Kennedy's Cabinet Predicted

By BILL BLALOCK JR.
"Both political parties won something in the last presidential election," said Roscoe Drummond, noted Washington columnist, in a talk given before an overflow audience here last Tuesday.

"The Democrats won the election, but the Republicans have the opportunity of running an even more popular Richard Nixon in 1964," Drummond said.

Drummond said that Nixon would probably run again because of the closeness of the popular vote in the last election, and that Nixon would be able to use Kennedy's arguments about the Cuban situation and tax reduction against him in the next election.

Even though the Democrats won the election and hold the majority in Congress, the Republicans won more seats than they held in the previous session and have formed an influential conservative coalition in the House, the columnist said.

Drummond commented on the possibility of Republicans being given positions on the cabinet but ruled out the possibility of Nixon receiving or accepting such a post.

Predicts Cabinet
Drummond mentioned David Bruce as the most likely person for Secretary of State and doubted if any of the previously mentioned candidates for that post, such as Adlai Stevenson or Chester Bowles, would be accepted.

Drummond said that Kennedy's administration would be similar to that of the Roosevelt's and that he (Kennedy) would be a resourceful as well as dynamic president, who would not allow the summit conference to be taken over as a propaganda device for the Communists.

The Kennedy administration will, according to Drummond, make changes such as boosting military outlays, overhauling foreign aid and increasing federal aid for education by increasing teachers' salaries and providing scholarships for bright students.

The administration, Drummond said, will also attempt to increase public housing, strengthen minority voting rights, especially that of the Negro, and to increase civil rights through presidential support rather than through the Judicial Branch.

Upon completion of his talk, Drummond answered questions from the audience on many aspects of the government and problems. In conclusion, a no-host, carry-your-own-tray luncheon was held for those wishing to meet Drummond.

Student Representatives To Hold Highest Positions

More than 20 students have submitted petitions to run for Student Representative on the University Senate, which is the top legislative body of the whole university according to Howard G. Johnson, dean of student affairs.

The University Senate is composed of 30 members of the faculty, elected by other faculty members, nine ex-officio officers from the administrative personnel and five students elected by the students. The senate is presided over by University President John S. Allen.

Five To Be Elected
The five students who receive the most votes will be elected to the senate. All students running for the senate may place one poster in each building. Dean Johnson will hold a meeting tomorrow at 10 a.m. in Rm. 1052 of the Administration Building to tell the prospective students running for the senate what the job entails.

"If any student is under the impression that the senators will be the officers elected to govern the student body, they are mistaken," Dean Johnson stated.

The steering committee is in charge of drawing up a draft of the school constitution which includes the election of the student body officers. The draft would have to be ratified by the student body and then an election would be held for the student officers.

Every member of the senate will have one vote on all matters pertaining to the university.

Race Starts Jan. 3
Students participating in the senatorial race will start campaigning Jan. 3, the student body will elect the five senators Jan. 6, and the election returns will be known Jan. 9.

After the signing of a petition for student senator, the campaign has just begun. The next step entails the checking of petitions by members of the Steering Council to see if any fraudulent signatures are present.

After the checking of petitions, a briefing council is to be conducted by Dean Johnson to familiarize the candidates with the duties of the office they are seeking.

On the morning of Jan. 3, the campaign commences with posters and banners being displayed in all areas of the school. One of the highlights of the campaign will be the huge bonfire which will be held the evening of Jan. 3. The bonfire will be on the hill directly across from the University Center. The bonfire is to begin at 7 p.m. and is expected to last until 9 p.m.

Candidates To Speak
The object of the bonfire is to present the candidates for senators to the students, and allow each candidate approximately one to 1½ minutes for a speech. Not only will the senators be presented but a possible traditional way of campaigning may be "sparked" into existence by the fire.

After four days of strenuous campaigning, the real core of the election becomes evident, the students vote.

With polling stations located in all buildings, the students will be given an opportunity to cast their ballot for five candidates. To vote, it is necessary to present your student ID card and also a full-time student, carrying 12 or more hours.

The election will be by a plurality vote, with the top five candidates being elected senators to represent the students' interest in administrative affairs.

USF 'CHRISTMAS' WILL BE WEDNESDAY

President Allen To Set Tradition

By MARLENE HENNIS
President John S. Allen will give a Christmas message to the students, faculty, and staff of the University of South Florida at 2 p.m., Wednesday, in the patio of the Administration Building.

The message, "Christmas on Campus 1960," to be given by Dr. Allen, is a presidential tradition throughout the nation, along with flipping the switch for the lighting of the Christmas tree.

Tree in Pool
The Christmas tree for this year will be placed in the reflection pool in the Administration Building courtyard. The tree will remain there throughout the holidays. However, the university plans to obtain a large live tree which will be planted on the south side of the Administration Building, on the outer edge of the sidewalk, and it will become the official USF Christmas tree and used in all future years.

