Good question. The emails I've seen, forwarded from IT, come from amsimaging.com.

(This gives me some hope that the delays in replyijng mean they have bumped this problem up to e-imagedata.)

The Dunn County news has been published in Menomonie since 1866. And the Wisconsin Historical Society has microfilmed it all. You could contact them, or the

I would even recommend searching the WI area papers first. Just because someone died in DC doesn't mean that they had enough relationships there that would merit an announcement. Because he was buried in WI, he obviously still had connections there, so an obituary would be more common - especially since he died out-of-town and was being buried in-town.

Dear Colleagues,

I am a librarian at a research institution in North Carolina and I am looking for

Dr. Graven was a psychiatrist at St. Elizabeth's Hospital and died in the DC area in August of 1977. As far as we know he was born in Wiconsin I have inquired with the Library of Congress and DC Public Libraries but have not had any luck with locating an obituary. I have also searched ProQuest Historical Newspapers without result. I am not looking for a particular newspaper just anything that is out there.

Thank you all -- those who emailed me directly as well as those who tried to help here publicly.

I received an email today from someone from E-Imagedata, the manufacturer of ScanPro 3000, offering a soluton, a modification they will make to a new carrier at no charge.

I will let you know how it finally works out, but I'm grateful for your suggestions and ultimately, the distributed expertise that led to this possible outcome. I expect other customers may need this modification as well, so it may lead to a solution for all.

I intend to stay on this list, and will participate as I can, especially if I can help with Rhode Island news events and history.

Thank you all.

Best,
Sheila

record the stories of all WWII veterans.   There are over 300 cassette

Hi, Gretchen.

My successor at the Rochester NY public library has a great deal of experience with this, and might be a good contact. She is Christine Ridarsky, and her email is christine.ridarsky at libraryweb.org

Also, there is a local-to-us person who is very very good at this and has worked with many local historians:
John Schroth: http://mediatransferservice.com/

See if she or he can help.

To all,

A book we just received that may be of interest (from 2002):

Family secrets : acts of memory and imagination / Annette Kuhn
Verso, c2002
ISBN: 9781859844069

"Annette Kuhn's work as a theorist of culture has won her a wide reputation for dissecting film and other images in books such as Women's Pictures and The Power of the Image. In Family Secrets, she turns her attention to the deconstruction of pictures closer to home - photographs from her own childhood and images from her shared ethnographic past - to trace a trajectory from personal to collective acts of memory."--BOOK JACKET.

I apologize for the cross-posting. I'm trying to get a broad distribution so that my quest can result in a comprehensive list. I'm posting to the TRANS-GEN, APGMEMBERSONLY, and GENEALIB lists.

I'm trying to compile a listing of published state(province) and regional research guides, new or old, for the U.S. and Canada. I'm looking for books like those produced by NGS/Research in the States Series and George Schweitzer.

My list as it exists today is in my public DropBox folder (you don't have to register to view) at

https://dl.dropboxusercontent.com/u/33582200/Genealogy%20Guides%20to%20Regions%20n %20Repositories.xls

Suggestions for additions are greatly appreciated.

If there is enough interest, I'll repost the link in a few weeks or a month at which time it will incorporate your additions.

I'll
 also see if I can find someone who is interested in publishing a bibilography like this. Could be a series - US states/regions, Canadian states/regions, US repository guides, European guides, etc.

Yes. the focus is genealogical research. But, if a book tells HOW to do historical research, that would count, just not "a history of xxx." Repository guide suggestions are welcome too (e.g., how to research at NARA).

A new carrier with its left spindle replaced by another with a square base was installed yesterday by our local ScanPro distributor at no charge to us. This solves the problem of old reels with square holes spinning too freely on the new ScanPro 3000.

The manufacturer got wind of our problem here and sent a simple and sensible solution downstream quickly.

Thank you We are grateful to all for your suggestions and tales of your

WHAT'S NEW IN RELIC

March 2014

The Ruth E. Lloyd Information Center for Genealogy and Local History (RELIC), Prince William Public Library System, Bull Run Regional Library, 8051 Ashton Avenue, Manassas, VA 20109. 703-792-4540 Email: relic2 at pwcgov.org <mailto:relic2 at pwcgov.org> .

To read the latest lists of new materials available in RELIC click on What's New in RELIC.aspx> .

HISTORIC PRINCE WILLIAM

TO HOST RON MAYER, MARCH 20

If you missed military historian Ron Mayer?s excellent slide presentation last year about ?The Battle of Bristoe Station and Its Importance in the Civil War,? you have another opportunity. Historic Prince William is sponsoring the talk to be given on Thursday, March 20, 2014, at 7:30 p.m. in Room 107 of the Development Services Building, at the Prince William County Government Center off the Prince William County Parkway, at 5 County Complex Court. Mr. Mayer is a retired Air Force officer, a member of the Prince William County Historical Commission and the Bull Run Civil War Roundtable. He has extensively researched the battles that took place in Prince William County. He explains military situations through the use of current day mapping and illustrations that enhance his presentation. This program is free and open to the public. For more information see http://historicprincewilliam.org <http://historicprincewilliam.org/> .

