GRADUATION CELEBRATION 1974 RAP-UP

by Chairman of the '74 Committee

It was exciting! It was wonderful! It was a night of nights: the ladies lovely in their fancy clothes, the gentleman handsome and debonair. Could these be the same clods that you knew from school? Yes, but they had undergone a magical transformation. It was the Graduation Celebration '74!

As predicted, the Graduation Celebration was a huge success. It was held in the Crystal Ballroom of the Fort Harrison Hotel on June 7th. Set-ups were ready and waiting at 6 PM and earlycomers had plenty of time to fix themselves a cool, refreshing drink before dinner. By 7:00 PM, dinner time, the party was in full swing. The buffet was a delight to behold and even more of a delight to eat. Some hungry students were observed sneaking up for thirds of ham, turkey, cheese, rolls, desserts, and assorted vegetables and salads.

The ceremonial portion of the evening began (almost on time) at 8:30 PM. Dan Beeman, Dean Les Tuttle, and Professor Bob Hall vied with each other for the honor of making the shortest speech. No winner was declared, but the audience appreciated it all. The audience also appreciated the positive, congratulatory tone of the speeches. They were a boon to the evening.

Also included in this ceremonial portion of the evening was the awarding of certificates to graduating seniors and the presentation of "Outstanding Student Leader" awards to Ruthann Bragg, Ann Fierstos, Dennis Perkinson, Chuck Silvers, Craig Smith, Theodore (Ted) Smith, Lamar Sprouse, and Joanne Wilson.

After the ceremony was concluded, the partying began in earnest. Easy listening and listening and dancing music was provided by "Light Rein", and students and faculty alike filled the dance floor. The liquid refreshment was flowing; everyone was relaxed and ready to have a good time. And that's exactly what was had by all!

MANY THANKS

... to those who helped make the Graduation Celebration '74 possible

Loretta Lovely Returns

Is it true that Dean Tuttle has taken dancing lessons at Arthur Murray's?

Ask Judy Arunski about the book she's writing.

We understand that Bill Mitchell has been studying the dictionary to learn about proper pronunciations.

Did Mr. Brames miss even one dance at the Graduation Celebration?

It's true: Craig Smith would rather play with 10-year old children than attend a grown-up function. (It makes him feel younger.)

Lifeguard Mike should use rubber gloves while cleaning the pool.

Question often asked: How the heck does Ted Wyman get his care inside the fence next to the pool?
Answer: It's a trick. He does it with mirrors.

How many Psych clubbers (complete with potato salad, blankets, & beer) can fit into a tent during a cloudburst? Quite a few, we hear.

Comment frequently uttered to Mark Butson, "You scare me." Could it be his looks?

Dan Beeman may have to be shackled to his desk during working hours. His brand new, big, beautiful sailboat has arrived. Ask him for a ride!

The job board sure has been a busy place recently. Good luck grads - hope you find the jobs you want.

Congrats, Chuck & Linda Silvers.