The University Choir, under the direction of R. Wayne Hugoboom, associate professor of music, will make its first appearance on campus. The program will begin with "Cantate Domino" (Sing Unto the Lord) by Pitani and Reese's "Mary Had a Baby." Robert Gower will be at the organ.

Dr. Allen will be introduced by Roberta Hanson, president of the Student Arts Council. After Dr. Allen's message, the choir will sing "How Far Is It to Bethlehem?" by Shaw and "Jingle Bells" arranged by Ray Charles.

Audience to Sing
"Christmas on Campus 1960" will close with the audience joining the University Choir in singing carols.

The Student Arts Council, a newly formed student group, has charge of all arrangements and decorations for this event, which is sponsored by the EVENTS committee. The Christmas tree will be decorated by the members of the Student Arts Council on Tuesday evening.

All university employees are invited to attend the "Christmas on Campus 1960" and Jack A. Chambers, director of personnel services, has sent out a notice saying, "Offices may be closed during this period."

Recreational Facilities Close Dec. 10

The recreation room, along with other recreational facilities of the University Center, will not be open during the Christmas holidays. The library, however, will be open.

The holiday period begins Dec. 10, and the girls who reside in the dorms will be going home for the holiday vacation. The faculty has been asked to stay at the university through Dec. 16.

Classes will resume Jan. 3, and the University Center will then be open for regular recreational activities.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Annual Planning Mounting Swiftly

A yearbook to cover the entire academic year is presently in the planning stage. Under present arrangements, the annual will be available to subscribers next September during orientation.

The book will be from 160 to 200 pages long and will cost approximately $8.00. Subscription sales are scheduled to begin in January and continue into the second semester.

Five students have been named to the editorial board of the annual and are charged with the responsibility of producing the first yearly publication.

The five are: Merilee O'Berry, formerly of Chamberlain High School; Dee Norman, formerly of Plant City High School; Bill Hampton, formerly of Lakeland High School; Martin Guy Ross, formerly of Miami Beach High School; and Bill Alford, formerly of Hillsborough High School.

Miss O'Berry will serve as temporary chairman of the board. Positions of editor, managing editor, layout editor, photo editor, and business manager are expected to be filled from the board or from the board's recommendations.

In addition to the positions named above the board will fill other jobs on the staff by the first of the second semester. Office space will be maintained in the office of Campus Publications, Room 224, University Center, phone extension 118.

A recommendation has been sent to the Office of the Dean of Student Affairs requesting authority to send out specifications for bids. It is expected this will be done within the next few days. At present there are two publishing companies in Florida which have indicated that they could publish an annual.

The anticipated budget to be drawn up will run between $7,000 and $7,500. Only $5,000 of the total will be received in subscriptions. The rest will be raised by advertising and space sales to organizations.

All organizations considering having special pictures in the annual should get in touch with the annual staff concerning the purchase of space.

UC Dance Group
Elects Officers
The University Center dance committee at its latest meeting elected a chairman and vice chairman. Huey Floyd was elected chairman with Cookie Steele serving as vice chairman.

No Search Planned For Rocket at Sea

WALLOP ISLAND, Va., Dec. 5 (P) — A 72-foot Scout rocket and the inflatable satellite it was to have put into orbit lay under deep water 80 miles off the Virginia shore today after the failure of the first major space shot attempted from this test center.

Although the vehicle cost more than $750,000, there will be no attempt to recover any part of it.

Officials said it would be almost impossible to locate.

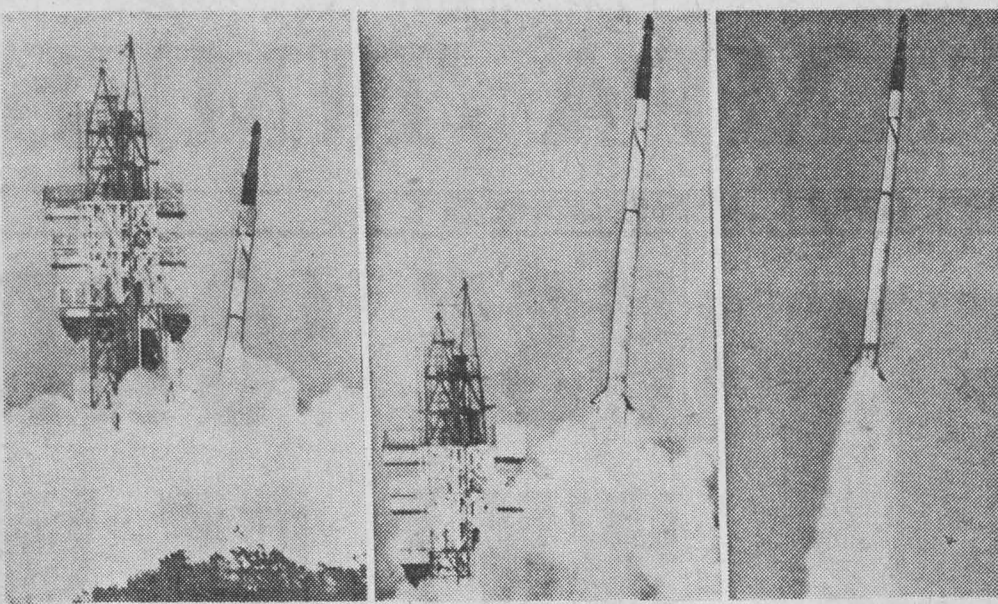

Even if the bits of wreckage could be found, they would shed little additional light as to the cause of the failure.

