Brahma Cops USF Contest

By SARAH CALDWELL
The University of South Florida students and staff have voted the "Golden Brahmas" the USF mascot, however the final decision will be made by a judiciary committee.

The selection occurred in a roundabout way. Voting plurality selected "Buccaneers" as the mascot, but it was then found that a new four-year university at Pensacola had already claimed that name.

Not wishing a duplication of mascots within the same state,

UC officials decided to award first prize in the contest to "Buccaneers" but to use "Golden Brahmas" for the mascot, if approved by the judiciary committee.

This decision came after an hour of conferences and many telephone calls, including one long distance call to Pensacola. Therefore, the winner of the mascot contest is J. Stephen Chalker of St. Petersburg, who entered the name "Buccaneers."

Winner of second prize in the contest, the originator of the USF mascot, is Bob Bickle, of Beta Hall.

Bickle submitted the explanation of the entry to contest officials: "The Brahma bull is a Florida symbol. It is not used by any other university. The Brahma bull is an unconquerable animal, further, the 'golden' or palimino Brahma is one of the most beautiful of beasts." The name came as a result of an unofficial contest and extensive research conducted by Bickle and other Beta (then Alpha) Hall students last spring. The culmination of the official contest came on Friday, Sept. 28, following three weeks of entries and eliminations.

Originally 15 semifinalists were selected by the Student Association. They were: Olympians, Athenians, Dolphins, Porpoises, Hawks, El Compadre, Buccaneers, Barracudas, Golden Eagles, Golden Brahmas, Cougars, Sting Rays, Maverick—The Southern Bull, Conquistadores, and Florida Crackers. All-University voting eliminated 10 of these, and the five semifinalists were: Buccaneers, Golden Brahmas, Olympians (submitted by Tom A. Smith, Tampa), Cougars (submitted by Mark Siegel and Roger Krone, Beta Hall), and Golden Eagles (submitted by Mrs. Glenn H. Taylor, Tampa).

Administrator and originator of the mascot contest is Don Gordon, who planned the contest as an attempt to raise student pride in the university.

It is hoped that the "Golden Brahmas" will serve as a unifying aspect during USF's early growth, and as a fight symbol for the far-off days of athletic contests.

GOTTA MAKE IT TO THAT 8:00 CLASS

Ted Gose puts his classic MG-TF through its paces in practice for the USF Sports Car Club's Gymkhana, or precision driving competition coming up. Another highlight of the event is the showing of the 1963 sports cars, among them the Austin-Healy, Jaguar XK-E, Corvette Stingray, and the Triumph TR-4. The cars are supplied by local auto dealers Tom Wolfe, Jack Sheppard, and Ferman Chevrolet. A mandatory safety inspection of the students' cars will precede the competition.

OBSTACLE COURSE

This is a map showing the one-mile course with obstacles in place. Each entrant is awarded one penalty point for each second he needs to complete the course, as well as 15 points for each contact with a pylon. Each car is classed by its size, making it possible for Volkswagens to compete against the bigger Corvettes and Austin-Healys.

TO GET BOOZE

Student ID's Sold On Black Market

By JOHN GULLETT

The Florida State Beverage Commission has alerted USF officials that forged university student identification cards are being sold on an apparent black market, and that users of such cards will be prosecuted. A local beverage agent told the Campus Edition that use of the white cards with green lettering by any person under 21 years of age for the purpose of inducing any licensee to sell or deliver any alcoholic beverage is a violation of Florida Statute 562.11 (2), and is punishable by documents of all types are forged, with some selling for as high as $25.

The Florida Highway Patrol last month reported more than 1,000 drivers' licenses stolen, thus adding to the commission's problems of detection.

Dr. Herbert J. Wunderlich, dean of student affairs, said the holder of the card in the photo on this page was a resident of Miami, and not a USF student.

three months in the county jail or by a fine of not more than $500.

The person selling the card tells the buyer he won't get in trouble, but he does. When a person is booked, it goes on his record as a beverage violation. This could easily hurt the violator for a long time, for instance in applying for a civil service job," the agent said.