RELIC PROGRAMS

Here are our latest offerings. Funding for RELIC programs is provided by the Friends of Central and Bull Run Libraries. Sign language interpretation is available for Prince William Public Library programs if requested at least three weeks in advance. To be notified of upcoming programs and new resources in RELIC, visit eNotifications/subscribe <http://eservice.pwcgov.org/eServices/eNotifications/subscribe.aspx>   and select Library ? What?s New in RELIC. Unless otherwise stated, all these programs will take place at the community room at Bull Run Regional Library, 8051 Ashton Avenue, Manassas, VA. Programs may last from 60 to 90 minutes. You may register for any of these programs at 703-792-4540 or relic2 at pwcgov.org <mailto:relic2 at pwcgov.org> .   For details see RELIC Programs <http://www.pwcgov.org/government/dept/library/RELIC/Pages/RELIC-Programs.aspx> .

March 12, 2 p.m. ? Genealogy 101, with Beverly Veness.

March 25, 7 p.m. ? Organizing Your Genealogy Research, with Diane Nesmeyer.
[rescheduled]

April 17, 11 a.m. ? Identification and Care of Family Photographs, with Dale Neighbors.

April 22, 7 p.m. ? Manassas Gap Railroad Independent Line, with Clark Spitler

        ?Genealogy Doctor?: free counseling (contact us for an appointment).

GENEALOGY 101: GETTING STARTED

Presented by Beverly Veness

 Those curious about their family history have an opportunity to learn about methods, strategies and resources for tracing their roots. This free 90-minute program, conducted by Beverly Veness of the RELIC staff, will highlight the numerous free genealogical resources available at RELIC and will explore basic techniques for tracking ancestors.

This program will also be presented at Bull Run Regional Library, on Wednesday, March 12, at 2 p.m. To register please contact RELIC at Relic2 at pwcgov.org, or at (703) 792-4540.

ORGANIZING YOUR GENEALOGY RESEARCH

Presented by Diane Nesmeyer

        Do you love to research but hate organizing your findings? Or are you just overwhelmed and not sure how to begin arranging all of the documents you?ve collected in a way that makes sense? Learn strategies for tracking the tangible results of your research. You will ultimately save time and become a better genealogist. This program will be presented by veteran genealogist Diane Nesmeyer on Tuesday, March 25, at 7 p.m., at Bull Run Regional Library. (This program was snowed out in January. Ms. Nesmeyer graciously agreed to reschedule it in March.)

To reserve a seat for this free program, contact RELIC at (703) 792-4540 or at relic2 at pwcgov.org <mailto:RELIC2 at pwcgov.org> .

IDENTIFICATION AND CARE

OF FAMILY PHOTOGRAPHS

Presented by Dale Neighbors

Dale Neighbors, Prints and Photographs Collection Coordinator for Special Collections at the Library of Virginia, will share his expertise on how to identify and care for your family photos.   Learn about popular historic photographic methods ? including daguerreotypes, ambrotypes, glass plate negatives, and film negatives, and how improper handling can cause or further deterioration. Get advice from an expert. This free program will be presented on Thursday, April 17, at 11 a.m., at Bull Run Regional Library.

To reserve a seat for this event, contact RELIC at (703) 792-4540 or at relic2 at pwcgov.org.

MANASSAS GAP RAILROAD

INDEPENDENT LINE

An Informal Survey by Clark Spitler

From 1851 to 1857, the Manassas Gap Railroad attempted to build an independent line running from Gainesville to Alexandria. Although the line was never completed, the cuts and fills made in preparation for it provided important protective embankments during the Second Battle of Manassas, 1862. Clark Spitler has explored the complete route of the line and photographed surviving segments of it, resulting in an illustrated book. He will take you on an armchair tour of the rail line on Tuesday, April 22, at 7 p.m., at Bull Run Regional Library.

To reserve a seat for this free program, contact RELIC at (703) 792-4540 or at relic2 at pwcgov.org.

 ?Genealogy Doctor? Accepting Appointments for Research Help

Don Wilson, head of RELIC, sets aside time each month for free private sessions to mentor persons researching their family history. A thirty-minute session can be used to discuss and analyze an historical or genealogical problem that has stumped you.

Daytime and evening hours are possible. To set up an appointment, please call RELIC at 703-792-4540 or email relic2 at pwcgov.org . Bull Run Regional Library is located at 8051 Ashton Avenue, Manassas, VA 20109.