Instead, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration planned to analyze carefully the radio telemetry information and camera and radar coverage of the few short minutes of the flight yesterday.

The 36,600-pound, four stage research vehicle roared aloft at 4:14 p.m. (EST) and climbed beautifully for the 44 seconds of first stage burning. But the second stage failed to ignite and the rocket plunged into the ocean.

All four stages of the Scout rocket used solid propellants, and this was the first attempt to launch a satellite with such a vehicle. No date has been set for a follow-up effort.

The experts today were studying the 22 measurements of tail fin positions, temperatures, pressures and accelerations received from the telemetry in the first stage.

FIRE SCOUT ROCKET

A four-stage Scout rocket, powered by all-solid fuel, was fired at Wallops Island but failed to go into orbit when its second stage failed to ignite. The 72-foot rocket is shown as it was fired, left; starting its climb, center, and in the sky, right. It climbed 70,000 feet and then dropped into the Atlantic Ocean, 80 miles off the coast.

Now! Relieve acid attacks caused by STOMACH TENSION

Tablet discovery checks attacks in seconds... then works like a warm glass of milk to keep acid stomach soothed for hours

N.Y., N.Y. (Special). Medical science knows that today, millions suffer from Stomach Tension... a distress caused by today's hectic pace of living; juice and coffee breakfasts... eat-and-run lunches... diet foods. Your own doctor can tell you, Stomach Tension pours wave after wave of burning acid onto delicate stomach tissues. But ordinary antacids merely relieve the first wave of acid... then leave the stomach, leave you open to further attack. An antacid was needed that could give prolonged soothing relief... the same amazing relief that doctors knew a warm glass of milk gave. The answer came when physicians discovered a Glycine compound—a medication that soothed a burning acid stomach even better than a warm glass of milk. A medical publication reported that this compound gave faster relief than ordinary antacids, and actually worked to soothe the stomach for hours and guard against repeated acid attacks. This most effective compound is named Amitone. If you suffer Stomach Tension today, and ordinary antacids fail to bring the relief you want, you need Amitone. Amitone tablets are available at all drug counters without prescription.

Witt Will Hearing Resumes Tomorrow

By GENE BURNETT
Times Staff Writer

Final arguments in the suit contesting the $2,400,000 will of Mrs. Wilma Lucille de Mandel Witt, widow of wealthy cigar manufacturer Eli Witt, will be heard before County Judge William C. Brooker tomorrow at 10 a.m.

A decision on the suit—one of the most massive and complex cases ever heard in that court—is expected early next week, the judge said.

The action was brought by Mrs. Witt's brother, Phillips B. de Mandel, of Pacific Grove, Calif., and other relatives. De Mandel contends his sister was mentally incompetent when she signed the will on Nov. 24, 1959.

Mrs. Witt had left the entire estate to the Morton F. Plant Hospital of Clearwater.

The hearings opened last July 13, continuing throughout the summer, and the massive 15 volumes of over 2,300 pages of testimony, plus 100 exhibits, represented one of the largest transcriptions ever brought before Judge Brooker.

In fact, the judge said he will have to go off somewhere out of the county to study the case after arguments tomorrow because of its "very complex and very important nature."

Judge Brooker explained that he must go out of the county, at his own expense, to make his decision since circuit judges could not legally hear his normal run of cases if he were in the county.

He added that such cases "illustrate very graphically" the need for a second county judge.

"It's a tremendous task and I must give undisturbed attention to it," he said.

The briefs alone, which will be accompanied by oral arguments, will be read by attorney T. Paine Kelly Jr. and de Mandel's attorney, Cody Fowler, represent about 200 pages each.

Witnesses for de Mandel testified that Mrs. Witt's mental faculties were seriously impaired with drugs during the last weeks of her illness and that she had often expressed a strong aversion to both hospitals and physicians.

Progress Village Contest

A $50 cash award and an inscribed trophy will go to the top winner in a Progress Village Christmas decoration and landscaping contest.

Other prizes will also be offered in conjunction with a "Christmas Time in Progress Village," a colorful pageantry featuring carol choruses, costumes, fireworks and Santa Claus. The contest is being held by the Young Adults for Progressive Action in cooperation with the Progress Village Council and the village's executive board.

In addition to the best home decoration first prize, a second prize of $25 will be awarded. A best unit award, consisting of an engraved plaque naming each home owner in the unit, will go to the best 15-home unit.

A $15 first prize will go to the best yard and shrubbery landscaping; $10 first prize for the best kept lawn; and $5 for the best decorated door. All prize winners will receive two trees for the yard.