The agent pointed out the harm done not only to the university's reputation, but to the many students over 21 years of age, who may now have difficulty getting served. All licensees in the area have been warned about the cards, he added, and a stiff penalty awaits those who sell to minors.

The commission apparently did not compare the forged cards with the genuine, for in addition to their dissimilarity, the genuine does not include age or date of birth of holder, and therefore could not be used to purchase alcoholic beverages.

This is just a part of the illegal operation or operations plaguing the commission. Legal

Constitution Changes Pass By Wide Vote Margin

USF students have made their decision on the legislature's proposed changes in the constitution of the student association. Voting Friday indicated approval of all changes and unanimous approval of all but section 6.1.3.

According to Frank Meiners, president of the student association, the many changes proposed for section 6.1 may have resulted in some confusion when votes were cast.

An amendment to the constitution must be passed by two thirds of the votes. Section 6.1.3 passed by a vote of 180 to 51.

A total of 18 changes were made including those in the preamble. The most changes were in section 6.1, which now reads as follows:

6.1 The Rules Committee:

6.1.1 This committee shall be permanent, having its headquarters in the Executive Council.

6.1.2 This committee shall be chaired by the appointed parliamentary authority.

6.1.3 This committee's purpose shall be: to advise the president and/or the executive council and the legislature in matters concerning legal mechanics; to interpret the constitution; to provide the direction in matters of student association discipline; to draft any rules or regulations to the student association or organizations therein, deemed necessary by the executive council; to supervise the election of student association officers to be held the first part of the 2nd trimester of each school year.

6.1.4 This committee shall be composed of seven members. The parliamentary authority shall act as chairman; three members shall be chosen by the executive council; three members shall be chosen by the legislature.

HARKNESS CHAIRMAN

United Fund Drive Opens on Campus

The United Fund drive will begin on campus today, according to Dr. Donald R. Harkness, associate professor of the American Idea, and campus chairman for the fund. This is the only outside fund raising campaign on campus during the year.

The drive will continue until Oct. 31, under the direction of Dr. Harkness and his committee. Harkness was appointed by President John S. Allen, chairman of the drive for the private schools in the area.

Students will be on the committee for the first time this year. They are Fred Jenkins and Mary Agnes Taylor. The other members are faculty and staff.

"We can show the Tampa community that we are a part of it by being willing to do our share, or perhaps more than our share, in support of fund activities," Harkness said. "Responsible elements in the community have supported the university during the past year. A generous response to the United Fund will prove that we are aware of this support."

USF contributions to the United Fund will be divided among 32 service agencies. Harkness cited one aspect of the fund as something many people don't realize: "You may specify that you gift to one or more of the agencies listed."

Thirteen engineering students topped the list with earnings of $11,238.24 or an average of $864.44 each. One student reported income of more than $1,250.

Liberal Arts students ran second with eight earning $6,039.56 for an average of $754.94. They were followed by seven Business Administration students who totaled $4,395.20 for an average of $627.88.

Nine Education majors grossed $4,033.50 averaging $448.17 each.

The overall average for all of the 37 students on team assignments was $694.76, according to Miller, for the 12-week work period.

Total gross earnings were the highest yet for any work period as the total students assigned to any one work period jumped to 37 from 25 in the spring semester. Currently 42 students are on work assignments and Miller explained the current work period will have 16 or 17 weeks, depending on assignment, which should give the students an average gross of at least $200 more than individual students earned in the summer.

Future work periods are expected to run approximately 17 weeks as the University adjusts to the trimester schedule, Miller added.

Nearly all students indicated they saved some money with one student reporting savings of more than $700. Most of the savings will be used for expenses during another study period although a few of the students reporting they have bought autos to ease their transportation problems.

Wing was featured in several full-page pictorial "How to..." features such as changing tires and playing golf. Bill did a feature on the Role and Scope Report and Pres. Allen's views for the future.

