Bibler's Cartoon Proves Campus' Best Liked Feature

The syndicated LMOC cartoon, which appears regularly on this campus as well as on many others has become the most liked feature of the Campus Edition of The Tampa Times, according to an informal poll of students.

The fact that the cartoon is well read by students was brought out in a poll which appeared in the paper several weeks ago. But most students have found that they are looking forward to the Little Man's next episode.

Fred Frey pointed out that at the end of the semester both the arrival of the Navy on campus and the LMOC cartoon of that same week coincided.

CAMPUS ROUND-UP

9000 Expected at USF by '62

By CAROL MARTIN

from the first semester. Meanwhile, inquiries for fall enrollment are running far ahead of the figures this time last year and September enrollment is expected to pass the 4,000 mark. Meanwhile, university officials are looking for a total enrollment which could hit 9,000 by 1962. The big jump would be brought about by transfers from Florida's many junior colleges.

University of Florida—Co-median Shelly Berman appeared on the UF campus Feb. 21, sponsored by the Lyceum Council. With Berman was the Cumberland Three, a group of folk singers.

Florida Southern College—Presented a morning and evening program in the Annie Pfeiffer Chapel Feb. 22. The program featured numbers by five great composers.

Florida State University—The Student Senate has created an FSU Hall of Merit, intended to be the highest honor than can be bestowed upon students.

Gulf Coast Junior College—A drive is underway to move the entire college onto a new campus across Highway 98. The move is expected to be completed either in April or May of this year.

Stetson University—Much excitement was in the air during the recent Homecoming Celebration. Coffees, dances, banquets, and a parade highlighted the events of the week.

Jacksonville University—The university and the local Friday Musicals will unite to commemorate composer Frederick Delius March 3. It is hoped that this will become a yearly tradition.

University of Tampa—The school was host for the fourth annual Career Tea of the Hillsborough County Nutrition Committee which was held in the ballroom on Feb. 23. Guests included homemaking teachers, students and guidance counselors from Hillsborough County.

University of Miami—UM Marine Laboratory Scientist Charles E. Lane published an article in the February issue of Scientific American on the highly destructive shipworm.

Florida Southern College—The college concert choir began a tour yesterday which will cover Florida. Destinations include Coral Gables, Miami, Fort Myers, Sarasota and Bradenton.

A concert was held in Lakeland last week.

Jacksonville University—Gerson Yessin and Harvey Scholl, two members of the piano faculty of the college of music, will present a duo-piano concert at the Artist Recital Series next event. The concert will be held at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in Swisher Auditorium.

Gordon Keller—Janet Dye of Tampa has been elected president of the student government. Martha Trotter, also of Tampa, was chosen first vice president.

Stetson—Dr. Guy Owen, associate professor of English, has been notified that he will receive an award for writing the best poem in "Flame," a poetry quarterly. He has also written a novel, "Season of Fear."

Gulf Coast Junior College—The 1961 Region No. 2 Science Fair will be held on campus March 22-25. More than 30 awards and prizes will be presented to winners from six counties.

University of Tampa—As a part of the national Emphasis on Religion in Life Week, three religious speakers were invited to participate in a series of meetings held last Wednesday and Thursday. The public also attended the activities.

Jacksonville University—A permanent award for academic achievement, to be presented each June to the fraternity or sorority with the highest grade point average, has been announced by President Franklin A. Johnson.

The constitution for the Aretes is next on their meeting agenda. The club's primary purpose is service projects for school and community.

The Fides, one of the two existing girls' social clubs, have planned a dance for Friday, April 14. The theme for this function to be held in the University Center is the "Roaring 20's."

Alice Evans, vice president of the organization, was selected as the Fides representative to the Inter-Social Committee. The members have selected a committee from the club to assist

Target Date For Yearbook Shifted To Spring Of 1962

Compliance With State Laws Is Main Publication Holdup

By MARTHA JEAN EKKER

Yes, the rumor that the yearbook will not be published until spring of 1962 is correct!

When the temporary chairman, Merilee O'Berry, was questioned as to why the book would not be out until 1962 she blamed lack of finances and time.

More time than is available is needed for student contracts with businesses to be approved by the USF procurement office. This is done to comply with state laws and to assure there are no "loop holes" in the contracts.

What's Been Done?

Is anything being done to record everything that happens this school year? Miss O'Berry and the staff has many (the number wasn't known) pictures of the university from the beginning until the present. Pictures of various students activities are also on file.

Summer sessions coverage will be determined by the amount of advertising and subscriptions.

Sitting Fee?

