New GOP Runs For Offices

A new political group, the Platonic Republican party, has formed on campus to run a series of officer candidates in the upcoming student association elections.

The purpose of the group, says Dave Kaufman, party candidate for president, is to unify the student body under "wise men for office" ticket; provide intelligent leadership which has been long lacking at USF; correct faulty leadership, personality politics, and charismatic leadership.

Other candidates on the PRP ticket are Louis Chalfoux, vice president; Nick Rockwell, treasurer; Rosemary Ehrlich, corresponding secretary; Gayle Waldron, recording secretary; and Henry Fernandez, representative-at-large.

Nominations Close Here Tomorrow

With Student Association elections slated for Tuesday, Jan. 22, and office nominations closing today at 5 p.m., USF has been bitten by the political bug.

Numerous nominations have been received for the several offices; one student announced his candidacy for all of them. As of CAMPUS EDITION publication deadline of Wednesday, the following candidates were in the running:

For president: Fred Frey, D. P. Kaufmann, Lee Lombard, and Lawrence Pendarvis.

For vice president: Lawrence Pendarvis and Dick Wheeler.

For recording secretary: Roni Lerner, Lawrence Pendarvis, Mary Taylor, and Gayle Waldron.

For corresponding secretary: Rosemary Ehrlich, and Lawrence Pendarvis.

For treasurer: Henry Fernandez and Lawrence Pendarvis.

For student senator: Sarah Caldwell, Lawrence Pendarvis, and Mill Pressley.

For representative-at-large: Henry Fernandez and Lawrence Pendarvis.

Dr. Finch To Speak At Chem Seminar

A development chemist from the Tennessee Eastman Co. will discuss ketene dimers in the Chemistry Seminar Thursday, Jan. 17, at 1:25 p.m. in CH105.

Dr. G. K. Finch, head of the development department of Tennessee Eastman's acid division, will explain the chemistry of ketene dimer compounds, which are by-products of a material used to make plastics and rayon. He will also discuss problems related to their industrial production.

Dr. Finch holds the Ph.D. in organic chemistry from the University of Michigan and has been with Tennessee Eastman since 1952.

40 WELCOMED BACK

President Allen, deans, and members of the Work-Study Council welcomed approximately 40 Work-Study students back to the campus with a hospitality hour, Tuesday, Jan. 8, in the University Center. The students had completed successfully work assignments during Trimester I.

EX-AEC MEMBER

Nobel Prize Winner To Lecture on Atom

Dr. Willard F. Libby, Nobel Prize winner and pioneer of radioactive Carbon 14 dating, will be on campus Tuesday to speak on "The Impact of the Atom on Modern Society."

Dr. Libby will take a morning tour of the campus, lunch with the science faculty, and visit a science seminar at 1:30 p.m. in CH100. His lecture is slated for 8:30 p.m. in the TA following a dinner given in his honor by President John Allen.

DECISIONS! ALWAYS DECISIONS!

University Center worker Tish Gabel seems to be having a hard time deciding what to do with all the accumulated junk . . . er, lost and found items from Trimester I. After all, where will she put the items already collecting from this trimester? Out with old, in with the new!

AMATEUR TALENT?

Ted Mack Staff To Hold Auditions

The audition staff for Ted Mack's "Original Amateur Hour" is currently preparing auditions for interested persons with talent in the Florida West Coast area. The Amateur Hour, for years a favorite of both young and old, will devote four of their CBS network television shows to talent from the state of Florida.

Info Desk To Aid Ride Seekers

Many students living off-campus this year do not yet have transportation to and from the campus. The Housing Office in cooperation with the University Center is attempting to assist students who need rides. Anyone who needs a ride or anyone who can provide a ride should contact the Information Desk in the University Center and fill out a card provided for this purpose. These cards are displayed on the Student Exchange Services bulletin board in the lobby of the University Center.

Waiving Basic Studies Explained

Students who wish to apply to waive a basic studies course must do so in the Office of the Registrar during the first trimester in residence. Qualifications for a waiver are listed on pages of 15-16 of Accent on Learning.

Lost And Found Is Growing

Will someone please claim them! The University Center has boxes, closets, and drawers full of students' clothing and personal effects that it will gladly return upon identification.

It is amazing to rummage through this amassed collection of paraphernalia; the strangest things have been lost. Anything that a person can wear or carry has at one time or another turned up in the lost and found.