A giant Christmas tree, over 50 feet tall, will be decorated and the festivities will begin with the arrival of Santa Claus by helicopter next Sunday.

TELEVISION IN REVIEW

Must We Jazz Up Afflictions

By FRED DANZIG
NEW YORK, Dec. 5 (UPI)—Reginald Rose, meet Alvin Bortz.

TV viewers will recognize those names as having been attached to some of TV's finest programs as writers. By coincidence, their latest scripts have dealt with the problem of emotionally disturbed children.

Mr. Rose, according to the credits, wrote last night's NBC-TV special, "Something Special," which dealt with the fight to help emotionally disturbed youngsters.

As a TV show, "Something Special" was simply awful. It blended unnecessary importunity with unnecessary comedy and song. It was, as a result, much less effective, moving and realistic than the Boretz script, "The Hidden World," a recent "Armstrong Circle Theater" presentation. The latter program was real. It didn't apologize for facts. It was positive, hopeful, but not dewy-eyed and it didn't kid with the audience or talk down to it.

Noble Intentions
"Something Special's" goal was a noble one—to help raise funds and public support for the work the American Child Guidance Foundation is doing on behalf of all of us. But good intentions don't make good TV shows.

The painful flaw in "something Special" was its concept. It was based on the premise that Americans still can't be moved to action or confronted with unpleasant facts unless we are simultaneously reassured, soothed, cooed over and given the impossible—an "instant-happy" ending.

Who really believes that the wings of darkness which propel the seriously disturbed child will be dispelled by simply chucking them under the chin? Among the chin-chuckers and son-soothers last night were stars such as Tennessee Ernie Ford, Nat King Cole, Janet Blair, Robert Young and Art Linkletter. (This is curious, too, because some recent books and articles on the subject tell us that a portion of the problem can be traced to glamour projections of the magic movie and TV screens.)

Get Serious
Isn't it time we got over this idea that the really serious problems must be presented entertainingly? If there are viewers who can't be serious about a serious topic for just one hour unless they are repeatedly comforted with chuckles, charm and music, then they aren't really in dealing with the overwhelming evil problem.

I found myself feeling sorry for the celebrities who donated their time and energy to the show. They wanted to do an effective job but were trapped by a sticky, frequently insulting script. Some of the lines:

THE RECORD LIST

Elvis' 'Lonesome' Still Holds Top Spot

By TISH GRAY
Times Staff Writer

Tampa's top 10 record favorites added a few new titles last week, but Elvis Presley's "Are You Lonesome," held onto top spot.

Theme music from the motion picture "Exodus," crept into eighth position, with record dealers reporting the haunting theme is also selling well in the long-playing album. The single

'Weather Bureau' Landmark Coming Down
CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — A building describes it as "Home 200-plus-year-old claspboard of Doctor John Lining, who housed the country's first weather bureau, is going to be torn down. A new building may be erected on the site. A plaque on the side of the building, which probably antedates the year 1713. . . ."

THEY RE-GREW HAIR

SCALP SPECIALIST HERE TOMORROW
WILL SHOW HOW TO SAVE HAIR AND PREVENT BALDNESS

Louisville—Tuesday, Dec. 6 — at the Florida Hotel, Tampa, Fla., Staff Director J. C. Peak will give free hair and scalp consultation between 1 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. to hair worried men and women.

Erickson Hair and Scalp Specialists, the oldest and largest organization of its kind, makes regular visits to Tampa throughout the year to assure you of success in a minimum period of time. Erickson is now in its seventh year. Last year alone, over one-quarter million Erickson home scalp treatments were used.

Surveys among men and women in all walks of life show that the worst enemies of your hair are (1) doubt and (2) delay. Many balding people who are doing nothing to help themselves are justifying their condition with thinking like this: "I don't think anybody can stop hair loss" — or "I'm going to see an expert when I get around to it." That doesn't solve your problem. You are going to keep right on losing your hair until you are bald . . . unless you get your scalp in a healthy, hair-growing condition again.

Mr. T. A. Melton, Jr. of Hollidaysburg, Pa. gave about 20 minutes of his time for the Erickson free hair and scalp consultation and regrew his hair.

one million Erickson home scalp treatments were used.

HOPELESS CASES REFUSED

If you are totally bald, there is nothing Erickson can do for you. Erickson or no other treatment known is of benefit to excessive hair loss due to male pattern baldness. Neither of the persons shown suffered from male pattern baldness. Therefore Erickson continues its policy of refusing all hopeless cases. Baldness is slow and gradual, even in the most common forms. The two most common causes are neglect and mistreatment, but the two worst enemies are skepticism and procrastination.

Mrs. Virginia Barnes, of Edwardsport, Ind., shows her results by Erickson Treatments.