Have a question about Prince William County history, places or families? Need guidance with your genealogical research? You may contact RELIC staff for help and advice at Ask RELIC <http://www.pwcgov.org/government/dept/library/RELIC/Pages/Ask-RELIC.aspx> or by calling us at 703-792-4540.   Hours, September to June (ET):
Monday-Thursday 10am-9pm, Friday-Saturday 10am-5pm, Sunday noon-5pm. Closed Federal holidays.

I've tried all kinds of things to see if this is a true periodical title. I'm not having any luck. The citation (per the patron) is M. S. D. A. R., vol. 2 (1934-1936) pg. 273-275 and it's an article on Bible record for a Jacob Haley. I've tried PERSI and JSTOR. I've Googled and tried WorldCat. I thought maybe it's MSSDAR which might put it in the DAR area. But I'm not having any luck there. It doesn't seem to match the DAR periodicals for the volume and date.

If anyone has a suggestion, I would appreciate it.

Thanks!

Cheryl,

But you didn't write to me! Please email me off list, and we'll figure this out. It is a reference to a DAR Genealogical Records Committee Report. We are the library with the master collection and the proper citations to these things, but we are not on WorldCat yet (someday I hope). And our catalog has been online since the late 1990s!!!! So, if you see DAR we are here waiting to answer questions. I'm not sure which "M" state this is referring to.

Yes, I saw Eric's reply. Good for him for jumping in!

Will you be at the TLA conference? I will be booth-sitting, so may not get to many of the AGLHRT events. (boo!)

Take care,

Subject: [Genealib] M. S. D. A. R. (periodical?)

I've tried all kinds of things to see if this is a true periodical title. I'm not having any luck. The citation (per the patron) is M. S. D. A. R., vol. 2 (1934-1936) pg. 273-275 and it's an article on Bible record for a Jacob Haley. I've tried PERSI and JSTOR. I've Googled and tried WorldCat. I thought maybe it's MSSDAR which might put it in the DAR area. But I'm not having any luck there. It doesn't seem to match the DAR periodicals for the volume and date.

If anyone has a suggestion, I would appreciate it.

Thanks!

I apologize for the cross-posting. I'm trying to get a broad distribution so that my quest can result in a comprehensive list. I'm posting to the TRANS-GEN, APGMEMBERSONLY, and GENEALIB lists.

I'm trying to compile a listing of published state(province) and regional research guides, new or old, for the U.S. and Canada. I'm looking for books like those produced by NGS/Research in the States Series and George Schweitzer.

My list as it exists today is in my public DropBox folder (you don't have to register to view) at https://dl.dropboxusercontent.com/u/33582200/Genealogy%20Guides%20to%20Regions%20n
%20Repositories.xls

Suggestions for additions are greatly appreciated.

If there is enough interest, I'll repost the link in a few weeks or a month at which time it will incorporate your additions.

I'll also see if I can find someone who is interested in publishing a bibilography like this. Could be a series - US states/regions, Canadian states/regions, US repository guides, European guides, etc.

Has anyone indexed obituaries or other material using the Polaris Fusion template?
In our online catalog our entries are not searchable by obituaries format. Also a digital icon displays, which is misleading, since this is only an index to obituaries. What fields have you entered to handle this situation? Your help

ANNOUNCING A MEMORIAL   March 9 2014
HONORING ALL THE KNOWN WORLD WAR II, U.S. SUBMARINE MEN LOST
A new Encyclopedia in six volumes   This work has been ongoing since the year 2004.
The U.S. Submarine Men's organizations use the words "Perpetuate the Memories" in their mottoes.
Monuments and Memorials have been erected in every State listing the boats lost with a brief listing of the names.
However until recently, little has been known about each man.
Extensive and costly research has been done to gather details, such as a basic genealogy with a history, including many WWII era photos of these men.
The work has been documented and published as:

All,
     Can anyone suggest a United States wide digital newspaper subscription service that does not cost over $5,000 a year? Newspaper archive is WAY too costly. I have Genealogy Bank myself and it does not seem to cover enough historical sources for states. The iteration of News Bank we had a number of years ago was clumsy and not easy to use but is it worth considering at this point?
Input please!

I don't know about costs, but there is no single newspaper subscription service that will cover the United States. And, as each service covers different papers for different time periods, your best choice will be different than other libraries.

My recommendation:
1. find out what service best covers the area(s) your patrons research

2. include links to Chronicling America and links to your state's major online Digital Newspaper repository(s) on your website. Each state has/had a digitizing program. Some put their scans up on Chronicling America while others either developed their own page or put the images up on an existing project, frequently run by either the State Library or a major university.

3. Add a link to Elphind.com (a newspaper search engine). Google News (news.google.com) also searches some accessible newspapers (not all free), but you need to learn how to persuade it you are looking for old newspapers, not current - via advanced search.