The University Center has a box full of eye glasses, closets containing clothing, suits, shoes, and even contact lenses which people lost last trimester. To make room for the University Center offices these articles are stored or properly disposed of at the end of each academic year.

A display of some articles from the lost and found is planned to enable students to identify those lost without their knowledge. The center already has a great number of articles stored from past semesters. To keep this collection from growing, check with the UC when a valuable is lost and look through the collection when it is displayed; you may have lost something.

Meet-Author To Feature Joe Hayes

Joe Hayes, author of the highly successful play-novel-movie "The Desperate Hours" will be on campus for the UC Meet the Author series Wednesday, Jan. 16 at 8 p.m. in UC 264.

Hayes comes out of hiding in the Sarasota writers' colony where he has an unusual writing hideaway according to recent news reports. Mrs. Marjorie Hayes and the Hayes' son will accompany the author on his visit to USF.

The Hayes home on Lido Beach features a rich Japanese theme and two INDOOR swimming pools. On top of the house is a private and secluded writer's haven reached only by a ladder which can be pulled up to keep out unwelcome visitors.

Prominent in many areas of literary endeavor, Hayes is regarded by some as a successful novelist, playwright, screen and theatrical producer. As a play, "The Desperate Hours" won the Best Play award. As a novel, it was later adapted for a Hollywood film.

Another Hayes novel, "Bon Voyage," was also made into a movie. His latest novel is "Don't Go Away Mad."

Teacher Credit Offered on TV

"The Fourth R," a 13-week course on the fundamentals of radiation, will begin Sunday, Jan. 13, at 12 noon on WFLA-TV, Channel 8.

The course, to be taught by T. C. Helvey, associate professor of biology at the University of South Florida, will deal with the fundamentals of radiation and its effects on humans. Area teachers can receive three credit hours by enrolling for the course with the Florida Institute for Continuing University Studies.

Teachers taking the course will be required to attend three Saturday morning sessions at the USF campus during the course for discussion periods and tests. Those interested in enrolling should contact the office of the College of Education at the University of South Florida as soon as possible.

Future Years To See Appointments by Class

By WING PREODOR

The total number of students enrolled at the University of South Florida for the second trimester is 3,450.

Between 700 and 800 students who enrolled in the charter class registered again this time. That is slightly more than half of the original number.

According to Frank H. Spain, registrar, "The appointment system was very successful." This is not a brand new system. Most large universities must assign ap-

'A BROAD BACKGROUND'

Business College Trains For Succession of Jobs

By ED CARLSON

Dean Charles Millican feels that the basis for a good business education should include both a broad liberal background and a firm foundation in basic business and economics.

This reporter, on meeting the dean, was immediately aware of his friendliness and shortly became conscious of his desire to make the College of Business Administration a success for its students. It is Dean Millican's philosophy that the college has a responsibility to the students to provide a background which will enable them to work competently and successfully in the business world.

He feels that since the graduate will most likely enter the lower strata of business at first, it is important that he have some competence in a major field of business. It is the dean's belief that the College of Business Administration should prepare the student for a succession of jobs. The reason for the broad background in liberal education and basic business is to better prepare the graduate for advances toward management where the emphasis is on analysis and critical evaluation rather than a particular skill.

The dean has led a varied and interesting career in the field of business and education. He worked for Dun and Bradstreet assigning credit ratings to business firms while attending the Memphis School of Commerce at night studying advanced accounting. After the school of commerce he entered Union University in Jackson, Tenn., to complete the liberal portion of his education. At Union his majors were business and theology. While attending Union University the dean pastored churches and continued working for Dun and Bradstreet both on a part-time basis.

It was during WW II while he was the coordinator of an accelerated college plan for Air Force pilots that Dean Millican decided to devote his energies to education for business. After the war he attended George Peabody College in Nashville, Tenn. and received his master's degree in economics.

When he first came to Florida the dean taught at U. of F. while working for his Ph.D. in finance. As he worked for his degree, he rose from a teaching assistant to the assistant dean of the College of Business Administration. Dean Millican then went to the School of Business at Hardin Simmons University, Abilene, Tex., where he was the dean for three years before coming to the University of South Florida.

The dean has a wide variety of interests including a great love for such outdoor sports as hunting, fishing and golf but admits that he does not have the time he would like to devote to these activities. Dean Millican has worked with the Greater Tampa Chamber of Commerce, is a member of Kiwanis Club, and has occasionally acted as a fill-in minister in the bay area.

