CULTURE IS ALL AROUND US
Dr. A. J. Watkins, associate professor of music, points out to Marlene Hennis, student, just a few of the offerings of the City Center Ballet of Tampa and the Tampa Theatrical Society.

Intramural Participation Set for Second Semester

The intramural program at USF is now underway and facilities for a great variety of sports will be here by the second semester. These sports will include table tennis, billiards, bridge, golf, basketball, and bowling.

Miss Mercedes Fernandez and Richard D. Hunter, who are in charge of setting up the bowling leagues, have already started plans rolling with a steering committee meeting held on Oct. 6. The questionnaires which the students filled out were turned over to them. The directors' plans also called for the election of officers for the intramural program and the arrangement of times when these leagues are to meet.

Most of the students filling out the questionnaire showed a great interest in bowling in the mixed league. Faculty members have also shown interest in the bowling program and are to meet on Tuesday, Oct. 18, at 7:30 p.m. at Florida Lanes.

A decision on the use of trophies was not made. Anyone wanting to fill out a questionnaire should consult their physical education instructor.

Dad Honored

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Cecil A. Ray, a Baptist missions superintendent, who has invested an array of mechanical equipment to brighten his paralyzed daughter's life, including a motor-powered chair, rocking beds, mechanical desks, chairs and bathing equipment, has been named "1960 Texas Baptist Father of the Year."

CAMPUS ROUNDUP

Jobs for Worthy Students Major Goal of Personnel

The Personnel Service of the University of South Florida has one major goal — a job for every student who needs one.

On-campus jobs include: office assistant in the college most suited to the student's desired vocation, laboratory assistant in classes of the vocational field, cafeteria worker, bookstore cashier or assistant, and assistant to the information clerk.

Future job openings might be those of personnel assistant and student guide for campus tours through the information center.

Off-campus jobs are being sought by the Personnel Service through letters to Tampa's major firms, industries, hotels, and motels, with on-the-job training in mind.

Jack A. Chambers, director of personnel services, declared, "Any students who want a job may come in and fill out an application and take the steps necessary to secure approval for employment through the Dean of Student Affairs."

Students are placed in the jobs for which they are best suited by means of information from application blanks, interviews, and vocational preference. To date, 150 students have on-campus jobs and another 35 have jobs off campus.

St. Leo Junior College — Flooded highway conditions between Dade City and St. Leo has forced an extended period of registration for students for the fall semester. Deadline for registration has been extended to 8 p.m., Oct. 18, according to Dr. John I. Leonard, president.

Gibbs Junior College — Willie Bailey, Tampa freshman, won the run-off election for presidency to climax fall political activity on the St. Petersburg campus.

Florida State University — Open circuit educational television became a reality at FSU recently with the opening of WFSU-TV, Channel 11. The new station will be on the air for 31 hours of classroom and general broadcasting each week.

University of Florida — Sweeping changes in class schedules are under consideration on this Gainesville campus by UF President J. Wayne Reitz. Three alternatives are being considered: 1. Stagger class hours. Instead of an 8:40 Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, it would run Monday, 8:40, Wednesday, 1:40, and perhaps Friday, 7:40 p.m. 2. Run two 75-minute periods instead of three 50-minute periods. 3. Expand the night school class schedules to handle more day students.

Jacksonville University — Approximately 580 students have registered for night classes for the present semester. An "Over 25" club is being formed for adult students in the night classes.

University of Miami — Vance Packard, author of "The Status Seekers," and other best sellers of recent years lectured to standing-room-only crowd on "The Changing Character of American People."

Palm Beach Junior College — Students are planning to produce "A Streetcar Named Desire." Leads have been selected and other trysts continue.

Gulf Coast Junior College — Two new programs have been installed on this Panama City campus this fall: Technology and Management. Both programs are open to both day and evening students.

Manatee Junior College — Manatee Junior College dedication program plans are currently under way for the October 30 ceremonies. With the MJC campus hosting city and state dignitaries, a luncheon in the Student Union building will start the day's activities.

On October 18, tests will be given for those students interested in scholarship loans up to $500. Also students will vie for General Scholarship of State Nursing.

Prof. Watkins, Pianist, To Entertain Thursday

Two Recitals Planned For Campus Audience

By MARLENE HENNIS
Dr. Armin J. Watkins, associate professor of music at the University of South Florida, will present a piano recital in the University of South Florida science lecture demonstration auditorium, Thursday, Oct. 20, 1960. The morning performance will be at 11 a.m. and the evening performance will be at 8:30 p.m. Music in the program will consist of various kinds of keyboard music and will cover a span of approximately 250 years.

Dr. Watkins received his bachelor of music in piano and violin from Yale University in 1953. While at Yale he became the first person in the history of the University to gain the degree Bachelor of Music in performance in both violin and piano during the same year. At this time he was studying under Joseph Juchs and Bruce Simonds and later he became Master of Music under Simonds' tuition.