One of the most interesting stories, however, was when John took a trip to the Georgia "quickie-marriage, one-hour service" towns just across the border posing as a prospective bride-groom.

JACKSON IN PUERTO RICO

Peace Corps Trainee Roughing It

By LOUISE STEWART

Joel Jackson, a former USF student with cousins still on campus, is presently roughing it in a camp in Puerto Rico as part of his final testing of Peace Corps candidates who recently finished a summer of study at the University of Maine. Joel says that this is the final weeding out process for the candidates.

Joel spent nine weeks on campus in the north in preparing for a two-year sojourn in Sierra Leone, Africa. His studies were divided into three major areas — American Studies, an academic study similar to our American Idea course; Area Studies on the country and its culture through lectures also from natives of the area; and Technical Training.

Technical training provided the field trip for five groups in the outboard motor field of study, Joel's division. These five groups invaded the Milwaukee plant of the well-known Evinrude outboard motor manufacturers.

When he arrives in Africa, Joel will literally set-up shop for the repair and maintenance of outboard motors. This may sound a bit off-beat for a Peace Corps enterprise. It seems that the people of the Sierra Leone area suffer from a disease manifesting itself in pot bellies and red hair, and caused by a meat deficiency in the diet.

Joel reported that in just a couple of days he spent $230 for clothes alone. He explained, "I have to stock up on everything for two years." He is also developing a taste for rice, which is the prime food of the area.

Joel emphasized that the biggest point in their training was to accept the people of the area as they are, neither looking down on them nor trying to bring them "up to our level."

Methodist Foundation Names USF Director

The Board of Education of the Florida Conference of the Methodist Church has announced the appointment of the Reverend Edwin S. Davis as part-time director of the Wesley Foundation at the University of South Florida.

Reverend Davis is pastor of the Temple Terrace Methodist Church and will continue in that capacity while directing the Methodist student activities on the campus.

MAKING IT GO
Joel Jackson is making a study of outboard motors for use in the African domain of Sierra Leone, Africa. Working on the mechanism with him in his summer study at the University of Maine is Nat Yavana, a Sierra Leone medical student in the USA, who agreed to help orient the future Peace Corps members in his country's culture.

2 Storms Threat To Schirra Fight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Oct. 1 (AP) — Two major storms—tropical storm Daisy in the Atlantic and typhoon Dinah in the Pacific—posed possible threats today to Walter M. Schirra's projected six-orbit space flight, scheduled Wednesday.

Daisy was an immediate threat. Dinah was not expected to cause trouble unless the shot is delayed.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported officials are keeping a close watch on the two weather systems, hopeful no postponement would be necessary.

The space agency called a weather briefing today to inform newsmen of latest developments.

Daisy boiled up 420 miles east of Puerto Rico yesterday and the San Juan Weather Bureau reported winds up to 50 miles an hour in a small area near the center. The storm was following a course, which would create a heavy sea problem Wednesday near Grand Turk Island, the ocean area where Schirra would land if trouble forced his flight to be terminated after three orbits.

Grand Turk is about 800 miles southeast of Cape Canaveral. Intensification of the storm could make it a full-fledged hurricane by Wednesday.

Dinah was reported in the Pacific southeast of Japan. It could bring rough weather to the recovery area for the fourth, fifth and sixth orbits—east and northeast of Midway Island.

Almost perfect weather is a must in possible landing zones before the launching will be attempted.

Schirra kept in close contact with weather developments from his quarters in hangar S at Cape Canaveral, where he is spending the final days before the flight. These are the same quarters occupied by the four earlier U.S. space pilots.

At hangar S, Schirra undergoes daily physical checks, dines on a low residue diet and makes repeated run-throughs of the flight plan. He left the Cape for a while yesterday for a swim in nearby Cocoa Beach. Swimming is Schirra's favorite exercise.

All other elements of the mission, including Atlas booster rocket and capsule, were reported in excellent condition.

Court Reporter's Job Pays Well

By ART BEAUCHAMP
Times Staff Writer

One of the most lucrative appointive jobs in Hillsborough County political circles is that of the official court reporter.