The dean is best known for his role in developing a well-integrated program that will give high quality education to business students.

MORE TRAFFIC SIGNALS

Brandon Boulevard Getting New Look

By VIRGINIA NEWMAN
Times Staff Writer
BRANDON — The face of Brandon's main street — Highway 60 runs through the center of the community and is called Brandon Boulevard — is getting a new look.

After a three-year effort on the part of school and civic representatives, Brandon has a second set of traffic lights. The six traffic signals are at Brandon Boulevard and Kingsway Road.

A side signal instructs pedestrians when to walk across the highway. This signal is manually operated by the school patrol for the nearby Church of the Nativity school.

Directly in front of the Brandon shopping center, new storage lanes for turning onto Moon Avenue and Edwards Street are under construction.

B. G. Morris, assistant maintenance engineer for the Tampa area of the State Road Department, said the Moon Avenue turnoff lane will be completed this week, with the Edwards Street lane to be finished next week.

He said the road construction was the first for Brandon since the four-lane highway was completed four years ago.

Islands centering SR 60, which had been beautified by Brandon civic organizations, were removed to make way for the new construction.

John C. Harper, press secretary-designate by the incoming governor, said the television network will include stations in Tallahassee, and Chattanooga, Tenn. Educational outlet WFTV also will carry the event.

The network also will carry the combined state of the state and budget message Wednesday as Sanders makes his first appearance before the current session of the general assembly.

Ruskin Wants Share of That Tourist Dollar

By VIRGINIA DAVIS
Times Staff Writer

RUSKIN—Promising to Ruskin are reports that Tampa has tested the tourist traffic and found Mr. and Mrs. America have broken the ice from their inhibitions about Florida and are flowing into Tampa.

Ruskin businessmen want a piece of that tourist dollar. As a partner to Tampa, however, they don't feel that Tampa does an adequate job of displaying the tourist-drawing wares in Hillsborough County to help these spenders find more diversified ways of seeing sights and enjoying themselves.

Ruskin feels it has some ingredients to throw into the tourist stew pot, and its people claim there are more ways to a tourist party to kill a day's entertainment than a visit to Busch Gardens and Tampa's other attractions.

PAUL B. DICKMAN told The Times that visitors from St. Petersburg seem to have discovered Ruskin more readily than South Hillsborough County's partner, Tampa. Conversely, Ruskin, from Bahia Beach, can look St. Petersburg in the eye from across the bay. Whether its people go to such length to trade is another question, but St. Petersburg's tourists and residents find Ruskin by driving south over the Sunshine Skyway bridge, by crossing the bay via Tampa or by a bee-line course via private charter boats regularly docking at Bahia Beach.

The most spectacular attraction in the Ruskin area is the dredged up island of Bahia Beach, where 2,000 feet of white sand, palmetto-thatched cabanas and shelters are currently Hillsborough County's finest beach space.

THE DELUXE Bahia Beach Restaurant features such succulent delicacies as pheasant and quail, and has facilities for private parties. Any boat calling at the 500-foot dock at Bahia Beach gets its name featured on a life ring added to the 200 displayed among the marine decor of the restaurant.

Near the dock and an inlet where boat slips lie just off the bay is a modern boatel, and across the inlet is a miniature golf course. A floating dock for small boats lies on part of the island where Del E. Webb's Sun City development has just started to lay out a 1,000 foot private beach.

Oaks have been planted, a rock-based street laid out, picnic tables and barbecue pits are to be set up among palmetto leaf-covered shelters, and there's talk of a yacht club to be added in the future.

UP THE INLET A few thousand feet is the Ruskin Marina, where some 65 pleasure boats from 22 to 57 feet await the pleasure of their owners, one from Canada. A lift there can haul up a big boat from the ways and bring it in for repairs.

Not far away is the Shell Point fish camp, where boats, bait and fishing know-how are ready for all callers.

Beyond the bayside entertainment features, Ruskin has still another unique attraction, for the hunter, South of State Road 674 and east of U.S. Highway 41 is the 970-acre River Bend Hunting Preserve.

THE PRESERVE is particularly ideal for the handicapped hunter and for those near and dear father-son relationships, because planning has provided nearly a guaranteed successful hunting trip. Hunt guides and jeeps with raised seats make a trip to the fields almost effortless as well as profitable for the game sure to be bagged.