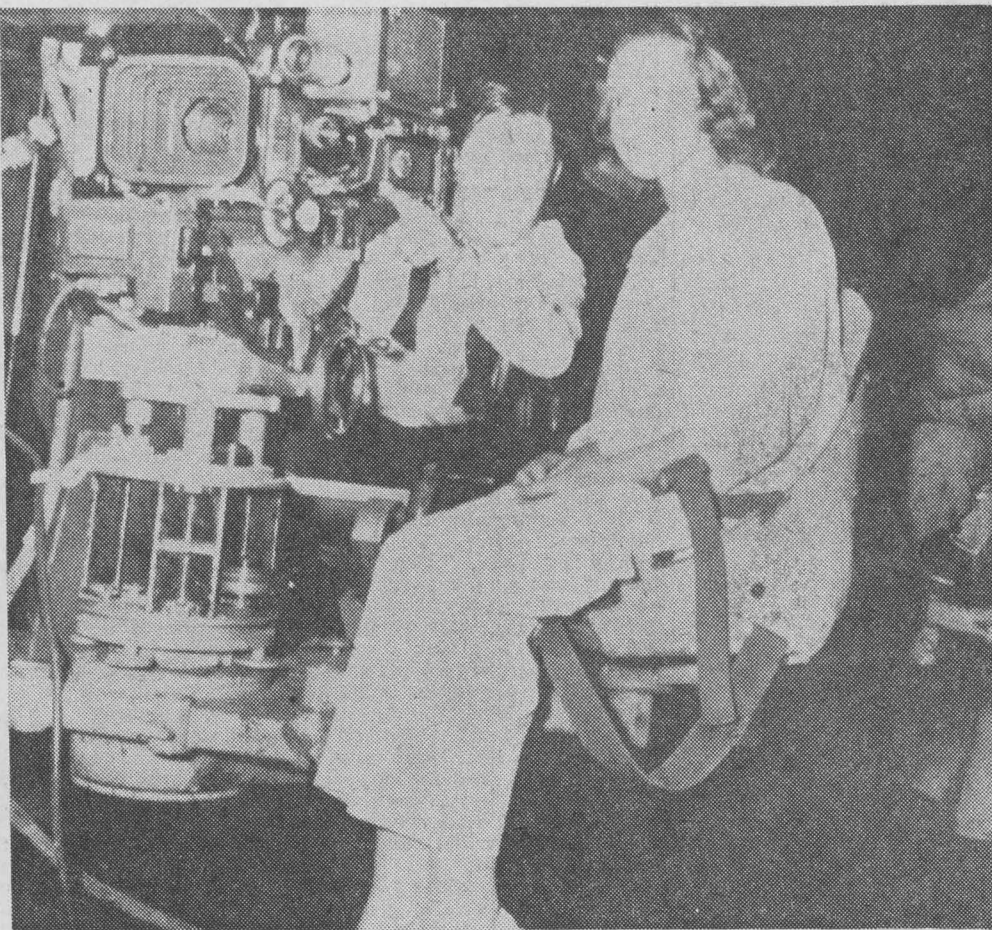

97% SATISFIED
So selective is the Erickson system that the organization is proud of its 97% satisfaction among those persons accepted. Actually, the biggest problem is not in doing what we claim, but in getting the "doubters" and "putter-offers" to see an Erickson specialist for a free consultation before it is too late.

GUARANTEE SATISFACTION

You will be given a written guarantee by the Erickson Hair and Scalp Specialists for the length of time treatment is required on a pro-rated basis. There is absolutely no charge or obligation of any kind for seeing the Erickson specialist for consultation. Your only obligation is to yourself to ease your mind of hair worries by learning how easily and inexpensively you can save and thicken your hair at home. You will be told frankly and sincerely whether the Erickson Home Treatment can help, how long it will take, and the cost.

See Mr. J. C. Peak at the Florida Hotel, Tuesday, Dec. 6, between 1 and 8:30 p.m. only in Tampa, Fla. You will not be obligated or embarrassed in any way. Consultations are free and given in private.

GLORIA JEAN RETURNS TO MOVIES

For the first time in 10 years, actress Gloria Jean is working in front of a movie camera again. Jerry Lewis, producer, director and star of "Ladies' Man," is giving her some last-minute instructions here. Lewis heard she was working as a hostess in a restaurant, looked her up and told her she had a role in the picture. She says it's wonderful, but she isn't giving up the hostess job yet.

TRYING FOR COMEBACK

Former Child Star Wins Role

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 5 (AP) — Everything's coming up young now for Gloria Jean, appearing in her first movie in 10 years.

But the former child singing star isn't giving up her job as hostess at a San Fernando Valley eatery.

Readers will recall a report a few weeks ago that Gloria had taken the job to tide her over until she could get back into the show business she has known most her life.

Jerry Lewis happened to read the report, too. He sent for Gloria.

Hired for Part

"How would you like to appear in my new movie, 'Ladies' Man'?" He asked abruptly.

"Why — I'd like nothing better," she answered in amazement.

"All right, you've got the part," the comedian said.

"But don't you want to test me or have me read for the role?" she protested.

"Nope. I like to do things for people. You're it for today."

