Introduction to the Collection

During the mid-1990s, Kathleen Hardee Arsenault conducted research on two notable authors, Francis Robert Goulding and Lois Lenski. A member of the library faculty since 1981, Arsenault has served as collection development librarian, special collections librarian, interim library director (beginning July 1999), and library director. During the 2001-2002 academic year, she became the first Dean of the Nelson Poynter Memorial Library. A graduate of Wellesley College and Simmons College, she has written articles and scholarly reviews on a variety of Florida topics, including the historical development of children's literature in Florida.

This collection includes research materials, publications, and other documents that examine the contributions of Lenski and Goulding to the literature on living in Florida.

Preservation Note

The materials in this collection occupy one acid-free document box. While preservation measures may slow the physical deterioration of items, these steps cannot prevent damage from occurring. To prevent further damage to the fragile materials in this collection, avoid exposing them to light for an extended period of time. Please report any tears or other damage so that library staff may take appropriate preservation or conservation measures. Although no restrictions limit access to this collection, library staff will evaluate photocopying or digitization requests on an individual basis to ensure the long-term preservation of this unique collection.

Provenance of the Kathleen H. Arsenault Literature Research Collection

The research materials compiled by Kathleen H. Arsenault fall under Literature and Humanities provenance of the Special Collections and Archives department, Nelson Poynter Memorial Library, University of South Florida St. Petersburg.

Scope and Contents

The contents occupy one document box (0.42 linear feet). The materials in this collection fall within two distinct series. The first series includes research materials, as well as published and unpublished sources, on Francis Robert Goulding (1810-1881). A Georgia native, Goulding published The Young Marooners on the Florida Coast in the mid-1800s. Publishers released numerous editions of this book during the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. The bulk of material in the Goulding series focuses on Arsenault's research into The Young Marooners.

The second series evaluates published and unpublished materials related to the writings of Lois Lenski (1893-1974). A graduate of Ohio State University in 1915, Lenski authored many books, including works that dealt with migrant farm workers that traveled across the nation. Her writings earned numerous awards, including a 1946 Newbery Award for Strawberry Girl. She passed away at her home in Tarpon Springs, Florida, in September 1974. The bulk of material in the Lenski series evaluates her writings about farm laborers and migrant workers in Florida.

Additional Sources of Information

The special collections department of the Robert Manning Strozier Library, Florida State University, serves as a repository for a substantial collection of books and materials on Lois Lenski. Emory University in Atlanta, Georgia, and the Hargrett Rare Book and Manuscript Library at the University of Georgia, Athens, possess manuscripts related to the life and activities of Francis R. Goulding.