River Bend furnishes not only the dogs for the hunt but the birds. There are about 1,000 ring-necked pheasant, quail and chukar, raised in pens for release on hundreds of acres of pangola grass fields.

In the hunting lodge, hunters can buy a $2.25 county license and relax in the pleasant aroma of woodsmoke. They have a six months season to enjoy the pleasure, from Oct. 1 to April 1.

River Bend has a view out of this world for hunters. The Little Manatee River bounds the property for 2½ miles, and the view provides a rare sight in Florida from river bluffs 30 feet high.

Mrs. Esther Crowe Dies at Age 78

Mrs. Esther Hilton Crowe, 78, of 3008 Chapin Ave., a longtime resident of Tampa, died Sunday morning in a Tampa hospital. A native of Dubuque, Iowa, she had been a resident here since 1910. Mrs. Crowe was a member of Palma Ceia Presbyterian Church, former president of the WCTU and member of the retired teachers' association. She was a graduate of the University of Tampa and taught in the Hillsborough County School system for 40 years. Survivors include her husband, Frank C. Crowe; two sons, Edward Emerson Crowe, and Frank Hilton Crowe, all of Tampa; six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

IMPERIAL CROWN FOUR-DOOR

A provocative challenge to Tampa's corporate executives

In the next few days, you'll be invited to drive and compare a new Imperial with your present car.

If you know luxury cars, you'll quickly note the understated elegance and greater spaciousness that Imperial offers; for only Imperial's body is both full-sized and unshared with lesser cars.

There's no end, really, to the discoveries you might make. The superior roadability; and the inside control for the outside mirror; power windows as standard equipment; even a brochure that tells you about the first 5-year/50,000-mile warranty* ever offered on a luxury car.

All we ask is that you challenge Imperial on every quality important to you. Our dealer has a car ready; just call him to reserve a time. Then, judge for yourself.

*Your authorized Imperial Dealer's Warranty against defects in material and workmanship on 1963 cars has been expanded to include parts replacement or repair, without charge for required parts or labor, for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, on the engine block, head and internal parts; transmission case and internal parts; torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints (excluding dust covers), rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings, provided the vehicle has been serviced at reasonable intervals according to the Imperial Certified Car Care schedules.

Legion Chief Praises U.S. Crisis Action

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Jan. 14 (AP)—James E. Powers, national commander of the American Legion, yesterday called the Cuban crisis new evidence that "when America stands up to communism, communism backs down."

Powers addressed a joint session of the Alabama American Legion and auxiliary mid-winter conference and called 1963 a year of challenge "not only to the American Legion but to America and to our free-world allies."

Powers, of Macon, Ga., said, "Although the legion does not believe military might should become the language of diplomacy, the Communists have demonstrated time and again that if opposing force is lacking, the will of the Kremlin will prevail."

House Group Said Backing Medicare Bill

MIAMI, Jan. 14 (UPI)—The House Ways and Means Committee will recommend a medical care for the aged bill during the next session of Congress, the executive director of the National Council of Senior Citizens said Sunday.