So Gloria is now doing one of the leads in the new Lewis opus, ending a long career drought and a series of personal mishaps, including the loss of her fiancé in the Korean War. I dropped by to see how she was making out.

"I feel just wonderful," she said. "My only trouble is that I can't get enough sleep. I'm too excited to sleep."

What kind of a part does she have?

"I don't know exactly," she said. "Jerry won't show us the script. We only have the first 40 pages. When we finish shooting that, he'll give us the next 40."

The plot has Gloria as one of several dozen career girls living in a Hollywood dormitory with Helen Traubel as house mother. Jerry is a dame-haunted movie star who escapes his career to take a job incognito. Naturally, he ends up at the dorm.

"I'm going to sing a number with Miss Traubel," Gloria added excitedly. "I'm sorry that I've been so busy that I haven't been able to do some lessons. But I've been singing around the house, and the voice is still there."

Other Breaks, Too

What else has happened to her? She got her break-in to the acting field again by doing a role on MacDonald Carey's TV series, "Lock-up" — "I was nervous at first, but it came back to me."

She has been written up by the two top fan magazines — "first time since I left pictures."

Despite all this activity, Gloria hasn't deserted the Tahitian, the Studio City spot where she has been hostess.

"I wouldn't want to quit," she declared. "But I have cut down to working Saturday nights only while I'm on the picture. I tried working to midnight and getting up for an 8 o'clock call and it was too much."

She won't be back to her regular job for some time, since just before Christmas — was "Ladies' Man" figures to shoot until February. Gloria remarked that the timing of the film — early this year," she agreed.

New Device Detects Ice on Aircraft

CHICAGO, Dec. 5 (UPI) — A new device to detect the formation of ice on the wings of small aircraft has been developed by a team of physicists at the Armour Research Foundation of Illinois Institute of Technology.

Large commercial and military planes have for some time been equipped with electrical or pneumatic devices which either melt or crack the ice. These were not only too heavy and expensive for smaller craft but they also often required more power than the smaller engine could generate.

Researchers at the institute have designed a simple and inexpensive instrument which utilizes light refraction to detect ice formation.

Two translucent plastic rods are placed parallel and a fraction of an inch apart on the wing of the plane. A light is beamed into one rod while an electric eye monitors the other.

When ice forms between the two rods, the light refracts out of the first rod through the ice, and into the second rod to activate the electric eye.

Up to now most pilots of smaller aircraft have relied upon their own vision to determine ice formation on the wings.

Advantages of the new ice detector are: It can be easily checked on the ground and easily cleaned; it is optical, not mechanical, which means there are no moving parts to jam or become clogged with dirt or foreign matter; and it can detect even the smallest deposits of ice.

Need New School? Do-It-Yourself

LINDALE, Tex., Dec. 5 (UPI) — Lindale school officials have found the way to stretch tax dollars. They have a brand new do-it-yourself elementary school.

And it will be almost filled by 1,225 students. Last year, the school board was faced with increased enrollment and growing classroom shortages. So, the board bought a site and began casting around for bids.

"They were all too high, so the board decided it would be the contractor and build the school," a spokesman said.

The board found the ways and means to cut corners on construction costs. Today, the new school is up.

In addition, the board has under construction a 50 by 100 feet cafeteria and a new band hall.

EISENHOWERS MOVING

Topsy-Turvy Turmoil At White House Now

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 (AP)—Any American citizen who has plodded through the topsy-turvy turmoil of moving knows what's been going on at the White House.

Trucks have been coming and going for more than a week carrying away boxes, crates, more boxes, more crates.

It's been a gradual process. But by this afternoon, the personal belongings, except for clothes, of President and Mrs. Eisenhower were expected to be gone from their home of the past eight years.

No Return
When the Eisenhowers leave their front door just before noon this Friday, they leave to return no more as residents. John F. Kennedy and his wife move into the White House that afternoon.

Moving is difficult for any American.

For an American president, it is a gigantic task, almost like moving history.

Lt. Col. John Eisenhower has been supervising the exodus of his parents. The General Services Administration is doing the moving.

There are papers to be sorted and boxed—this for the Eisenhower Museum at Abilene, Kan., this for the new office to be opened at Gettysburg, Pa., that for the national records.

Many Gifts

There are gifts—things like a golf bag stand like the Washington Monument, a silver punch bowl from Burma, a stone Buddha from Cambodia, Oriental rugs, a 100-year-old cowbell.

Eisenhower has said there are 18,000 gifts he has received in eight years of being president which are being sent to the Abilene Museum. They're going by truck. Some items already have gone there and others have been sent to the Smithsonian Institution. Zimbo, the baby elephant, was quickly sent to the National Zoo after its arrival some time ago.

Some gifts were personal ones meant just for the Gettysburg country home awaiting the Eisenhowers. These include cattle, horses, a flagpole, a fancy $4,000 tractor-cultivator and even a putting green.