 Follow the Online Historical Newspapers blog (http://onlinehistoricalnewspapers.blogspot.com) and link to his directory of online papers (https://sites.google.com/site/onlinenewspapersite).

Dear Librarians:

Our genealogical society is reducing its inventory of back issues of its journal, Le Raconteur. We are donating needed issues to Louisiana genealogical libraries if they can be picked up in or around Baton Rouge, Louisiana. For others, we are offering them for sale at $1 each issue postpaid if 10 or more are ordered. All issues from 2005-13 are available while supplies last. Orders must be prepaid before being shipped. PayPal is accepted. For more information on our journal and other publications, please see our website www.lecomite.org or feel free to contact me directly.

Register Personal Digital Archiving 2014 Conference: "Building Stronger Personal Digital Archiving Communities"

PDA 2014 explores the intersection between individuals, public institutions, and private companies engaged in the creation, preservation, and ongoing use of the digital records of our daily lives. The conference reflects upon the current status of personal archiving, its achievements, challenges, issues, and needs as evidenced through research, education, case studies, practitioner experiences, best practices, the development of tools and services, storage options, curation, and economic sustainability. There is also interest in the role of libraries, archives and other cultural heritage organizations in supporting personal digital archiving through outreach or in conjunction with developing community history collections.

        June 6, 2014
Message-ID: <090b01cf438f$bd9ad920$38d08b60$@net>

The Southern California Genealogical Society announces a FREE three-hour Librarians' Genealogy Boot Camp on Friday morning, June 6, from 8:30 a.m. to 12:00 noon. Boot Camp will be held in conjunction with the Southern California Genealogy Jamboree, which will be held Friday through Sunday, June 6 to 8, 2014, at the Los Angeles Marriott Burbank Airport in Burbank, California. After the Boot Camp ends at noon, attendees are invited to wander through the exhibit hall as our guests. Attendees receive a printed syllabus at no additional charge.

We are particularly excited about this year's Boot Camp courses, which were developed specially for Jamboree 2014. Our exceptional speakers, George G. Morgan and Drew Smith, aka The Genealogy Guys(SM) podcasters, know genealogy from both sides of the reference desk.

Although the sessions are provided at no cost, we do require advance registration. Attendance is limited to 100. Register online at http://tinyurl.com/JamboreeLibrarians.

The Presentations:

"Good Cop, Better Cop: How to Politely Interrogate Your Patron." Learn how to help your patron identify and focus on their genealogical research need while still allowing them to tell their family story. (George G. Morgan and Drew Smith, MLS).

"Quick and Easy Video Tutorials: How to Educate Your Patrons 24/7." Your newest genealogy patrons may not have set foot in your library, and might never! So how can you create video tutorials for them using free tools and then publish them online? In this session, we'll demonstrate how easy it to produce and publish simple videos that educate your patrons about your facility, your services, your online resources, and the best genealogical practices. (Drew Smith, MLS)

"Fine-Tuning Your Genealogy Collection: How to Provide the Resources Your Patrons Need." Every genealogy library needs a good core collection of resources that can meet the needs of most patrons, but your local demographics should determine your collection's focus and development. Learn how to maximize the use of your physical space by providing the right mix of print, microfilm, and online genealogy resources. (George G. Morgan).

The Speakers:

George G. Morgan is president of Aha! Seminars, Inc., a Tampa Bay-based company that has been providing training to library personnel and to genealogists since 1996. George is an internationally recognized genealogy expert who presents at local, state, national, international genealogical conferences, on cruises, and in webinars.

George is the prolific author of eleven books and literally hundreds of articles for magazines, journals, newsletters, in genealogical publications, and at online sites in the U.S., Canada, the U.K, Singapore, and elsewhere. McGraw-Hill published the third edition of his How to Do Everything: Genealogy, in 2012, and published his eleventh book, Advanced Genealogy Research Techniques, co-authored with Drew Smith, in 2013.

He was VP of Membership for the Federation of Genealogical Societies from 2010-2013. He is a past president of International Society of Family History Writers and Editors (ISFHWE), and past director of the Florida State Genealogical Society and the Florida Genealogical Society (Tampa).

Drew Smith, MLS, is a librarian at the University of South Florida (USF) Tampa Library. Since 2007 he has been President of the Florida Genealogical Society (Tampa), and since July 2013 has been Chair of the Family History Information Standards Organisation.