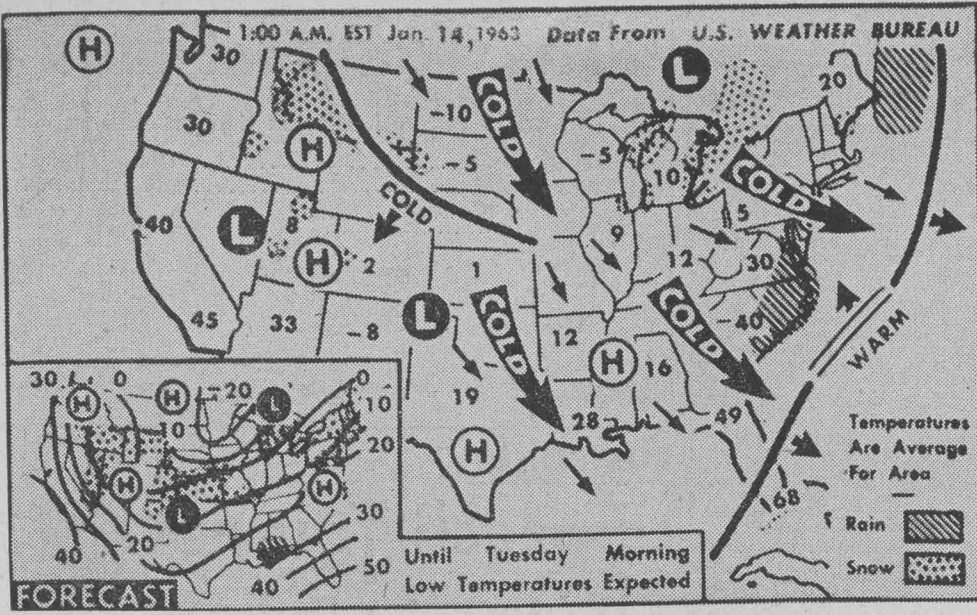

Dr. Blue Carstenson of Washington told about 1,600 persons in Miami's Bayfront Auditorium that the last elections had assured a Medicare victory in the Senate and had made prospects good in the House. Sunday's meeting here began a nationwide drive to secure public support for Medicare.

Hawaiian Surf Kills Two U.S. Servicemen

HONOLULU, Jan. 14 (AP)—An unusually high surf took the lives of two American servicemen here over the weekend.

They were Leon Abbott, a machinist's mate aboard the carrier USS Ticonderoga, and Army Spec. 4 William B. Land, 25, of Hopkinsville, Ky.

Abbott was taking pictures of the huge breakers Saturday when one bigger than the rest broke over his head and swept him from the shore into a sea-cliff cave.

A fast rising tide prevented Abbott from leaving the cave, and kept searchers from entering. His body was recovered yesterday.

Land was surfing Sunday when he was upended and swept out to sea.

His body was not recovered.

New Denture Invention For People With Both "Uppers" And "Lowers"

The big difference between natural teeth and dentures is in performance. Now this difference is smaller due to a new invention.

Natural teeth are held solidly in place by living connective tissue. Without connective tissue, even the most expensive dentures may slip and rock. Gums often get raw and sore. Constant rubbing may cause serious bone damage. Eating can be slow and difficult. You speak less clearly. You dare not laugh for fear of dentures dropping down.

Now chemists have developed an artificial connective membrane—FIXODENT. It connects dentures with gums and mouth surfaces. It is incredibly effective for both uppers and lowers.

FIXODENT's elastic membrane absorbs the shock of biting and chewing—protects gums from bruising

Maine, Florida Make Exchange Of Vacationers

KINGFIELD, Maine, Jan. 14 (AP)—Six Floridians took on Maine's highest skiable mountain yesterday as part of a unique exchange of vacationers between the Pine Tree and Sunshine States.

The Myles Johns family of Fort Lauderdale enjoyed 4,237-foot Sugarloaf Mountain in a steady snowfall while a dozen other Floridians were grounded in Boston.

On hand to meet the Johns were national radio-TV network representatives.

The Floridians will be here this week to enjoy all Maine has to offer in the way of winter fun, and a group of Mainers heads south next week.

The exchange is sponsored by the Bangor Daily News and the Fort Lauderdale News in cooperation with the Maine Department of Economic Development and the Florida Tourism Department.

and irritation. You eat faster—bite harder, without pain—and enjoy your food more. You may eat the hard-to-chew foods your body craves like steaks, fruits, vegetables—thus preventing "denture malnutrition," a problem of older people.

FIXODENT helps you speak easier without tiring—faster, more clearly, without slurring.

When dentures slip you unconsciously hold them in place with tongue and cheek muscles that tire and ache unbearably. FIXODENT helps prevent muscle strain.

The special pencil point dispenser enables you to spot FIXODENT with precision—no spilling—no oozing over. FIXODENT usually lasts round-the-clock, resists hot drinks, alcoholic beverages. Get FIXODENT at all drug counters. When mouth tissues change, see your dentist.

Jobless Rate Mars State of the Union

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK, Jan. 14 (AP)—President Kennedy could picture a happier state of the union to Congress and the nation today if unemployment would just come unstuck.

What to do about it will play a large part, expressed or under cover, in many of the proposals to come before this session of Congress—tax cutting, youth corps, trade relations with foreign competitors, government spending to spur the economy, worker retraining programs, labor and business regulatory laws.

THE UNEMPLOYMENT problem, both present and potential, touches many citizens. Those out of work and their families are hit the hardest. But many others worry lest they be next—in spite of the high totals of employment. This worry underlies most of the management-labor strife now under way, or threatening to break out later this year. Where unemployment is concentrated, whole communities suffer.

