1963 for smuggling two boys into her room at Alpha Hall. Four other students are taking mandatory leaves of absence for serving as accessories to the crime.

Six other students were doctored credit hours for violation of residence hall sign-out regulations and defiance of university policy.

Two male students were accused and convicted of drinking in the residence hall. They also were suspended.

All but one student appealed the first actions on their activities. Dean of Student Affairs Herbert J. Wunderlich requested that all names be withheld.

Library Notices

The USF library will be open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. during the class break, Aug. 11 to Sept. 9. It will close evenings, Saturdays, and Sundays. Requests for study carrels for fall trimester should be made in writing to the Director by Sept. 7, and the summer session assignments vacated by this date.

While this will plug the leaks on what is in the bank, students feel that financing is still the big problem and one which they hope the administration and the student association can resolve during the coming school year.

EARLY REGISTRATION HITS 2,000 FOR FIRST TRIMESTER

Total May Run to 3,500 By Classtime on Sept. 10

Early registration for the University of South Florida fall trimester puts the present total in the neighborhood of 2,000 students. Of this, amount, 40 per cent are new students and the remaining 60 per cent are returning students. In the spring university officials estimated the Fall enrollment at a 3,500 full-time equivalent. Four orientation and registration sessions were set up for new students. The final orientation is scheduled for Sept. 4-6.

Each orientation consists of two-day sessions for testing and a third for speech and hearing tests, campus tour, advising and registration.

Many new and returning students have not yet registered because they are out of town on vacations or summer jobs and will not return to Tampa until September. Students living out of town, both new and returning will not come in until September in order to save the time and expense of two separate trips. This influx in September should put quite a boost in the total number for the fall.

Registration dates for the fall include the mornings of Sept. 4 and 5 from 8-12 during which returning students may register. Evening students register from 6:30-8:30 p.m. on Sept. 5. New students will register on Sept. 6 from 1-4 p.m. following their two-day orientation as outlined above.

Late registration and schedule changes will be made during the first week of classes Sept. 10-14 between the hours of 1 and 4 p.m. in UC 264.

CAMPUS EDITION, AGE 2— Coffee Set Sept. 4 For New Adviser

Today the campus edition of The Tampa Times marks the close of its second year of operation. The next issue is scheduled for Monday, Sept. 10, the first day of classes in the university's trimester.

The staff for the fall will be selected both from lab classes in the area of journalism and other students interested in writing.

George H. Miller, adviser to the Office of Campus Publications, said he will devote full time to the Work-Study program beginning Sept. 1. Dr. Albert Scroggins has been hired as an associate professor of journalism and adviser to the Office of Campus Publications.

Staff Meets Sept. 4 Scroggins is expected to organize the staff the week of Sept. 4 and Miller said plans are to have a coffee hour at 4 p.m., Tuesday, Sept. 4, in the university center where the campus journalists can meet Scroggins.

Copy for the first edition, that of Sept. 10, will then be prepared on Wednesday, Sept. 5. Offices desiring information in the first issue should send it to the Office of Campus Publications not later than noon, Tuesday, Sept. 4.

Miller said the Campus Edition will be continued as a laboratory paper for the journalism classes and he expects the press run for the fall trimester to be from about 3,500 to 3,800 copies a week.

Cloudy Picture As for other campus publications, Miller said their future is clouded and Scroggins will work with planning for their future after he arrives.

This includes the yearbook, which has failed to find a method of financing; the handbook, which died for lack of financing; and the literary magazine, "i.e.," which ran one issue but immediately faced problems of funds, lack of a sales program and conflicting student aims.