What about individual pictures? It has been suggested that these pictures be taken when the student registers as this seems to be the only way that other universities have succeeded in obtaining pictures of all the students.

At present, one of the main questions concerning the individual pictures other than the bidding is whether or not the sitting fee of $1.25 would be acceptable, and if it should be included in the student fee. How pictures of students who attended the university last semester or this semester, but not in the fall of this year, would be obtained is not determined.

The staff hopes to have the specifications ready for bids soon and a subscription drive will soon be started. The price of the yearbook will be $10.

Color in the first annual, is too costly. The yearbook staff feels that the quality of the yearbook is more important than color.

Whether to have a hard cover or padded cover is another undecided question.

How many pages will be in the annual is not now known. As to the cost of the book, the estimate for this first year was $8,700 for around 160 pages.

Peterson Beats Out USF Pinmen

Steve Peterson walked away with top laurels, and a possibility to compete in the National Intercollegiate Bowling Tourney at Detroit, March 26 and 27, by finishing ahead of a field of 12 in the recent Recreation Committee-sponsored meet at Florida Lakes.

The local tourney, held Tuesday, Feb. 21, was composed of the top 12 players in the USF bowling league, on a total score basis.

Peterson's score will be submitted to the regional tournament, which is simply a compilation of scores submitted by all schools in the six-state region.

The bowlers who competed in the local tourney include: Peterson, Wyvon Hudson, Allan Nielsen, Larry Seifert, Howard Crozier, Richard Vasquez, Tony Arce, Mike Lawrence, John Evenhouse, Lou Draughon, Ronnie Novak and Fred Frey.

With this arrangement at least 600 copies would have to be sold.

Naturally the cost of the book, the number of pages and the amount of subscriptions will increase with the addition of another year. Robert F. Hess, procurement executive assistant, estimated that 1,000 to 1,200 copies of the yearbook will be sold because it covers two years.

When Hess was questioned as to whether or not financial problems were one of the hold ups he replied, "Yes, however, the main interest is that we abide by the state laws and do not receive any raw deals. I am willing to help in any way possible."

For those organizations wanting pictures in the annual there will be a small fee, exact amount undetermined.

There have been no additions to the Yearbook staff. The plan for doing so was one of the topics discussed with Dean Howard Johnson during a meeting last week.

FIVE WEEKS, THEN . . .

Spring Vacation Will Run 5 Days

While the University of South Florida's calendar for the second semester is still a little vague on some dates, students can look forward to quite a lot of vacation time. To top the list in length is a 5-day Spring Vacation.

Setting up a calendar for USF involves many problems. It has to be planned around construction dates, and recognize that enrollment is composed largely of commuting students. Other problems the university had were late starting classes and few students on campus.

As the calendar stands, the second semester and summer school look like this:

Spring Vacation—This period, known to some as the Easter holiday season, begins as classes end March 30. Classes won't resume until April 5. During the Spring Vacation some USF students will join other university students on a cruise to Nassau. The $60 trip will be on the S.S. Bahamas Star.

The ship has an orchestra, floor show and proper going away music. On the island side, students can look forward to the land of the limbo, native bands, the straw market, and voodoo nightclub tours.

University of South Florida faculty members and staff may make the trip at student rates.

Memorial Day—May 30, will be a one-day holiday.

End of Second Semester—The semester ends with the last exams on June 10.

Summer School—Summer school begins June 19. An enrollment of 700 to 1,000 is expected.

July 4—Students and staff will get a one-day vacation.

Summer School Ends—Summer school ends Aug. 11. There will be no classes until the fall semester classes, open Oct. 2. Construction of the first residence hall on campus is causing the late start.

Dr. Lewis Mayhew, director of evaluation services and institutional research, is officially in charge of the university calendar and any changes or additions to the calendar will be announced by his office.

Golfers Who Shoot in 80's Wanted Quick

If you are a golfer who shoots in the 80's, you are in demand! Dr. Gilman Hertz, director of physical education and golfing instruction at the university, is looking for good golfers to form a university link team.

The golf team will be allowed to use the Temple Terrace court for practice. Arrangements are being made for these facilities to be used free of charge to USF linkmen.

If you are an up-and-coming amateur or semi-pro contact Dr. Hertz in the Physical Education Office, C-1073.

ACTIVE CLUBS

USF Social Organizations Plan Projects, Parties

By JIM DIXON

The University of South Florida's new social clubs have officially begun many varied projects and activities. The not-so-new University Center Committee continues to plan social functions, fund raising and projects to benefit the university and the community.