Recommended by the Circuit Court judges and appointed by the governor, the current holder of that post is Nathan L. Friedman.

Fixed by law, the official court reporter's annual salary paid by the state is $1,800 a year, plus traveling expenses. However, the official court reporter's gross earnings are many times that figure and have been estimated to be higher than a circuit judge's salary, which is $20,000 a year.

Other counties in the Tampa Bay area provide a single office in the courthouse for the official court reporter, but Hillsborough's official court reporter and his assistants named by him, occupy 10 offices or rooms on the third floor of the courthouse. Office space occupied by Friedman and his assistants is provided rent free. So are utilities, janitorial services, heat and air conditioning.

In addition, Friedman and his assistants are using numerous county-owned chairs and a large, gray-metal table. Retail prices of each of the chairs ranges from $69 to $90.

Other office equipment in the court reporter's 10 offices is owned by Friedman. Its estimated value is $20,000. Assistant court reporters who use Stenotype machines for recording testimony furnish their own equipment.

One of Friedman's assistants estimated incomes of assistant court reporters at $8,000 to $12,000 a year, these being net figures, after Friedman has received 30 per cent of their gross earnings.

In addition to office equipment provided by Friedman, convenience and necessity of providing a single office in the courthouse for the official court reporter.

"But anything over that I think they should pay for," Nuccio said.

Pinellas County provides a single office for the official court reporter in the courthouse. The court reporters lease private quarters near the courthouse in Clearwater and also office space in downtown St. Petersburg.

Court reporters who occupy office space in the Pinellas County-owned building in St. Petersburg pay rent to the county based on the size of the office.

In Bradenton and Sarasota, court reporters occupy single offices in the courthouses which are provided by the counties.

Friedman was appointed official court reporter after the death of Richard H. Lee in October, 1960.

He was reappointed Jan. 25, 1961, by Gov. Farris Bryant.

he also furnishes paper, carbon paper, sound transcribers, and various other stationery items.

Friedman says he pays the county nothing for rent, utilities, heat, air conditioning or other services.

Wesley Roberts, director of county property control, said that his records show that the court reporters have "on loan" from the county four metal arm chairs and a large, gray-metal table. These records were based on an inventory taken Dec. 21, 1959.

County Commissioner Nick Nuccio expressed interest in the rent-free office space provided in the courthouse. He said he could understand the

Tropical Storm Daisy Weakens

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Oct. 1 (AP)—Daisy, the fourth tropical storm in a slow hurricane season, weakened today.

A hurricane watch was maintained for the Leeward Islands, the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico, although the Weather Bureau said she had slowed down some during the early morning hours.

"The chance of re-intensification still exists," the Weather Bureau said.

Gale warnings for highest winds of 45 miles an hour were issued as the storm moved toward Puerto Rico at 12 miles an hour. At 5 a.m. EST, Daisy was about 300 miles from San Juan at 17 degrees latitude north and 62 degrees longitude west.

HONG KONG, Oct. 1 (UPI)—Police in this British crown colony and in neighboring Portuguese Macao were mobilized today as a precaution against violence on the 13th anniversary of Communist China.

The two China mainland enclaves feared clashes between pro and anti-Communist factions. Communist sympathizers in both colonies have erected huge decorations in honor of the anniversary.

Chips To Be Down in British Mart Talks

The chips will be down this month when Britain resumes negotiations in Brussels on conditions for her entry into the six-nation European Common Market. British efforts are aimed at getting stronger support from the three Benelux countries and West Germany. These moves have aroused suspicion in Paris that Britain is trying to isolate France in the European alignment, and the signs are that President Charles de Gaulle might consequently harden his terms for British entry into Europe.

De Gaulle Government Bracing for Strikes

At home, the De Gaulle government is bracing for a new eruption of strikes in nationalized industries. First government offers of wage boosts of only a little over four per cent have stirred up anger among the labor unions. More trouble also is expected from farmers in Brittany, indignant over increased railroad freight charges for their produce.