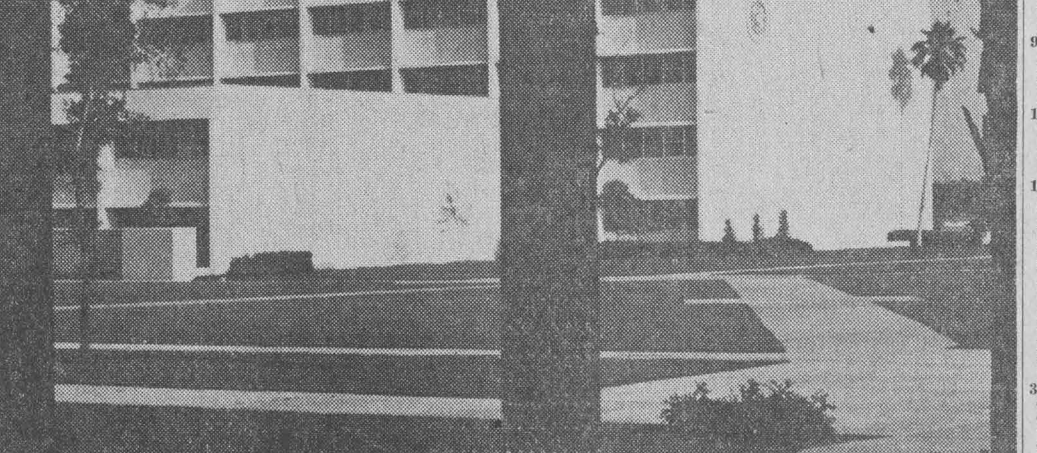

Miller said Dr. Herbert Wunderlich, dean of student affairs, has agreed to a policy of bonding students who will be handling money in the area of campus publications in line with the policy of student publications at Florida's other state universities.

While this will plug the leaks on what is in the bank, students feel that financing is still the big problem and one which they hope the administration and the student association can resolve during the coming school year.

The last six weeks of the semester will be spent at their assigned schools. During this period they will gain the experience of full time teaching interns. They will also learn, during this period, how the public school actually operates.

The Tampa Times University of South Florida Campus Edition Editor: Louise Stewart Editorial Assistant: Sarah Caldwell Faculty Adviser: George H. Miller Reporting and editing staff: Charlotte French, Virginia Montiel, Diane Fernandez, Marie Lesiak, Gertrude Scales, and Dorothy Schamberg.

The CAMPUS EDITION is produced by the laboratory section of ED 345, Journalism for the Secondary Teacher, under the direction of George H. Miller.

STUDENT'S EYE-VIEW OF USF LIBRARY This view of the USF Library from the UC Lobby is about the closest many students come to the library until the final flurry of exam week. Located in the UC is the library's chief rival, the Recreation room. Although at the first part of the summer session the library was for a change beating out the game room attendance, business has now picked up in the pingpong parlor, especially with the influx of students registering for the fall trimester. The game room now averages about 100 people circulating on the hour to the library's 50. The accent's on learning—but some people would rather learn pool, it seems. (And they pay for the privilege—one penny per minute.)

Trenchmouth: Is It Necking Or the Dishes?

Thirteen students in Alpha Hall have trenchmouth, according to reports. This includes three women and 10 men. As it is agreed that trenchmouth is spread mainly by necking and dirty dishes, and since cafeteria workers claim their dishes are clean, it points to quite a bit of uneven activity on the part of several students.

With vacation coming at the end of this week it may help to slow down the spread—or spread it even further to such points as Sophoppy, Two Egg, and Christmas.

'Hamlet' Played Before 2,000

The Peninsular Players' cast of "Hamlet," under the direction of Prof. John Caldwell, played to capacity crowds during the six-performance run.

A total of 2,000 persons viewed the USF version of one of Shakespeare's greatest plays.

Adding to the success of the play were extremely favorable reviews from both the TAMPA TIMES and TAMPA TRIBUNE. The ST. PETERSBURG TIMES also lauded the play.

AAUP Plans Party

Members of the USF chapter of the American Association of University Professors will hold a reception from 7 to 10 p.m., Thursday, Sept. 6, at the Schlitz Brown Bottle, welcoming new faculty members. Invitations also will be sent to all USF staff members who are eligible for membership in AAUP.

French Airline Personnel Go Out on Strike
PARIS, Aug. 6 (UP)—French civil aviation navigation personnel went out on a 48-hour pay strike today, seriously hampering French airline traffic.

The strike, backed by all three of the big labor unions, forced Air France to cancel all flights from Paris to the United States. Spokesmen here said there would be no Air France flights between the United States and Paris until Wednesday.

The walk-out began at midnight. Flying navigators were scheduled to stay off the job until midnight tonight, but non-flying navigation workers were then to start another 24-hour walkout, making the effective strike a two-day one.

Zoo Keeping Gorillas Apart After Fight
CINCINNATI, Aug. 6 (AP)—Penny and Big Boy were lovers. But he done her wrong and now it's all over.

Four years of bliss have been shattered in the split-level cage at the Cincinnati Zoo where 100-pound Penny snuggled in the arms of 300-pound Big Boy behind the picture window bars of the gorilla cage.

Maybe it was the plus-90 degree heat that did it, but Big Boy suddenly turned on his spouse yesterday and with flashing teeth cut her back and gashed a foot. It took 35 stitches to mend her after attendants had pulled the quarreling lovers apart.

They're living apart now and likely to remain so.