The Aretes, men's social club, sold Coca-Colas during the Gasparilla invasion and parade as a fund raising project which netted the organization $175 profit. This money will be used to finance an acquaintance party to be held at a later date.

Four Members Accepted
During their last meeting four new members were accepted. These new Aretes are: Bob Cotes, Ron Chase, Wayne Jones and Dick Murrell. The club's advisers are Dr. Jack E. Fernandez and Dr. Thomas W. Solomons.

The constitution for the Aretes is next on their meeting agenda. The club's primary purpose is service projects for school and community.

The Fides, one of the two existing girls' social clubs, have planned a dance for Friday, April 14. The theme for this function to be held in the University Center is the "Roaring 20's."

Alice Evans, vice president of the organization, was selected as the Fides representative to the Inter-Social Committee. The members have selected a committee from the club to assist

Little Man on Campus

DRAGSTRIP STORY

2 Crackups at USF Entrance and Fowler

Two separate accidents occurred this past week at the Fowler Avenue entrance to the University. The first accident took place when campus security officer Donald R. Cockerill collided with an automobile he was pursuing from the campus toward Fowler; the second, when a student lost control of his car and hit a light pole.

Cockerill said that when he attempted to halt the car, a 1960 Plymouth sedan, the driver suddenly slammed on the brakes as he approached Fowler Ave. The security officer, unable to stop, ran into the rear of the halted car. Cockerill later stated that he was traveling over 50 miles per hour and still wasn't catching the car. He believed the man stopped when he did to avoid oncoming traffic.

Highway patrol officer, Harry Mcfield, who investigated the accident, said that the security officer would not be charged because he was in pursuit of fleeing car. The other driver, Arnold W. Cigahn, was held on a reckless driving charge.

Damage amounted up to $400 on the security wagon with around $200 damage to the other car. Until further notice the security office said they would be using pickup trucks and private cars for their patrol work.

The second accident occurred the next morning. Donald U. Rue, 18, while attempting to make a left hand turn off Fowler, lost control of his car and smashed into a light pole. Damage was set at a new pole complete with base, and $200 damage to the right front fender and bumper. The Florida highway patrol charged the driver with failure to have his car under control.

Potted Plant Barricade

Something new has been added to the patio in the Administration Building. Potted plants, neatly connected by cords, effectively block both the north and south entrances to the patio. It seems that the reason for the presence of the flora barricade is to attempt to dissuade students from tromping on the rapidly disappearing grass. When the grass is rehabilitated, the barricade will be removed.

planned Faculty-Student Jam

Sessions, in which all interested can participate. Information on this is posted in the University Center, or ask at the information desk.

The Lessons Committee is going strong with lessons in chess and bridge. Plans for ballroom dancing are under way.

The Functions Committee is now at work preparing a calendar of events for next year which will include functions for all other committees.

The Recreation Committee's biggest venture at present is the Nassau Cruise. All persons interested should sign up at the information desk, University Center. The quota has been filled, but drop outs may occur.

Tourney in Progress
The University Center Table Tennis Tournament is now in progress and 15 or more players are taking part.

The Recreation Committee also has a Moon Light Cruise in the planning stage. Further arrangements are to be made and the announcement will be posted in the University Center.

The Planning Committee's project for March 11, the car wash, is receiving the support of all social clubs and many interested students from all the committees. The profits from this one day car wash will go toward boats for the recreation area on the Hillsborough River.

The committee expresses hope that all students will help in this project.

The Cultural Committee has

Writers Discuss Athletic Program

By JOHN GULLETT

Local sports personalities, questioned in separate interviews recently, all agree in suggestions for the initial start of USF's intercollegiate athletic program.

Tom McEwen, sports editor of The Tampa Times, voiced the opinion of the entire sports communication media when he suggested strongly "the importance of a start in the right direction. A beginning, however small, is most important at this time."

The statement was in reference to the issue presently concerning university officials. The Planning and Policies Committee, headed by Dean Sidney J. French, has been attempting to make some decision on when varsity athletics should be introduced into the university's program.

"This committee's decision is expected to be in favor of a delay of several years for the introduction of such a program. Their decision is not final, for it needs approval by the university senate, and finally the president."

Decision Not Final
But, as Dean Howard Johnson, dean of student affairs, stated recently, "even if the university has decided to keep out of intercollegiate athletics until after the first graduating class, this does not rule out a revised decision later."

The university has thus far displayed a "cautious" approach to this issue. It is felt by some administrators that the university should concentrate on establishing high academic standards, and not be concerned with establishing this level of sports on campus at this time.