U.S. Cuba Move Seen if Reds Squeeze Berlin

In Berlin there is speculation that any serious Russian attempt to end western rights in Berlin or to interfere with access to it "will end the Cuban problem." The theory is that any aggressive Communist action against Berlin would draw United States retaliation not only to protect American rights in Berlin but also against Soviet influence in Cuba.

Japan Defense Force Increase Expected

Look for Japan to beef up her self-defense forces in an effort to become less dependent on American military protection. Observers in Tokyo say the move is linked to Soviet threats that Japan would become a prime target in a nuclear war because of the presence of U.S. bases on Japanese soil.

Breakthrough Seen in Japan-S. Korea Talks

Sources both in Japan and Korea are predicting a major breakthrough soon in the protracted Japan-South Korean talks. South Korea's ruling military junta is anxious to put relations between the two countries on a normal footing before turning power over to civilians next year. On their side, the Japanese want access to the South Korean market.

4-H Clubs Beginning New Year

By JEAN BEEM
County Agricultural Agent

Hillsborough County 4-H Clubs are beginning their new year at this time. Young people between the ages of 10 and 21 are eligible for membership. The 4-H Club offers training in many areas of community living in addition to agricultural projects.

The 4-H Club Motto, "To Make the Best Better," best explains the purpose of club work. Training is offered to both boys and girls in many different project fields. Boys, for instance, can take up study in entomology, electricity, citrus, dairying, beef cattle as well as garden, safety, recreation and wildlife.

Girls' club work offers training in homemaking, sewing, canning, hygiene and many other related subjects. Awards for outstanding work are available for 4-Hers on the county, state and national levels.

Anyone interested in 4-H Club work may get further information concerning boys clubs by calling the county agricultural agent's office in Tampa, Ruskin and Plant City. Girls interested in club work may call the home demonstration agent in any of the three county offices.

High rust mite populations on fruit require miticides with good cleanup properties and thorough applications. Zineb is not satisfactory for this purpose.

Sulfur is the cheapest and will give a good kill, but will increase any citrus red mite buildup. Chlorobenzilate is the preferred material at this time of the year and when citrus red mite or Texas citrus mite are present Tediion should be added. Recommended dosages of Tediion are either ½ pound of Tediion 25W one pint of liquid Tediion per 100 gallons.

Where heavy infestations of whitefly and sooty mold are present, a fall insecticide should be applied. Spray containing 0.5 per cent oil plus 15 pounds of actual parathion, or 75 pounds of malathion per 100 gallons, will reduce whitefly population and loosen sooty mold. The oil will retard coloring to a certain extent, but not as much as the larger amounts.

Citrus schools which may be of interest to growers are as follows:

The Manatee County Citrus School begins Monday and runs for five consecutive Monday nights. Citrus nutrition, fruit quality, tree rejuvenation and weed control will be discussed. Anyone interested is asked to contact Earl Kelley, associate county agent, P. O. Box 338, Palmetto, for further information.

There will be a $3 registration fee charged.

A Citrus Sprayer Maintenance School will be held at the Agricultural Building, Bartow, on two Monday nights, Nov. 5 and 12. Spray equipment operators, as well as the supervising personnel, are urged to take advantage of the school.

Both air carrier and hydraulic sprayer systems will be covered in the school. Interested persons are requested to contact Jack Haddox, assistant county agent, P. O. Box 711, Bartow for further details. Both schools are used under the direction of the Florida Agricultural Extension Service.

Art Exhibition Opens Saturday At USF Gallery

A traveling exhibit of drawings by American artists will open Saturday at the gallery of the University of South Florida. "Drawings, U.S.A." is a collection of 59 outstanding works, selected from 1800 submitted to the St. Paul Gallery and School of Art, in biennial competition. The exhibit is presented under the auspices of the American Federation of Arts.

Works do not represent a cross section of momentary styles of the day, but instead point up individuality in artists. Among the artists whose work is included are Robert Swathmey, Ben Shahn, Harry Ellenzweig, Dorian Zachai, Dave May, Stephen Greene, Rice Lebrun and Antonio Frasconi.