Drew is co-author of the 2013 McGraw-Hill book Advanced Genealogy Research Techniques, author of the 2009 GPC book Social Networking for Genealogists, and "Rootsmithing with Technology" columnist for the Federation of Genealogical Societies' FORUM magazine. He has written extensively for such magazines as NGS NewsMagazine (now NGS Magazine), Genealogical Computing, and Digital Genealogist. He has previously served on the boards of the Association of Professional Genealogists (as Secretary), the Federation of Genealogical Societies, and Florida State Genealogical Society (FSGS). He continues to administer the GENEALIB electronic mailing list with over 1200 genealogy librarians as subscribers, a list he founded in 1996.

frustrating to have to go all the way out to make any changes and then finding the to maneuver around in. Has anyone found helpful hints and tricks? Becky

Becky,

This answer refers to Ancestry.com, not Ancestry Library Edition. There are several options on the Advanced Search that you can set which are "sticky," meaning that they will stay from search to search and won't change until you reset them. The first is "Match all terms exactly" at the top of the Advanced Search. (Personally, I don't use that, as you can end up excluding a record that is "close," but not "exact.") The second set of options that will greatly control your results are down at the bottom of the search in the "Collection Priority" section. There you can limit your results to only collections from a particular country and/or specific collections types, such as historical records. Be sure to check the box "Show only records from these collections." (If you don't check that box, other countries or record types will appear in results, but will be lower on the list.)

We have posted several search tips lately on the Ancestry.com blog. Anne Mitchell's post about controlling locations is especially good:
http://blogs.ancestry.com/ancestry/2014/03/06/ask-ancestry-anne-search-tip-1-controlling-location-in-your-searches/

There is also a playlist of videos with search tips on the Ancestry.com YouTube

            Is anyone having trouble with the new Ancestry site? I am ready to drop my personal subscription and just use FamilySearch. I find it incredibly frustrating to have to go all the way out to make any changes and then finding the correct field is impossible. I?ve been using the Old Search, which was MUCH easier to maneuver around in. Has anyone found helpful hints and tricks? Becky

Good afternoon:

?I was originally going to respond off list but thought this information may be of interest to others.? Ann a great link to Becky's question.? Thank you.

I would like let everyone know that Ancestry Library Edition has been using new search for sometime now plus now added new filters to help control the results as well as expand or tighten the results without entering a new search.? We have also added a much better way to e-mail documents home from the library setting.? Yeah!? The old search? was remove from the site because we could no longer support old technology.? That is the double edge sword - new technology has been it easier to bring digital documents to your finger tips saving money and time in doing research.? The downside is that technology is always changing and forcing all online providers to up date and move forward with best tools.?

I would like to remind everyone that Ancestry has a wonderful army of customer support through out the world.? The US phone number is ? 800-262-3787.? When reaching out to them have your example in front of you.? The team will want to replica your experience and have you both work on the solution.

Other? links you may find helpful:

    ? http://help.ancestry.com/app/home ?(this is where Ann found the document she referenced)

    ? http://blogs.ancestry.com/ancestry/ ?(we are a chatty company and this is a great way to follow changes from searching to new records)

All of the above links do not require membership to Ancestry.com.?

All Ancestry Library Edition questions may be e-mail to alt at ancestry.com .? You can also reach out to ProQuest for webinars/training and customer support as well.

Hello Genealibbers,

The Van Alstyne Leader is our local newspaper for Van Alstyne, TX. We are a city in lower Grayson County which used to be part of the Red River district. This area of Texas was settled during the time of the Republic of Texas with most settlers coming along the same routes as the rest of East Texas. There were a lot of folks from GA, AL, MS, AR, TN, KY, MO, IL, IN, and of course, OK/Indian Territory.

Thanks to a grant from the Institute of Museum and Library Services and the Texas State Library and Archives Commission we were able to have all of our archives of this newspaper placed on microfilm. We were also able to buy the ScanPro800 so we can print and save to flash drive any articles on the microfilm.

I say all this to let you know if you have a researcher who needs an article, obituary, etc. from our newspapers please contact me. At this time we have only the beginnings of an index so you should provide a close approximation of the date for what you want. Though we are a small library we will do whatever we can to assist a patron whether near or far.

I tried things like it about 10 years ago to try and "digitize" our ready reference cards for easier retrieval and security.

Sadly it did not fly. What I cobbled together did work, but there was big push-back from the director at that time and from the IT dept. So it stopped.

I think Omeka could work for this - just Google it, and you get many examples of it being used for just such a task.

Two things I finally figured out (I also prefer the old search) in additional to using "Match All Terms Exactly".

1) Change "Use Default Settings" to "Restrict to Exact" to avoid getting thousands of records that have nothing to do with what you asked for.
Obviously my definition of "Default" is not the same as theirs. Under the "Restrict to Exact" you can choose Soundex to broaden the search. And you can always use the wild cards.

2) When the results are displayed, chose the tab "Categories" on the upper right corner instead of "Records". It organized the results like the old search instead of giving you what seems to be a random list of items.

I want to thank everyone who sent me links to their projects. I'm looking at them all and at links from the Omeka pages.