Staff Members Impartial
It should be pointed out that the members of the campus publications sports staff are taking an impartial stand on this issue. It is the sole purpose of the coverage in this area to inform the student body and the general public of the problem which exists.

McEwen suggested how a beginning could take place this semester. "I understand the physical education staff includes members who are qualified to coach teams of golf and tennis. Maybe they could get together, small teams in these sports and enter a few of the many meets held every spring in the area for Florida's junior colleges. These could later be enlarged when the other coaches and facilities are available."

Delay Might Hurt
John Cash, sports editor of The Tampa Tribune, feels a delay could possibly hurt the university. "South Florida would be wise to go into intercollegiate athletics next year in some of the minor sports, maybe on the junior college level."

"Athletics, even on the junior college level, would keep student morale up, which would in turn attract outstanding athletes from high schools all over the country. If the fellows were able to read about the university, many would recognize it as a growing school, and think seriously about enrolling."

"As it stands now, we sports writers have nothing to say about South Florida, even locally. There just isn't that much interest on the intramural level."

Intramurals Not Adequate
Cash disagrees with the popular belief that intramural sports would adequately replace varsity sports on campus. "It may replace it, but certainly not adequately. Although intramurals will take care of individual energies, it could not be sufficient as far as the entire student body is concerned."

In the not-too-distant future the university will have an enrollment of over 10,000 students. This would certainly rank it as a big college. Cash feels the department will rank the same. "In years to come either alumni or the students themselves will force the school into big-college sports. It can't be avoided."

Football With U. of F.
"Eventually they will be playing schools of the same caliber as the University of Florida and FSU. Yes, and even in football. Football would not only support itself, but other sports as well. Florida is a fine example of a self-sustaining football program. South Florida may lose money at first, especially without a stadium, but they would get it all back and more in the following years."

When asked to give his idea of the ideal athletic program in a state-owned institution, Cash stated: "The school should definitely have intercollegiate athletics, but it should also keep up with the academic standards of the university. The athletes should also be required to keep up the standards. But that wouldn't be hard to do."

"Good students and good athletes go together."

Suggests Light Schedules
But Cash then emitted a word of caution: "Until they can compete on a four-year level, they should take it easy. Lighter schedules should prevail in the beginning, maybe something on the junior college level. FSU started out in just this fashion."

But there definitely is a place for intercollegiate athletics of South Florida's campus. Competition is the foundation of our American way of life, as expressed through big-time sports."

Guy Bagli, sports commentator for WFLA-TV, is strongly in favor of an immediate start in the right direction. "It's not necessary to wait until everything is just right. I would like to see the university begin participation in intercollegiate athletics next year."

"They couldn't go wrong. Take a similar situation a few years back. The Air Force Academy was playing big college football with sophomores. Everyone knew they were weak, so people didn't expect much. It's the same at South Florida. If they were to play a few teams early, and lose, no one would be shocked. And any good performance on their part would be like frosting on the cake."

What is going to put South Florida on the map, not smart students, or pretty buildings. Who is going to hear about this school out West, unless the sports writers give them space. What can we write about now?"

Bagli strongly supports the proposal for an immediate full-range program. "There is no reason why the University can't participate in all the major sports next year, including baseball and basketball," he said.

Bagli expressed vigorous disagreement with the idea of intramural athletics replacing varsity sports on any campus. "They are always good for the individual, but if the school wants to have better athletes interested in them, they had better start at the bottom and move up fast. The whole academic program will benefit."

Dr. Gilman Hertz, director of physical education at USF, was not available for an interview at press time. His comments on this matter will be included in a later article.

800 Tickets Issued, Violations Increasing

The security office reports that traffic violations since the beginning of school have passed the 800 mark. They also stated the most frequent offense was parking violations. Violations seem to be on the increase.

Magnificent Seven Film Plays Here

"The Magnificent Seven," a Japanese film, was presented in two separate showings here last Tuesday. The film was shown at 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. in Room 100 of the science lecture auditorium.

In the Lens

The USF campus came under the lens of several photographers from national publications recently as they stopped off to "have a look" after covering the Gasparilla invasion and parade last Monday. One of the more interested, and taking dozens of shots, was a representative of TIME magazine.

Boca Raton Group Starts Tour of Campus Thursday

More than 100 persons will fly in to Tampa from Boca Raton, Thursday, March 2, to take a look at the University of South Florida, and get the story as to the problems involved in starting a university from scratch.