The USF gallery is located in the library building. It is open from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. each Monday through Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the gallery is open to the public from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., and on Sundays, from 2 to 10 p.m.

The exhibit will hang through Oct. 27.

DODGE PRESENTS THE DEPENDABLES FOR 1963!

Dodge Polara 2-door hardtop

1963 DODGE... BEAUTIFUL NEW ENTRY IN THE LOW-PRICE FIELD

Compact Dodge Dart GT 2-door hardtop

1963 DODGE DART... A FRESH NEW COMPACT IN THE LARGE ECONOMY SIZE

INTRODUCING THE 1963 DODGE

Now a complete new line of cars in the low-price field. The 1963 Dodge! People who see it just naturally get carried away. Reasons? 1. The looks: Great! 2. The price: Low! Wouldn't you rather own a Dodge than other low-priced cars? 3. The room: Big! Notice how the roofline sweeps straight back. That means ample headroom for the people in back, not just the ones in front. Seats? Your choice of models with sofa style, buckets or fold-down center arm rest. 4. The upkeep: Low! Dodge is rust-protected. The body fully unitized. The brakes self-adjusting. A major grease job lasts 32,000 miles, an oil change 4,000. 5. The feel behind the wheel: Like nothing else! Five strong engines to choose from. Smooth-going torsion-bar ride. Easy low-friction steering. Comfortable chair-high seats. Nylon, leather-grained vinyls. There are several hundred more reasons why. Your dependable Dodge Dealer has them all. See him. Drive the new '63 Dodge and get carried away yourself.

NEW 5-YEAR/50,000-MILE WARRANTY!

Your authorized Dodge Dealer's Warranty against defects in material and workmanship on 1963 cars has been expanded to include parts replacement or repair for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first; on the engine block, head and internal parts; transmission case and internal parts; torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints (excluding dust covers), rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings—provided the vehicle has been serviced at reasonable intervals according to the Dodge Certified Car Care schedules. Factory approved remanufactured parts may be used for replacement.

INTRODUCING COMPACT '63 DART

At last. A compact that doesn't give anyone the sardine treatment. The 1963 Dodge Dart! Now everybody gets a fair shake on room. Note the roofline. It goes straight back. Result: Even rear-seat hat wearers are treated with deference. And so are those who like some action for a change. Dart's standard engine leaves the run-of-the-mill compacts waiting and wheezing. Its optional engine (just a few bucks more) is the same way, only more so. Economical? Like you'd expect a compact to be! That's the whole idea. Lots of room inside, compact outside. Lots of skeddaddle, easy on gas.

Few compacts cost less than Dart. None offers the value. A unitized body, for example, that's rust-protected. 32,000 miles between major grease jobs. A torsion-bar ride. An alternator. A high-speed starter for fast starts. Two series. Nine models including two pizzazz convertibles. See your Dodge Dealer for the car that's too roomy to be a compact, too thrifty to be anything else.

STRIKE?
John Ward, captain of Enotas's bowling team, gets a brief lesson from Mrs. Jene Gibson, whose husband manages Florida Bowling Lanes. The lanes will be the scene of USF's men's intramural bowling tournament now underway. Women will begin their tourney in early October.

I-M ACTIVITIES

Bowling-Volleyball Season Begins

By RICHARD OPPEL
The bowling season officially kicked off last Thursday afternoon at Florida Lanes as two of 16 men's teams vied for a maximum number of pins. The men's tourney, which will last close to two weeks, will be climaxed with the awarding of University activity points to the groups represented by these four-man teams.

Each kegler rolls a three-game series; the team total is simply the sum of the four series. High team at the close of competition will be awarded first-place points, and so forth down through the loser.

Women's Tourney—Oct. 8.
Near the end of the men's tourney, Oct. 8, the women will initiate their tourney. I-M Coordinator Murphy Osborne Jr. said, "This is the first year girls will have competitive intramurals."

