Brazil with Michael Palin

Brazil is the fifth largest country in the world, with more than 192 million people calling this land their home. Taking up over half of South America, Brazil is a mix of races, religions, sophistication, wealth, poverty and unexplored wilderness. It's now considered one of the rising global powers, with vast natural resources, a burgeoning industrial base and a strong currency. In this series, Michael Palin visits Brazil for the very first time, traveling from the lost world of Amazonia to the buzzing metropolis of Rio de Janeiro, to meet the people and visit the places that shape this nation. Airs Wednesdays, 8 p.m., beginning June 25.
