Student Court Is Aim

By JERRY KAPLAN

Upon infraction of a University rule or regulation, students may discover themselves facing a student court with student justices presiding. This may be the case in the near future, according to Pat Brown, Chairman of the Student Judiciary Committee, which has as its purpose the establishment of a "Student Judiciary System, whereby students handle disciplinary problems that occur within the University."

Chairman Brown said that the Judiciary Committee will present proposals to the student body for their vote, "hopefully before the end of the current trimester."

Court System Is Aim

A major aim of the Committee is the establishment of a court system composed of a Superior Court and Lower Courts, explained Brown.

The Superior Court would have nine justices of which two would be faculty members and seven student members, with a senior or graduate student presiding as Supreme Justice. This court would handle appeal cases from the lower courts involving stealing, cheating, etc.

3 Lower Courts

There would be three lower courts with five student members each. An organizational court would handle cases concerning all affiliated organizations on campus, such as fraternities and clubs.

The Traffic Court would handle problems of campus traffic, rules, and fines. The Low Court would be concerned with on-campus and off-campus housing problems, and any other disciplinary action that would not fall within the jurisdiction of the other lower courts.

A Rules Booklet

Another aim of the Judiciary Committee, according to Chairman Brown, is the integration of all existing campus organizations into one concise booklet. This would alleviate the student problem of trying to become acquainted with rules of the many organizations on campus.

"The student would know just what is expected of him," said Brown.

The Judiciary Committee includes four faculty and seven student members. The faculty members are Dean Herbert J. Wunderlich, Dr. Robert J. Decker, Dr. Raymond A. Urbaneck, and Dr. Louise Sands.

The student members are Chairman Pat Brown, Secretary Pat Shea, Mike Shea, Paul Meissner, Charles Money, Ed Carlson, and Dave Jordan.

Brown explained that these proposals are under constant investigation and are subject to change. "The final decision, of course, will depend on student vote," said Brown.

Debate Team Wins Four In Tourney

The USF Debate Team has just returned from a successful debate and speech tournament at Florida State University in Tallahassee. Both the affirmative and negative teams were entered in the varsity division. Bob Erwin and Bob Helgeson went affirmative, and Bickel and Frank Martinus teamed up for the negative side of the question.

The affirmative team went 1 and 5 in debating a reportedly negative favored proposition.

The negative team went 3 to 3 with wins over Howard College, Tennessee State, and the University of Georgia, posting a total of 46 points out of a possible 50 in the win over the Georgia team.

Out of a possible team rating of 5-Superior for each debate, Martinus and Bickel posted four 4's and two 5's. On Friday night Bickel made one of the finalist speeches and took the third place certificate in After Dinner Speaking.

The first week of April, the team travels to Nashville, Tenn. for one week of debates and individual speaking events, as well as two days of congressional meetings in the state capitol.

Judo Club Wins Speech Award—Again

Professor Alma J. Saret presided last Thursday at the awards convocation honoring those students who earned distinction in the recently concluded Intramural Speech Contest. Dr. Saret presented individual awards to Clayton Kelser, radio speaking; Robert Helgeson, extemporaneous speaking; Steve Nall, manuscript speaking; and Phil Morron, oral interpretation of poetry. Nall and Morron read their prize-winning entries for the audience.

The Lew Saret Memorial Award, a sweepstakes trophy given to the organization earning most points in the intramural contest, was presented to the Judo Club by Mrs. Saret for the second straight year.

NAMED BEST DRESSED

Pollsters Call For Workers

The newly formed student polling committee is seeking 10 Human Behavior and 10 Sociology students to assist in its surveys. Volunteers from these specific areas are invited to leave their names at the SA office, US 218.

Students whose school work coincides with the work of the committee are eligible to receive academic credit for their polling activities. The actual arrangements for this credit will be made between the student and his instructor. The program has been approved by the deans of Basic Studies and Liberal Arts.

The polling committee will be broken down into three subcommittees including: the Design Committee, the Interview Committee and the Analysis Committee.

The Design Committee is responsible for phrasing questions and for determining the polling procedure. The Interview Committee will administer questions and record responses. The Analysis Committee will determine the readability of the information collected.

General topics for the initial poll are designed to determine student preference in entertainment and the desirability of a year book. It will also attempt to determine the student preference concerning the most beneficial hours which the university book store, library, snack bars and game rooms could maintain.

The polling committee realizes that some of these topics have been treated before, but it will attempt to achieve a higher degree of accuracy in results.

Scholarships, Loans, Recreation Among Aims of Funds Raised

By JOE MURPHY

The USF Foundation today launches a major drive aimed at increasing student memberships in the foundation before April 1, end of the current fiscal year.

Application forms will be available in the UC lobby throughout this week. The minimum contribution for student members is two dollars.

The foundation, which has been in operation for five years, has already recorded 400 new memberships this year, including 100 from among the faculty, according to Dale Purcell, director of development.

Support by Gifts
"The University of South Florida seeks private financial support by means of gifts made through the USF Foundation," he said.

