dear friends

For 51 years, WUSF TV has been your friend and companion, bringing the world into your living room. Our original mission, to educate, inspire and enrich, still animates WUSF's programming and activities today.

In February, we let you know that the station had been sold in the FCC spectrum auction, and now we know that the final sign-off for WUSF TV will be midnight, October 15, 2017.

This was a difficult decision for the University of South Florida, which owns the license for the TV station. USF is aligning resources to more closely fit its mission and focus. The proceeds from this sale will further advance USF's initiatives.

We know you have a lot of questions about the future; mostly where will your favorite programs go? We're fortunate that WEDU will be broadcasting Create and PBS Kids and picking up many other favorites. For an exact listing contact WEDU at WEDU.org, or (813) 254-9338.

WUSF Public Media will continue to exist. WUSF 89.7, your NPR station, will continue to broadcast news, jazz and weekend favorites such as "Wait Wait, Don't Tell Me." Classical WSMR 89.1 & 103.9 will continue to bring you the best classical music on the radio. Our commitment to serving you with content that meets our original mission continues. You can see all that we have to offer at WUSF.org.

Meanwhile, the WUSF TV studios will be humming with video production projects, and with more students than ever learning more about media and technology, all guided by WUSF professionals.

Thank you for your years of personal support. Your letters and calls extolling the virtues of your favorite programs have meant so much to us. You are reading this letter because you are among our strongest supporters. We honor that, and we hope you will continue to support the mission of WUSF Public Media. For more information refer to our website, or call 888-724-0110.

With gratitude,
JoAnn Urofsky
