A lot to learn!

As part of WUSF's ongoing commitment to education, we've partnered with public television stations statewide to offer Florida PBS LearningMedia to educators and families in our community. Florida PBS LearningMedia is the destination for high-quality, trusted digital content and solutions that transform learning and fuel student engagement. This free service is available to Florida educators through the support of the state legislature which ensures that learning environments across the Sunshine State have access to the library's collection of more than 100,000 standards-aligned resources. Florida PBS LearningMedia provides a robust digital content library, productivity tools for educators, a student learning portal and much more. For information, contact WUSF's Community Engagement Coordinator Beth Baker at 813-905-6923 or go online to florida.pbslearningmedia.org.

PBS Learning Media is one of my "go-to" sites for standards-based resources for my students.

It's a goldmine of resources for all subject areas! I find the site extremely user-friendly and appreciate that new resources are added regularly. PBS Learning Media is a great tool for teachers to use to enhance students' learning experiences."