House Remodeled

The Eisenhowers bought their farm in 1950, the first home this Army couple ever owned. They remodeled the house in 1954 to a 14-room air-conditioned home and now have about 500 acres of land around it.

The Eisenhowers made a special trip up there Jan. 4 to look over the stage space.

Fortunately, Mrs. Eisenhower doesn't have to worry about packing pots and pans at the White House, dishes or a lot of furniture.

The government furnishes the White House completely, even to linens. But the Eisenhowers had their own personal treasures and trinkets in the second and third floor living quarters.

What to bring to those personal living quarters now is the problem of young Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy.

After Inaugural

She has a date with the moving men at the Kennedy home in the Georgetown section of Washington the first thing Monday after the inaugural weekend.

Mrs. Kennedy has to decide what furnishings and belongings go to the White House, what goes into storage and what goes to the country home they have leased at Middleburg, Va.

For now, the White House is getting that look that comes when people are moving away. Like any other home in the land, there've been boxes in the corridors, the bookcases in the offices are empty, and there are dusty outlines on the walls where somebody's favorite pictures hung.

Uses Stop Watch for Itch Relief

Mrs. A. Z. Gracie says: I thought I would go out of my mind with poison ivy itching. Then at my friend Helen's suggestion, I bought Tetterine. My husband, in fun, checked the time on his stop watch. Well, in no time at all, the itch was gone. Tetterine is equally wonderful for fast relief of surface rash, eczema, athlete's foot, and innocuous insect bites. ### Now! Relieve acid attacks caused by STOMACH TENSION

Tablet discovery checks attacks in seconds... then works like a warm glass of milk to keep acid stomach soothed for hours

N.Y., N.Y. (Special). Medical science knows that today, millions suffer from Stomach Tension... a distress caused by today's hectic pace of living; juice and coffee breakfasts... eat-and-run lunches... diet foods. Your own doctor can tell you, Stomach Tension pours wave after wave of burning acid onto delicate stomach tissues. But ordinary antacids merely relieve the first wave of acid... then leave the stomach, leave you open to further attack. An antacid was needed that could give prolonged soothing relief... the same amazing relief that doctors knew a warm glass of milk gave. The answer came when physicians discovered a Glycine compound—a medication that soothed a burning acid stomach even better than a warm glass of milk. A medical publication reported that this compound gave faster relief than ordinary antacids, and actually worked to soothe the stomach for hours and guard against repeated acid attacks. This most effective compound is named Amitone. If you suffer Stomach Tension today, and ordinary antacids fail to bring the relief you want, you need Amitone. Amitone tablets are available at all drug counters without prescription.

At the request of the Alumni Association, Rick Cohen, president of the Student Council, appointed Jeanie Hemmes and Carolyn Michels to work with the Alumni Association to promote the 12th annual homecoming on campus. Eleven girls vied for the title of homecoming queen. The queen was selected by the popular vote of the student body, and was crowned at a dance held on the evening of Dec. 19 at the Fern Creek Armory.

University of Tampa — Nine juniors and 16 seniors from the University of Tampa have been named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. These individuals were nominated by the students and faculty on the basis of scholastic and extra-curricular activities.

University of Miami — Foreign teaching posts will be open for United States citizens in Army-operated schools for American children in Okinawa, Korea, Japan, Germany, and France for the 1961-62 school years. The greatest numbers of vacancies will be for elementary teachers experienced in the primary grades. High school teachers who qualify in two major fields will be needed also.

Army representatives will interview qualified applicants at the University of Miami Jan. 21 and 22.

USF Panel To Discuss Razor's Edge

A panel discussion of the All-University Book, "The Razor's Edge," will be held, Thursday, Jan. 26. The panel will consist of three faculty members and three students. The faculty members have been chosen; the three students have not.

A student is needed who will present the view that Larry Darrell's search for life and learning through living life to the full is the best way to an education. Another will present the view that while a university education is good, it must be supplemented by the discovery of faith and fulfillment.

There are many variations on these two ideas, but the students that the committee in charge of organizing the panel are looking for are those who will present views decisively on one side or the other.

Any student who feels strongly about either of these ideas himself or who knows someone who does, and who is interested in participating in the panel or helping to organize it is asked to contact the chairman of the committee, Dr. R. A. Warner at Ext. 288.

USF To Go On Exhibition Feb. 7-18, At State Fair

Students Faculty Busily Prepare Demonstrations

By MARLENE HENNIS

The University of South Florida will be represented this year at the Florida State Fair by two booths 10 feet by 18 feet. The fair, which will run from Feb. 7 to Feb. 18, will be at the Florida State Fair Grounds at Cass Street and North Boulevard.

Both students and faculty members have been busily engaged in planning and setting up exhibits. A committee headed by Dr. Margaret Fisher, dean of women's activities, decided the "Accent on Learning" theme will be carried out and exhibits and demonstrations should contribute in some way to learning for the visitors, as well as to interpretation of the university.

The exhibit will be located on the main central corridor opposite the main entrance of the Electrical Building. One area will be used as an information center.