And many parents, although feeling secure in their own jobs, wonder what is in store for their children. The flood of teenagers and of those who will be finishing their education in their early twenties will grow steadily heavier in the next few years. The question is how to assure jobs for all as they swell the labor force.

RIGHT NOW the teenagers show up worst in the unemployment statistics. The latest Labor Department figures show that 12.7 per cent of those under 20, either boys or girls, who want to work can't find jobs. This compares with 4.7 per cent of adult men hunting work in vain and 5.2 per cent of adult women.

The chief reason is that, increasingly, the jobs to be filled call for high skills, long training or experience. The teenager who drops out of school often finds himself out of luck.

Many of the adults out of work also find that the demand is for skills they do not have. The age of space and electronic automation promises the trend will continue.

Through most of 1962 changes in unemployment totals were largely seasonal. And another seasonal upturn in joblessness is expected this month and February. Bad weather halts outdoor work. Those who found employment in stores and the postoffice in the December rush will be out of work again.

ALL OF THIS, although as predictable as the winter snows, will add to the pressure to do something to combat the sticky hard core of unemployment. Labor has advanced its schemes aimed at spreading the available work among more people and increasing the purchasing power of those in the lower income brackets. Business has put in its pitch for more profits to be used for investment—to come from higher prices or lower production costs, and tax cuts and less government regulation.

The dispute has crippled shipping operations from Maine to Texas since Dec. 23. Going into today's meeting, there was no indication from either the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) or the New York Shipping Association (NYSA) that prospects for a settlement had improved.

However, in New Orleans legal pressures were brought to bear against the union in an effort to end the walkout.

The New Orleans Steamship Association filed charges over the weekend with the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB), accusing the ILA locals in that city of refusing to bargain locally and in good faith.

Union officials in New Orleans denounced the move as an attempt to "prolong the dock strike."

The NLRB said it needed time to study the charges before making a decision.

Gas Plant Blasts Do $500,000 Damage

OPELIKA, Tex., Jan. 14 (AP)—Fire and explosions raged for more than three hours at a Lone Star Gas Co. plant near here last night, causing $500,000 damage.

Company officials who estimated the loss, said ice formed atop a cooling tower, broke free and hit the cooling coils. Escaping fumes blew up in an oil reclaimer. Several tanks of liquefied gas also exploded.

Four men working at the plant escaped injury.

AND MORE COLD ON THE WAY

Northern Europe Just Like Deep Freeze

LONDON, Jan. 14 (UP)—Northern Europe faced another day of snow and ice today. Arctic temperatures froze everything from the ocean to the ink in fountain pens.

Floods and landslides caused havoc in southern Europe. Adding to the misery of the cold, some of Britain's 128,000 electric workers staged a slowdown that threatened power supplies.

Lights dimmed in some parts of London last night and other sections were completely blacked out.

British newspapers predicted the government might start emergency electric rationing.

BELGIAN SCHOOL children who walked or cycled to school found the ink in their fountain pens frozen as temperatures dropped to 12 degrees.

Five ships off the southern coast of Sweden were trapped off shore by ice. A Danish freighter was ice bound 16 miles off the Swedish coast in the Baltic Sea. Another 25 ships were stuck in the Oresund strip between Denmark and Sweden.

Temperatures yesterday plunged to 27 degrees below zero in Finland. Some areas of West Germany recorded 18 below. The mercury dropped to three degrees just south of London.

WIND-WHIPPED snow and heavy rains caused extensive flooding in Morocco and Spain. More than 72,000 persons were homeless after the worst flood in north Africa history left water six feet deep in places.

U.S. military aircraft flew in drinking water and food and rescued stranded families in the Ghrab (west) section of Morocco.

Another 120 families fled rising water in Granada, Spain yesterday. Some 3,000 families now are homeless because of flooding.

Heavy snows fell in northern Italy but Rome basked in a comparatively tropical 57 degrees. In other parts of Italy land slides blocked roads. Heavy snows fell throughout Yugoslavia cutting off several villages in high drifts.

HEAVY RAINS caused land-slides in Greece that killed one person and leveled 100 homes in the village of Mikrohorio. Twelve persons still were buried in the rubble.

Landslides in Italy blocked roads and railways but no injuries were reported.