"Such support, combined with appropriations from the State of Florida, will produce the quality program which is required, and will bring into being a distinguished university in an incredibly short time-span."

Scholarships and student loan funds are the objectives of a large share of the money raised in this drive. Plans for recreational facilities and new buildings not budgeted in state appropriations are also foundation goals.

Purcell said that "enthusiastic response to the membership drive will assist in the foundation's attempt to raise the 10 per cent matching fund for the $150,000 National Defense Education Act student loan funds being used at USF this year. Next year, we hope to raise $25,000 in order to get $250,000 in NDEA funds."

Students may direct their contributions to any of the following funds: Unrestricted Fund (to be used where the need is greatest), Scholarship Fund, Loan Fund, Library Enrichment Fund, and Research Fund. Donors will receive an automobile windshield decal identifying them as foundation members.

Under the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code, gifts to foundation of publicly supported colleges and universities qualify for up to 30 per cent current income tax deductions.

In addition to the student body and staff, parents and friends are invited to become members.

As An Investment

Couples interested in arrangements for future financial security may contribute property or funds now with the stipulation that the foundation manage or invest the properties or funds, paying income to the couple, and then to the survivor for life. The foundation may be named as residuary beneficiary of a trust which may be established either through a bank or directly. Testamentary gifts, designated either for specific purposes or unrestricted, are also solicited by the foundation.

Education, both private and public, must be given priority of the highest order, according to President John S. Allen. "The great public universities in the country have achieved distinction through a combination of state support and private gifts of citizens, families, and corporations," he said. "The times demand strong, highly trained men and women, great schools, and educated young people. Voluntary financial support of higher education is not alms, it is investment."

Hadassah Presents Scripture

By KAY KEATING

Wednesday, Feb. 27, Mrs. Samuel S. Fraiberg, library chairman of the Tampa Chapter of Hadassah, presented to the USF library a bound copy of the Holy Scriptures.

The volume had been inscribed by the members of Hadassah and a local professional group. This was the first presentation in a series which the Tampa Chapter will make to the university over the coming years. The current program includes a gift of 50 volumes to USF. This is the first continuing program of this type begun by Hadassah in the United States.

318,000 Members

Present also on Wednesday was Mrs. Moses P. Epstein, a past national president of the Hadassah group. The club is composed of 318,000 Jewish women all over the United States, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico. The major projects of the group, nationwide, are of an educational and medical nature. One of their purposes is, according to Mrs. Fraiberg, "to establish a bridge of learning between the United States and Israel." In connection with this aim, they sponsor an exchange of medical students from the United States with students at their new hospital and medical school in Jerusalem. Much clinical and research work is done there.

Teaching Others
Also in this hospital they train an African student "peace corps" whose members return to their respective countries to teach others.

The members of Hadassah have brought to the United States 100,000 children from 62 countries. These children were orphaned and homeless; now they are cared for by the group.

The organization was founded in 1912 by a teacher, Henrietta Swold, in Baltimore to further these altruistic aims.

Little Man on Campus

Drilling Shows No Problem

Engineers last week continued an underground probe here in a move to determine a weight safety factor before construction of new buildings gets underway. This preliminary step is taken with all new construction on campus.

It had been suspected earlier that the existence of rock formations and underground caverns might make problems for construction on campus.

Excavations to date have uncovered no obstacles to construction and it is believed that no significant weight factor exists on the campus.

Work will begin on new two-story residence halls in the fall. The buildings will have the same basic design as other campus buildings.

Architect Mag. Features USF

The University of South Florida campus is featured in the 1963 edition of Florida Architecture - Architecture International, annual publication devoted to architecture, interior design and allied arts in Florida.

The magazine devotes 10 pages to pictures and descriptions of USF buildings, including a full page color picture of the lobby of the University Library.

"As a result of this careful planning and coordination, the long range construction program is resulting in one of the most distinctive college campuses in the nation," the magazine said of USF.

The University of South Florida and the new library building at the University of Miami are the only educational facilities covered in the issue.

'Pen Pals' Wanted By Syrians

Dr. Anthony W. Zaitz of the USF speech program is now teaching in Syria at the University of Damascus. In his recent correspondence with George Ellsworth, a USF student, he mentioned the need for American students to correspond on a pen-pal basis with the Syrian students, giving them a more solid footing in English.

Ellsworth contacted the Campus Edition in order to state an open invitation to students who would be genuinely desirous of such correspondence.

"We don't want someone to start writing and then slack off," said Ellsworth. "This would leave a bad impression with the Syrian students."

Ellsworth can be contacted via the campus mail at UC box 2363. He says that the mail takes about a week to get to him from Syria and he is not certain when he will begin receiving the first letters from Dr. Zaitz, who will send them all in a packet.

New York, N. Y. (Special) — The first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing state-

While Others Talk, Merchants Tackle Revitalization Problem

By LEONARD BROWN
Times Staff Writer

While leading citizens, city officials and professional planners are groping with Plant City's downtown revitalization problem, a few merchants have quietly embarked on their own grassroots revitalization program.