This booth will be attended by a student and a faculty member, who will give information and refer prospective students or their parents upon request to the admissions office.

Additional material, including the "Accent on Learning" folder, would be given to persons who inquire specifically about admission.

The other area will be used as a demonstration-exhibit center. Departments exhibiting on different days will be natural sciences, biology and geology, human behavior, physical education and intramurals, social sciences, mathematics and engineering, functional language, reading and speech, graphic arts, music and drama, and student activities.

Demonstrations will be scheduled each hour. Some will be straight demonstration. Others will provide for audience participation. Theater arts will be demonstrating theatrical make-up and modeling buildings designed for sets in "Antigone" demonstrations of painting, clay modeling, sketching, printing, designing and possibly wire sculpture will be presented by art students. Also included will be learning experiments on laboratory rats which the human behavior classes have been working with.

In this same area a large layout of the campus, including present and future buildings as well as those under construction, will be provided for "pointer tours."

Final Exams Schedule Announced

Final exams at USF will be held from Jan. 30 to Feb. 4 according to a fixed schedule. The exams are to be administered only during the scheduled week for examinations.

Non-basic study course exams will be given according to sections in that particular course. Instructors will inform students of the date, time and place for their examination and whether or not special supplies, such as examination booklets, are required. Students are instructed to bring their student identification cards with them to final examinations.

The Basic Studies course exams will be held when no other examinations are scheduled. Students will be instructed to go to a designated room according to alphabetical groups, based on last names.

Basic study courses exams are: Functional Math, 10-12 a.m., Monday, Jan. 30; Functional English, 2-5 p.m., Tuesday, Jan. 31; Human Behavior, 12-2 p.m., Wednesday, Feb. 1; Physical Science, 8-10 a.m., Thursday, Feb. 2; Biological Science, 2-4 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 2.

The Humanities and The American Idea are scheduled with the non-basic study courses and will run according to sections.

The Physical Education exam will be Friday, Feb. 3, between 4 and 6 p.m.

Students not clear on exam times should check with their instructors or the office of Institutional Research.

Some Students Little Confused

A young lady entering the administration building patio Monday, Jan. 9, was asked by a classmate where she had been the past week. She replied, "Oh, was I supposed to come last week?" She had obviously got the dates of class reopenings confused. Seems two others operated on the same schedule, also.

Campus Buildings Nearing Completion

Rapid progress is being made on the four buildings now under construction on campus, according to Clyde B. Hill, director of the Physical Plant Division. Facilities on all four should be completed by September.

The library, first scheduled to open in February, won't until the middle of March, because furnishings won't be finished until then. The library itself will be completed by the end of this month. The University Art Gallery, which is part of the library, will be formally opened April 7, 8, and 9.

According to Hill the opening of dormitories is still scheduled for the first of next school year. Men and women will be housed in the same building, but partitions will separate the two sections. The dorms are expected to house approximately 412 students. The Life-Science building is also expected to be completed by next September.

Both the physical education locker and shower rooms, and the little theater is expected to be completed by next semester. The phys-ed buildings will be completed at the beginning of the semester, and the Little Theater is scheduled to open either in March or April.

No other buildings are planned for this year, but the construction of a humanities classroom building is to begin in September of next year. It is expected to be as large as the University Center, and will be situated directly opposite the Chemistry Building.

Articles Written By Faculty

University of South Florida faculty members, besides carrying their load of teaching and planning, have been writing dozens of articles for scholarly publications during recent months.

These articles, carrying the bylines of the faculty members and the university they represent, are bringing recognition to the USF and the community.

Dr. Henry P. Winthrop, associate professor of human behavior, appeared or will appear in journals: "Can We Educate for a Sense of Value?" Journal of Humanistic Psychology; "Phenomenological and Existential Considerations Surrounding the Problem of Value," Review of Essential Psychology; "The Relevance of Social Interpretation for Psychiatric Theory," Journal of Human Relations; "Cultural Determinants of Psychological Research Value," Journal of Social Psychology; "Some Aspects of Value in Psychology and Psychiatry," Psychological Record; "Focus on the Human Condition," Journal of Human Relations.

Dr. Simon Messing, associate professor of anthropology, has recently had published articles which include: "Role Differentiation in the Amhara Family of Ethiopia," Journal of Human Relations; "The Language of the Toga," appearing in Anthropos (Switzerland); and, "Self Study in Culture Change," appearing in the Anthropological Quarterly.

Two of Dr. Winthrop's book reviews will appear soon in the Journal of Human Relations, reviews of "The Wastemakers," by Vance Packard and "Automation and Docility," by Jacobson and Roucek. He has also revised a manuscript of "Aspects of Value in Psychology" for the Humanitarian Press and is putting another manuscript, "Intellectual Synthesis in Education," in final form.

"A Functional Analysis of Motivation for General Education," by Dr. Leslie Malpass, human behavior chairman, recently appeared in an Association for Higher Education College and University Bulletin, which was distributed to a membership of 18,000.