I know that Omeka is primarily a digital management software and we hope to have digits to manage someday <grin>, but right now we're looking for a way to incorporate our many home produced indexes in to one database.
(E.g. our Biography Index, http://gastonlibrary.org/index.cfm/research/genealogy-local-history/gaston-lincoln-biography-index/.)
Does anyone know of a citation index like this in Omeka? Would you recommend other softwares?

APOLOGIES FOR CROSS POSTING

Register for the Personal Digital Archiving 2014 Conference, April 10-11, 2014

"Building Stronger Personal Digital Archiving Communities"

PDA 2014 explores the intersection between individuals, public institutions, and private companies engaged in the creation, preservation, and ongoing use of the digital records of our daily lives. The conference reflects upon the current status of personal archiving, its achievements, challenges, issues, and needs as evidenced
through research, education, case studies, practitioner experiences, best practices, the development of tools and services, storage options, curation, and economic sustainability. There is also interest in the role of libraries, archives
and other cultural heritage organizations in supporting personal digital archiving through outreach or in conjunction with developing community history collections.

Keynote Speakers: "The Social Life of Personal Information," Andrea Copeland, Assistant Professor, Library and Information Science, Indiana University-Purdue University, Indianapolis

"Kurt, Jimi and Lots of Heart: One Biographer's Research Methods," Charles R.
Cross, music historian, author and biographer

I don't know the answer to your question, but have you tried speaking with the Digital Information Management Program (DIMP) at the State Library of North Carolina? Michelle Underhill, who is director of the program, may have some ideas for you.

On a personal note, I think this page is great! I have ancestors from Lincoln County and love the idea of this index!

Subject: [Genealib] New book of interest
Message-ID: <1395765107.39070.YahooMailBasic@web162406.mail.bf1.yahoo.com>

A new book that may be of interest (includes family names and photos!):

Encounter on the Great Plains : Scandinavian settlers and the dispossession of Dakota Indians, 1890-1930 / Karen V. Hansen
Oxford University Press, c2013
ISBN: 9780199746811

Publ. desc.: In 1904, the first Scandinavian settlers moved onto the Spirit Lake Dakota Indian Reservation. These land-hungry immigrants struggled against severe poverty, often becoming the sharecropping tenants of Dakota landowners. Yet the homesteaders' impoverishment did not impede their quest to acquire Indian land, and by 1929 Scandinavians owned more reservation acreage than their Dakota neighbors.
Norwegian homesteader Helena Haugen Kanten put it plainly: "We stole the land from the Indians."

With this largely unknown story at its center, Encounter on the Great Plains brings together two dominant processes in American history: the unceasing migration of newcomers to North America, and the protracted dispossession of indigenous peoples who inhabited the continent.

Drawing on fifteen years of archival research and 130 oral histories, Karen V.
Hansen explores the epic issues of co-existence between settlers and Indians and the effect of racial hierarchies, both legal and cultural, on marginalized peoples.
Hansen offers a wealth of intimate detail about daily lives and community events, showing how both Dakotas and Scandinavians resisted assimilation and used their rights as new citizens to combat attacks on their cultures. In this flowing narrative, women emerge as resourceful agents of their own economic interests.
Dakota women gained autonomy in the use of their allotments, while Scandinavian women staked and "proved up" their own claims.

Hansen chronicles the intertwined stories of Dakotas and immigrants-women and men, farmers, domestic servants, and day laborers. Their shared struggles reveal efforts to maintain a language, sustain a culture, and navigate their complex ties to more than one nation. The history of the American West cannot be told without these voices: their long connections, intermittent conflicts, and profound influence over one another defy easy categorization and provide a new perspective on the processes of immigration and land taking.

HeritageQuest? I don't have hard copies, :(, but that is what would cross my mind.

Heritage Quest only has the historic PERSI. If you want the most recent, you'll need to check with Find My Past.

Message-ID: <CAPXojw9VJWTFZ68N6SVUuMm3HbQ0=cXTzk7gbkREbGrj5pHEAg@mail.gmail.com>

Workshop attendees do not have to be a MARAC (Mid-Atlantic Regional Archives Conference) member nor does one need to attend the entire conference to register for a workshop.

Introduction to Genealogy for the Unsuspecting Archivist
24 April 2014
Hyatt Regency Rochester
Full Day Workshop: 9:00 am - 4:00 pm
Cost: $80.00
Instructor: Mary K. Mannix, Frederick County Public Libraries

Archivists have often had very ambivalent relationships with genealogists even though family historians are the primary patron base for many institutions. Those institutions that are not frequented by genealogists regularly utilize family search methodology, whether they know it or not, for such regular tasks as researching donors and writing finding aids. The more archivists know about basic genealogy, the better prepared they will be to locate information on any person, dead or alive. This workshop will provide a crash course on how to handle the "pesky" family historian and provide an overview on basic genealogy methodology. The most popular online tools and subscription databases will also be discussed. You may find that genealogists aren't that bad after all and that you actually may have collections that will interest this misunderstood, yet very supportive, clientele. Just as genealogists are advised to understand the world of archives and learn to talk our talk, perhaps it is time we all learned to talk genealogy.