Osborne also commented on the addition of Miss Mercedes Fernandez, who will be in charge of the women's I-M's this year: "This improvement will undoubtedly be one of the highlights of the girls' intramural season."

Osborne announced that there will be a USF recreational league formed after the tourneys have been completed. This will be a non-competitive league and will not count toward activity points. Osborne also said that this might be a coeducational league. Persons who expressed an interest in bowling on their personal interest sheets will be contacted.

Volleyball Season
The volleyball season gets into full swing today as the 20 teams participating begin a double-elimination series. Set your sights on a gala athletic field-day to come off available at no charge.

These boxes are for non-resident students only, and are available at no charge.

Kantor Holds UC Audience Spellbound

MacKinlay Kantor, well known writer and author of the historical novels "Andersonville" and "Spirit Lake," was guest the first session of the "Meet the Author" series.

Mr. Kantor held forth an unprecedented one and one-half hours to one of the largest "author" audiences UC representatives have ever had.

"Writing for yourself and using a personal sense of what is good is the primary duty of an author," said Kantor in his advice to young writers.

The well-known historical novelist donated his fee for the evening to the University to be used for a creative writing scholarship.

Also featured during the evening's discussion was Kantor's comparison of contemporary authors, including Hemingway and Catton.

Richard Glendinning, another Sarasota author, will be featured at the second session of the series, to be held Wednesday, Oct. 3.

Glendinning is the author of "Terror In The Sun," "Who Evil Thinks," "Mission to Murder," and a new book to be published in the fall entitled "They Opened The West."

Clothes for the show are being provided by the Two Sisters and Kirby's Men Shop. Between the show and dance there will be a reception sponsored by the Hospitality Committee for the models.

Following the fashion show there will be a record dance from 9 to 12 p.m. in the ballroom, sponsored by the dance committee. Admission will be free; dress for the occasion will be casual. Students are asked to bring their I.D. cards, which will serve as tickets.

Wardrobe Styling
Wardrobe styling will be the feature topic of this week's charm session. This ten week charm course is being taught by Miss Joann Torretta, Tampa fashion commentator and instructor. The fee for the entire course is one dollar, and all students successfully completing the course will receive models in University Center fashion shows.

Tournaments Winners
Winners of the tournaments held at the annual "Open House" have been announced by Ann Francis, chairman of the Recreation Committee. Jim Lutsko and Mike Kroell placed first in billiards; Pat Mason was named winner in Table Tennis; Mike Wheeler and Roger Walton captured the prize for bridge.

ABOUT CONVERSATION

Allen Continues 'Listening' Research

Do women say the same things when men are present and when they are not . . . and are the differences in conversational outputs which can be associated with sex segregation?

Last year men and women were housed in Alpha Hall and habitually mingled in the lobby for short periods. Conversation was sampled for some 15 hours under these circumstances last semester.

Sexes Segregated
This semester the two sexes are separated with the women in Alpha and the men in Beta. "This represents a major change in group structure and should produce some fascinating clues to the effects of the two methods of housing," according to Professor Allen.

Questionnaires are being distributed to one-half of the residents of each of the dorms to determine their reaction to the sampling method.

Conclusions will be published about 10 months after the analysis of the data has been completed.

Cafeteria Wins Award: 'Fine Coffee'

The Coffee Brewing Institute Inc. has presented the Coffee Shop on campus with its Golden Cup award for fine coffee brewing. The institute judges samples of coffee from all over the nation and makes the award only when they find a perfect cup of coffee.

Judging is based on blend, consistency, method of brewing, temperature and amount of oils and nectar. Ron Willis, manager of Morrison's Food Services here, commented, "The high mineral content and calcium in the water in this area does definitely affect the taste."

The plaque received from the institute states that the coffee shop at the University of South Florida (they may not know our name, but they know about our coffee) has received the 1962 Golden Cup Award for "producing a fine beverage coffee in accordance with the highest brewing standards."