Variety of Clubs Organized on Campus

Students at the University of South Florida who have a particular talent or interest in a specialized field and who would like to locate others with the same interests will be pleased to find that many clubs for this purpose have already been organized.

In the field of science, students who wish to experiment with rockets and learn more about aeronautics, should contact James Bartlett, phone 2-7441, who is organizing a club for this purpose.

Mr. Bartlett is also interested in forming a sports car club. The members of this club will learn about mechanics, as well as racing.

A sailing club with Charles P. Jones, phone WE 5-9143, as initiator, is looking for members. Dr. Yates will be the sponsor. This group will learn to sail, and perhaps construct their own boats.

Persons interested in a chess club, whether accomplished players or beginners, should leave word in the game room in the basement of the University Center.

Religious groups will be organized on campus at first in the order of preference indicated by the students on the questionnaires filled out during orientation, and from there the students will take over.

The business office has agreed to do all of the bookkeeping for all of these groups. This will make the job of the treasurer of each club much easier, and is very much appreciated.

In the near future there will be a calendar for use of the student center. There will also be a form which will simplify time allocation of free periods. A club may reserve a time in one easy step by filling out this form.

All men and women veterans who wish to form a "Veteran's Club" leave your name with the Information Booth in the University Center. Club requirements—at least two years active service.

Anyone interested in helping to form a Judo Club for University students, either to improve the skill of the art or to learn fundamentals, should contact John Fredley, WE 8-2101 after 6 p.m. Membership will be limited to male students.

GALLUPING POLL

Students Express Opinions

A "Galluping Poll" has been established here at the university to give students a chance to express their opinions through the media of statistics.

Leonard Jones and Julian Piper, the originators of the poll, chose students at random to answer questions on the subject of fraternities, sororities and club activities.

The results of the survey showed:

|---|-----|
| Approve of such activities on campus | 85% |
| Disapprove of such activities on campus | 10% |
| No opinion | 5% |

Of those asked which year they would prefer to see these organizations established on campus:

|-------------------------------|-----|
| Preferred first year | 31% |
| Preferred second year | 49% |
| Preferred third year or later | 9% |
| No opinion | 11% |

These figures seem to indicate that students are in favor of the establishment of social organizations in the second year. The likelihood of national fraternities and sororities being formed on campus seems improbable at this time, since the university of South Florida hasn't been established long enough to become an accredited school. Accreditation does not go into effect at USF until the charter class graduates in June of 1964.

Dr. Howard Johnshoy, dean of student affairs, stated his confidence in the student body to form organizations other than those that require full accreditation during the first four years.

Coming Soon
A student poll concerning presidential preferences will begin within the next week.

Met-Star Receives Ovation

The performance of Contralto Mary MacKenzie on campus last Wednesday was received by a standing ovation during both performances. The ovation was well deserved.

Miss MacKenzie returned for encores at both performances, which were held in the Science Auditorium, S-100, at 11 a.m. and 8:30 p.m.

The concert included an array of songs from German, French, and Italian arias and Scottish and American Folk songs.

Miss MacKenzie, who is scheduled to play the part of Sesuki in Madame Butterfly and Clecha in Gliacoda with the Metropolitan Opera this winter, displayed a warm, informal manner which was captivating to the audience of USF students and guests.

The presentation of a group of American and Scottish folk songs captured the attention and hearts of the audience. Two of these selections in particular, the beautiful Kentucky folk song, "Black is the Color of My True Love's Hair," and a bouncy Scottish ballad, "O Whistle and I'll Come to You My Lad," were outstanding.

The well-known contralto commented on the excellent acoustics of the Science Auditorium for singing and said she is looking forward to a return engagement.

New Bus Schedule Now Rolling

Tampa Transit's South Florida bus line, in operation less than a month, today put into effect a revised schedule. The buses now arrive on campus 10 minutes before the hour and hold over for 15 minutes, leaving for downtown Tampa at five after.

"We hope this attempt at a more suitable schedule will be successful," a bus company official stated, "for our purpose is to provide the most complete service possible."

A slight change in routing has been installed to aid the brewery workers, but it will have little effect on the students.

There will be six runs a day, with the first leaving Florida Avenue and Twigg Street for the campus at 7 a.m. The last bus leaves the campus at 9:05 p.m., thus accommodating those attending late classes.

| A complete listing of scheduled runs follows: | | |
|---|------------|------------|
| Leaves | Arrives | Leaves |
| Town | Campus | Campus |
| 7:00 a.m. | 7:50 a.m. | 8:05 a.m. |
| 9:00 a.m. | 9:50 a.m. | 10:05 a.m. |
| 12:00 Noon | 12:50 p.m. | 4:10 p.m. |
| 3:00 p.m. | 3:50 p.m. | 4:10 p.m. |
| 5:10 p.m. | 5:50 p.m. | 6:05 p.m. |
| 8:00 p.m. | 8:50 p.m. | 9:05 p.m. |

NOW FOR A GOOD CLEAR NIGHT

WEST RETALIATES

Travel Ban Keeps East Germans Home

BERLIN, Oct. 17 (AP)—Dozens of East German sportsmen, actors, singers and trade officials have been kept from traveling to Western countries by the month-old allied ban in retaliation for a Red squeeze on Berlin.

