Wild West with Ray Mears

Ray Mears explores how the awe-inspiring landscape of North America shaped the story of the Wild West. As Mears travels through each landscape, we discover how extraordinary topography, extreme weather, wild animals and ecology presented both great opportunity and great challenges for Native Americans, fur traders, homesteaders, gold miners, cowboys and lawmen of the young United States of America.

Airs Wednesdays at 8 p.m.,
beginning October 15

NOVA “Vaccines – Calling the Shots” Diseases that were largely eradicated 40 years ago are returning as parents across the world are choosing to skip their children’s shots. This program looks at the science behind vaccinations, tracks epidemics, and investigates the human costs of opting out. Airs Sunday, October 5, 8 p.m.

Islands Without Cars This six-part travel series offers a whimsical look at life without cars, buses or trains on islands off the coasts of Greece, Ireland, Italy, Croatia and France where inhabitants travel and transport goods by donkey, bicycle and other non-motorized vehicles. Airs Mondays, 9:30 p.m., beginning October 20.

Penguins: A Spy in the Huddle

A NATURE SPECIAL PRESENTATION

For nearly a year, 50 animatronic cameras disguised as realistic life-size penguins infiltrated penguin colonies to record the tough challenges penguins face from the moment they emerge from the sea to raising their chicks and finally returning to the water. The intimate, emotional and sometimes amusing behavior of nature's most devoted parents bringing up their young against the most extraordinary odds is revealed as never before. Airs Thursday, October 30, 8-11 p.m.