For registration information, and further information about the conference, please go to http://www.marac.info/upcoming-conferences.

I contacted the Allen County library a few weeks ago about the fate of the PERSI files now on Heritage Quest. They told me that HQ would retain them for 3 years from the time of the announcement that FindMyPast was buying the rights -- so now we're looking at a little over 2 years. I imagine that this will be a big blow to HQ. We get our subscription through NC Live, our statewide databases, and I've always talked up PERSI as something not available elsewhere since many of our patrons view HQ as an inferior Ancestry, albeit we can offer at-home access.

When I talked to a FindMyPast rep at FGS this year, he told that they hadn't even thought about offering library subscriptions. Also, if they do offer such a subscription, I doubt that my library could afford it.
If we could buy a subscription, I know that they are now including content for the U. S. market, but my patrons would make little use of their British content.

I'm pretty depressed about the whole thing. If I had hard copies of the index, I'd be clearing a shelf for them right up front and center.

I had forgotten about that!!!! Yes, that is all very distressing; like Anne I really talk up Persi as the forgotten treasure of HQ, as I'm sure many of us do. I am hanging on to ALE by the skin of my teeth; I won't be able to afford anything else even if offered. That makes me sad. Mary M.

Sent from my phone, in case lots of "typos". Well, that is the story I am sticking to.

We have our set in the basement in storage, but we may eventually have to bring it back upstairs into the main reading room if a solution for this is not forthcoming.
Of course, the printed volumes end in 1997, so there is already a 17-year gap between hard copy and electronic.

This is indeed an unfortunate development. Transitions are rarely with bumps. Let's hope that a reasonably priced institutional membership is in the works.

I contacted the Allen County library a few weeks ago about the fate of the PERSI files now on Heritage Quest. They told me that HQ would retain them for 3 years from the time of the announcement that FindMyPast was buying the rights -- so now we're looking at a little over 2 years. I imagine that this will be a big blow to HQ. We get our subscription through NC Live, our statewide databases, and I've always talked up PERSI as something not available elsewhere since many of our patrons view HQ as an inferior Ancestry, albeit we can offer at-home access.

When I talked to a FindMyPast rep at FGS this year, he told that they hadn't even thought about offering library subscriptions. Also, if they do offer such a subscription, I doubt that my library could afford it.
If we could buy a subscription, I know that they are now including content for the U. S. market, but my patrons would make little use of their British content.

I'm pretty depressed about the whole thing. If I had hard copies of the index, I'd be clearing a shelf for them right up front and center.

I have registered for a free account with Find My Past which will allow us to look at their indexes. We won't see full citations or content, but enough of it to satisfy our needs.

https://www.findmypast.com/content/terms-and-conditions

Heritage Quest's version of PERSI shows the article title, name of the magazine, place of publication, year, month, volume and issue number, and record category.

Find My Past's free version of PERSI allows you to search by surname, keyword, record type, and place name, just as you can on Heritage Quest. It will show you the article title, name of the magazine, and year. The FMP subscription version would only add the other fields shown at Heritage Quest. They are not really needed in order to identify a pertinent article and request it through interlibrary loan.

Thanks Don. This is starting to sound like a "right hand/left hand" situation with the contacts. We will all now look into this version.

Personal note: Perpetual genealogist that I am, I spent 3 hours in Don's collection back in July while my daughter was in labor at the nearby hospital in Manassas, VA. I even found some information I did not have on my daughter and the-brand-new granddaughter Lydia's ancestors in Prince William County while there. Since I couldn't be in the labor room, it seemed best to go to the Bull Run Regional Library in the early afternoon to beat the miserable traffic we have getting to Manassas from closer in to DC. Lydia arrived shortly after I finally left the library and went to the hospital -- I hope she didn't delay arriving just because I was doing research on her ancestors!

In preparation for a talk I'm giving to a group of librarians, I spoke to the North American rep for FindMyPast about a month ago to ask about pricing for libraries and to ask about a title list for full-text titles (as they are going to be adding some of those). At that time he said that the pricing was only for individuals but that they were working on an option for libraries to subscribe. He also said that they currently only had New York Genealogical and Biographical Record for 1874-1920 in the database but would be adding a title list as they add more full-text titles. That project is in its infancy.