An unknown number of East Germans who wanted to travel west have also had to stay home. The ban was imposed Sept. 12, by the United States, Britain and France in retaliation against Communist interference with travel to Berlin and between the two parts of the divided city.

Won't Issue Documents
The Western allies refused to issue temporary travel documents. These resemble passports in which visas for NATO nations can be stamped. NATO countries do not recognize the legality of the Communist regime and therefore will not accept its passports.

The West German government gives passports to anyone born on German territory, but has stopped issuing them to East Germans so long as the allied ban is in force.

The number of documents issued before the ban varied seasonally, but the annual total was nearly 20,000. Now very few—mainly on compassionate grounds—are handed out.

May Backfire
Does the measure hurt the East German regime? Certainly a lot of individuals have been inconvenienced. But the convenience of the individual is about the last thing to worry a totalitarian regime.

Some officials from smaller countries believe the West is harming its own interests. They argue many victims of the ban are East Germans friendly toward the West.

Whether the allies can justify complaints about Red interference with free travel if they adopt the same tactics.

Engineers Go to England
Six engineers from East Germany's state-run Leuna chemical plant have been allowed to go to England because their help was needed for the British Imperial Chemical Industries firm to fulfill a big order for East Germany, diplomatic sources reported.

Ten East German officials who wanted to go to Norway for the opening of trade fairs were denied admission.

Denmark also put out the unwelcome sign and said this affected the many East German officials who frequently went there to drum up trade.

The effect of the ban is most noticeable in sports.

A champion volleyball team from Leipzig was unable to go to The Netherlands. Two water polo squads had to cancel trips to Belgium. East Germans were unable to make planned appearances at a number of post-Olympic meets.

East Germans don't need allied documents to go to neutral countries such as Sweden. But even so, the West Germans can make difficulties. This week they turned back at the Bavarian border 26 members of a Leipzig dancing group heading for Austria. A similar thing happened last month when a theater group was stopped at the West German border in the sight of their destination, the Swiss city of Basle.

PLANE SUSPENDED FROM HOUSE
Fire department and sheriff's officials work to free a plane which snagged on this house shortly after takeoff. Four occupants of the plane were injured when the right landing gear caught on the roof. The thin lines leading off to the left are cables attached to wrecking equipment which pulled the plane free shortly after this picture was taken.

Finch-Tregoff Murder Trial in 17th Week

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17 (UPI)—The second Finch-Tregoff murder trial moved into its 17th week today with the jury expected to begin life and death deliberations by Wednesday.

Co-prosecutor Clifford Crail said he expected to complete summation of the state's case tomorrow by demanding the death penalty for Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 43, and his paramour Carole Tregoff, 23.

Crail's partner, Joseph Powers, and an attorney for each of the lovers already have finished summarizing for the jury of 11 women and one man the testimony of 98 persons concerning events leading up to the death of Finch's wife, Barbara, 33.

The state charges the once-wealthy surgeon and his mistress plotted and carried out the July 18, 1959, gunshot slaying for the dual motives of love and money.

Crail said in his summation he believed Finch and Carole manufactured the tale they told of driving to the Finch home the fatal night merely to persuade Mrs. Finch to divorce the surgeon without scandal.

Mrs. Finch had a divorce suit pending in which she named Carole—Finch's one-time medical receptionist—as correspondent in the suit. She also sought all of his $750,000 fortune.

Crail said he believed the lovers quickly worked out a story to explain their presence at the home after their "murder plot" went awry.

Crail charged that Finch then deliberately shot his wife in the back. Finch claimed the shooting was accidental.

The first trial jury was unable to unanimously agree with either the state or defense and the trial ended in a hung jury March 12.

Funeral services were held today in the Wilson-Sammon Funeral Chapel for Robert Floureny Nunez, who was the oldest white man citizen of Tampa.

Mr. Nunez died Saturday at 93. Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Ellen Nunez; three sons, Robert F. Nunez, South Miami; John H. Nunez, Nicholas, and Paul L. Nunez, St. Petersburg; one daughter, Mrs. Mary Ten Eick, Tampa; several grandchildren and several great-grandchildren.

Born in Tampa on Jan. 31, 1867, Mr. Nunez for many years operated a store in Tampa at Franklin and Washington Sts.

Province Split
NEW YORK (AP)—The statewide New York province of the Society order of Jesuits, has been divided into two administrative provinces: the New York province, covering eastern and downstate New York, and the Buffalo province, covering upper and western New York.