President John S. Allen of USF expects at least 107 persons representing the University Development Committee of the Palm Beach County Resources Development Board to make the trip. Assisting in the arrangements for giving the visitors from the Boca Raton area the full story on USF, besides President Allen, are Mayor Julian Lane and members of his staff, representatives of the Hillsborough County school system, and deans, directors and other administrative officers at USF.

Frank Wright, coordinator-director of the Boca Raton University Development Committee, said the group will include more than 20 mayors of communities in the area, the Palm Beach County legislative delegation, and other leading citizens.

The chartered plane, in which the group will travel, will stop at 10 a.m. at the Bradenton Airport for a quick look at Manatee Junior College, one of the state's newer junior colleges. The plane is scheduled to arrive at Tampa International Airport at 11:45 a.m., where the delegation will be met by Tampa officials and buses will speed them to the USF campus.

On campus the group will have lunch in the student cafeteria at 12:30 followed by a brief program and then make a tour of the campus and visit with USF officials. After the tour the group will visit Busch Gardens and then board their plane at 5 p.m. for the return trip to Boca Raton.

The Boca Raton delegation was originally scheduled to visit USF, Wednesday, but the airline strike forced cancellation of the trip. If the strike continues through March 1 the trip will be rescheduled again. On later flights the delegation plans to visit the campus at the University of Florida at Gainesville and later Florida State University at Tallahassee.

Flashes, All-Stars In Lead
The league-leading Desert Rats, riding a four-game winning streak heading into last week's basketball competition, went tumbling to defeat at the hands of the upset-minded Flashes, 44-37, Tuesday, Feb. 21.

The upset sent the Intramural League into a two-way battle for first place between the Rats and the All-Stars, who ran their record to three wins and one loss with a 52-29 win over the Monsters. The Rats have a 4-1 record for the season.

The Flashes hold third place in the league with an even 2-2 record. The Monsters are cellar-dwelling at 0-4.

Nick Constanza led the Flashes to their upset-win over the Rats Tuesday. Dan Meisen, 6 foot 7 inch center, powered the All-Stars to their victory over the Monsters. Tomorrow the Monsters and the Rats square-off in a 4:15 p.m. duel at King High. The All-Stars and the Flashes tangle at the same time on an adjoining court.

Professor Richard Hunter, intramural coordinator, urged more students to attend the games held every Tuesday both from the player and spectator standpoint.

Letters to Editor
The Campus Edition of the Tampa Times will accept letters to the editors in the following editions not exceeding 200 words. All such letters should be addressed to: Editor, Office of Campus Publications, Room 224, University Center. Letters will not be printed which do not bear the signature of the writer, address and phone number. Name will be withheld at the request of the writer. Letters will be printed on merit and news provocativeness.

Michigan Landmark Destroyed by Fire
MONTAGUE, Mich., Feb. 27 (AP)—A fire destroyed the historic Franklin House Hotel, a Michigan landmark of the lumbering era, yesterday.

Two firemen were overcome by smoke and treated at the scene. All the approximately a dozen guests and employees escaped, some by crawling on hands and knees and others down fire ladders.

Franklin House, built in 1873, was a one-time showplace of this area. It was a gathering place for society folks of a time long past.

The old, three-story brick building made a spectacular exit. Flames shot an estimated 175 feet into the air.

Fire Chief Henry Roesler said the damage was between $50,000 and $75,000. He said defective wiring may have caused the blaze.

DOWN 150

Spring Semester's Enrollment at 1800

Dr. Frank Spain, registrar, reports cooperation during the spring registration was exceptional. Students accepted the responsibility of making out their own schedules, and also praised the new policy regarding lectures. This policy has made it easier on both professors and students most agree.

Approximately 1,800 students registered, including all full and part time students. This is about 150 less than registered last semester.

It is impossible to tell whether the decline was caused by failures or drop-outs for other reasons because the source cards for failures are being used first for more pertinent information. However, every student who enrolled in September without restriction was allowed to remain another semester.

Enrollment next fall is expected to be more than double that of last fall. By the fall of 1962 registration may reach 9,000. This last increase will be a result from junior college graduates. There will also be more on-campus residence space for those from out of state.

Sixteen states, other than Florida were represented in the spring registration. They were: Alabama, Indiana, Kansas, Georgia, Iowa, Kentucky, Maine, Michigan, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Texas, North Carolina, and Hawaii. Twenty-eight of Florida's counties were represented. This amounts to one-third of all the states, and not quite half of the counties in Florida.

Early registration for both the summer and fall session will be in April or May. Students who have friends planning to enter the university at either of these times might wish to tell them that the final date for application for summer is June 3, and for fall it is Sept. 9. The number of students admitted is not limited, but an early application will make the process easier.