Changing a Grade

Instructions for students who want to take a final examination at the end of the fall trimester, 1962, to remove an X or to raise a previous grade in a college of basic studies' course:

1. An application must be filled out in triplicate at the Office of Evaluation Services no later than October 31, 1962.
2. The student will be given a receipt that will serve as proof of application.
3. The application alone is not approval. Approval consists of the application along with the following requirements:
 - a. This permission is valid only for the Fall Trimester of 1962.
 - b. If a student withdraws from the University, he automatically loses permission.
 - c. If a student is attempting to make up an X grade, the X grade must be on the final exam. Retaking the final does not make up an X grade issued by an instructor.
 - d. The X grade or grade to be raised must have been earned the last semester that the student was enrolled.

BY INDEPENDENT STUDY

New PE Concept Initiated Here

"Independent study" in physical education, too? Odd as it might seem on the surface, this completely new concept of PE is being experimented with on the USF campus.

Planned Participation, as organized by Dr. Gilman Hertz, director of physical education, has been initiated this trimester with two classes, PE 160 TENNIS Sec. 5 and PE 160 GOLF Sec. 5. Students comprising these sections have rated well on motor ability tests and personal evaluations. They are expected to be able to budget their time for practice and to learn in a non-formalized situation.

Learning Self-Imposed
Hertz explained, "The basic assumption of this method is that students learn primarily by participating. It is intended that this be made as pleasant an experience as possible so that the student will be motivated to continue playing on his own initiative after the prescribed period of instruction. That a student can choose his own time to practice is one factor that should make the learning experience enjoyable and, because the practice patterns have been self-imposed, continuing."

The Planned Participation program requires two hours weekly practicing the skill, either tennis or golf according to the section. These two hours may be completed at any time of the day, any week-day. Time is recorded in time-clock fashion.

Visual Aids Lab

In addition, one hour weekly is devoted to knowledge development in the teaching laboratory. The 12 hours per semester spent in this lab consists of a series of loop films, film strips and movies. Also included in this section are three one-hour clinics covering different aspects of the game.

The Dyer backboard test to measure tennis skill, and a written examination to measure tennis knowledge, will be given at the beginning and again at the end of the trimester to determine initial status and improvement. A similar testing method will be given to those enrolled in the golf section.

Inn from Kansas State
The program is a modification of "The Participation Requirement Program Concept for Physical Education," a plan originated by Robin C. Wood, Ed. D., of Kansas State University. In his report, Wood presents an interesting argument for his plan. He criticizes some existing PE programs because of their weakness due to one-hour group participation.

"To begin with," Wood states, "a maximum of only 25 to 30 minutes of motor participation is possible as a result of the unavoidable pre-activity and post-activity routines."

Wood further claims, "When classes are offered as they are with two, three, four, and five times the number of students that the area can athletically accommodate, participation time is of course reduced, with actual participation being a farce both with respect to actual participation time and with respect to authenticity of the experience."

Bank's Service Available To All

The University Bank, officially dubbed the Cashier's office, is a facility all new faculty, staff and students should become familiar with early in their careers at USF.

This office, located in room 1037 of the administration building, is the center of all financial business of the University. Its program is divided into three phases. The first is that of dispersing and collecting money for student loans and scholarships. The second is composed of regular USF business; the deposit of money for USF offices, and student registration. The final phase is the USF Credit Union. This is a co-operative organization of faculty and staff members. Participants in this plan can open saving accounts and/or borrow money at the bank.

Services carried out by the Cashier's Office are: Cashing checks, holding deposits of social clubs, collecting and dispersing money for student organizations, issuing refunds for vending machines, and giving change.

In general, the Cashier's Office is the center for anything connected with money, such as locker fees, etc.

Donald E. Haning, University Cashier, and his staff of three tellers and two student assistants, will welcome inquiries about their services from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

JUST ABOUT EVERY BODY WAS THERE
New faculty and staff were entertained by USF "veterans" recently at Bahia Beach. Here, in an after-dinner session, staff members and spouses visit with the new people in the first social event of the trimester.