The old marquee has been removed from White's Central Pharmacy at Reynolds and Collins Streets, and will be replaced with a redesigned one to match that of Hooker's Department Store at the other end of the Collins Street block. The front of Barker's Dry Goods Store, adjacent to Whites, is being remodeled.

A major remodeling job has almost been completed at Hooker's, where a mezzanine has been created, the interior refurbished, and the front revamped.

Scaffolding has been removed from Edfield's Appliances at Evers Street and Drane Street South, revealing a large area where brick has been knocked out and a display window will be put in. Owner Jay Edfield said he is also remodeling the interior, installing a new lighting system and ceiling.

In the Drane Street display window is a poster that reads: "Another Sign of Progress. We're on the Go in Plant City."

The Hotel Plant is also sprucing up in a big way, with a waterproofing and exterior paint job under way.

COUNTY AND STATE officials will get an earful of what Brandon hopes and expects from them at the annual Presidents' Roundtable dinner meeting at Harris' Restaurant in Brandon Wednesday. It starts at 6:30 p.m.

THE BRANDON Chamber of Commerce will hear a presentation on the proposed University of Tampa Foundation at the chamber's regular monthly meeting Thursday, at 11:30 a.m. at Harris' Restaurant. Speaker will be Colby Armstrong, vice president of Merchants Association of Greater Tampa.

THE Plant City Police Department is ready with some hospitality for the "visiting firemen" Tampa, county, state and railroad law enforcement men—due in the city tomorrow to help out with the Hillsborough County Fair's grand parade.

Sgt. Gerald Thompson said doughnuts, cookies, coffee and soft drinks will be served to the "reinforcements," who will include 15 Tampa policemen.

THE BIG TURNOUT of Plant City tourists for the city's games, dancing and barbecue celebration in their honor Wednesday sent East Hillsborough County Chamber of Commerce officials to the files for a check on this season's tourist activity.

They found that since Nov. 1, there have been 1,257 mail inquiries from persons interested in visiting the city, and 260 queries by visitors to the chamber.

There were approximately 600 winter visitors who showed up for the celebration, and chamber manager Dick Prewitt said: "This has been, by far, the best tourist year Plant City has ever experienced."

Terrace Seeks Plumbing Inspector

TEMPLE TERRACE — This city's sewer and water improvement system is calling for appointment of a plumbing inspector for the first time in its history.

County commissioners have authorized preparation of a resolution to authorize the city to employ a plumbing inspector and to make inspections of plumbing work.

In the meantime the city attorney is preparing an emergency ordinance to provide for the appointment of a plumbing inspector and for the establishment of a $3 fee for issuance of a plumbing permit to be paid by the property owner.

The first hookups to the sewer system are expected to be made in the next two weeks in the southside of the city.

Until a plumbing inspector is appointed, the resident engineer for the sewer project, Andrew Hall, is expected to make the inspections of plumbing hookups.

Up to the present, Temple Terrace has relied on the county for this service. Plumbing permits have been secured from the county courthouse, and inspectors would schedule a time for their approval runs.

The crash occurred early Saturday in an isolated corner of the Port Charlotte Housing development.

The crash was located Sunday after a search by Civil Air Patrol planes.

Negro Injured In Explosion On Trawler

An explosion in the galley of a docked Hookers Point shrimp boat has injured a 34-year-old Tampa Negro.

John H. McIver, 1308 Hookers Point, was reported in fair condition at Clara Frye Hospital suffering from burns. He was in the galley of the trawler "Night Hawk" when a cook stove exploded early Sunday.

The exterior of the trawler was undamaged, but the interior of the cabin and galley were scorched.

New Denture Invention
For people with both "uppers" and "lowers"

The big difference between natural teeth and dentures is in performance. Now this difference is smaller due to a new invention. Natural teeth are held solidly in place by living connective tissue. Without connective tissue, even the most expensive dentures may slip and rock. Gums often get raw and sore. Constant rubbing may cause serious bone damage. Eating can be slow and difficult. You speak less clearly. You dare not laugh for fear of dentures dropping down.

Now chemists have developed an artificial connective membrane—FIXODENT. It connects dentures with gums and mouth surfaces. It is incredibly effective for both uppers and lowers.

FIXODENT's elastic membrane absorbs the shock of biting and chewing—protects gums from bruising and irritation. You eat faster—bite harder, without pain—and enjoy your food more. You may eat the hard-to-chew foods your body craves like steaks, fruits, vegetables—thus preventing "denture malnutrition," a problem of older people.

FIXODENT helps you speak easier without tiring—faster, more clearly, without slurring.

When dentures slip you unconsciously hold them in place with tongue and cheek muscles that tire and ache unbearably. FIXODENT helps prevent muscle strain.

The special pencil point dispenser enables you to spot FIXODENT with precision—no spilling—no oozing over. FIXODENT usually lasts round-the-clock, resists hot drinks, alcoholic beverages. Get FIXODENT at all drug counters. When mouth tissues change, see your dentist.
