The new University Student Center is now 90 percent complete as work crews from Creative Contractors finish final details on USFSP's newest facility.

Financed almost entirely through special fees sought and supported by students, the center will include a dining hall, meeting rooms, a game room and six floors of residential housing for nearly 200 students. When completed, the student tower will bring the number of residential students on campus to about 550 and become a central gathering place for the campus.

The first students move in Aug. 25. Plans are underway for an official unveiling on Sept. 6. And USFSP Celebrates! will be held on Sept. 20 in the second-floor ballroom. The event will honor Gus Stavros, a member of the Florida Board of Governors and longtime supporter of USFSP, and raise money for the College of Business.