W1. Copyright Fundamentals for Archivists and Librarians
Full Day Workshop: 9:00 am - 4:00 pm
Cost: $80.00
Instructor: Peter Hirtle, Cornell University

Even in the best of times, the uncertain copyright status of archival and special collection materials makes many archivists and librarians uncomfortable. As more and more repositories think about making material available on the web, anxiety about possible copyright infringement increases. This workshop will explore what strategies special collections can follow
to minimize the risks inherent when reproducing and distributing unique and/or unpublished material. Topics covered will include an introduction to basic copyright law and the Digital Millennium Copyright Act; exemptions to copyright, such as fair use and the specific exemptions for libraries and archives; methods for assessing the copyright status of materials; and issues associated with particular formats. Attendees should leave with a better understanding of the basics of copyright and be in a better position to work with senior administrators to establish a mutually acceptable level of institutional risk.

W2. Project Management for Archival Processing
Full Day Workshop: 9:00 am - 4:00 pm
Cost: $80.00
Instructor: Vincent Novara, University of Maryland

This full-day workshop focuses on introductory techniques and common tools for project management. Workshop participants will learn how to establish, plan, implement, and execute archival projects, as well as define requirements, goals, and objectives. Attention will be given to strengthening prioritization skills and workflow planning as they pertain to processing projects executed by various levels of staffing.
The workshop also pertains to interpretive projects such as exhibitions and digital initiatives. Furthermore, we will discuss how to apply
these tools for the solo archivist. The day will feature a series of nine exercises in workbooks provided by the instructor, as well as a separate workbook of sample
documents. A PowerPoint presentation displays all relevant information.

W4. Dating 19th-Century Portrait Photographs
Half Day Workshop: 1:00 pm - 4:00 pm
Cost: $45.00
Instructor: Gary D. Saretzky, Monmouth County Archives

Old portrait photographs are often found without dates, but trained archivists can frequently estimate dates fairly precisely based on the type of photograph; sitter's identity and clothing; physical characteristics of the photo, including mounting styles and mount information;
photographer; and other factors. The date may be needed by researchers, but it is also helpful for cataloging and to confirm identification of the subject. In this half-day workshop, the presenter will explain major types of 19th century photographic processes used
for portraiture, indicate when they were popular, and teach techniques for dating photographs. Participants will learn how to use a micrometer to measure mounting board thickness. Slide presentations with several hundred examples will show dated cartes-de-visite,
cabinet cards,
and ferrotypes to help participants learn how the look of such images and their mounts evolved between the 1850s and 1900. The presenter

Chesney, Cheyney: Apart from a few isolated medieval references, this name came to

I have a copy of the book (6th edition) and it doesn't show SIF 32, it shows MIF.
This is the abbreviation for More Irish Families (incorporating Supplement to Irish Families). Maybe the SIF in her book refers to the Supplement.

I'm not sure what came back. I sent some documents from our microfilm reader and it doen't report what's returned. These were a marriage, cemetery, and funeral home record. Then I send the obituaries from our office computer and that will show what's returned and it doesn't show anything. I made paper copies of everything and will get everything in the mail to you.

I was hoping to find his naturalization, but I think I did find him in an index in Wichita, Sedgwick County, Kansas. There is a John Anderson a few lines below him.
That could be his brother, but all I have for him are the initials J.E. He and his family went to Stanislaus County, California. Found them on the 1940 U.S. Census.

I would look in Wichita for the marriage for Axel and Lena. Lena's death lists her parents' names so that should help you. Her death certificate will be in Kansas since she died in Udall. The woman who made her funeral arrangements is buried there and she's listed as daughter on the cemetery record.

I think I did find some information on the Moore line, but haven't found where Charlotte is buried? Did she remarry after the death of Verner?

W1. Copyright Fundamentals for Archivists and Librarians
Full Day Workshop: 9:00 am - 4:00 pm
Cost: $80.00
Instructor: Peter Hirtle, Cornell University

Even in the best of times, the uncertain copyright status of archival
and special collection materials makes many archivists and librarians uncomfortable. As more
and more repositories think about making material available on the web, anxiety about possible copyright infringement increases. This workshop will explore what strategies special collections can follow
to minimize the risks inherent when reproducing and distributing unique and/or unpublished material. Topics covered will include an introduction to basic copyright law and the Digital Millennium
Copyright Act; exemptions to copyright, such as fair use and the specific exemptions for libraries and archives; methods for assessing
the copyright status of materials; and issues associated with particular formats. Attendees
should leave with a better understanding of the basics of copyright
and be in a better position to work with senior administrators to establish a mutually acceptable level of institutional risk.

W2. Project Management for Archival Processing
Full Day Workshop: 9:00 am - 4:00 pm
Cost: $80.00
Instructor: Vincent Novara, University of Maryland

This full-day workshop focuses on introductory techniques and common tools for project management. Workshop participants will learn how to establish, plan, implement, and execute archival projects, as well as define requirements, goals, and objectives. Attention will be given to strengthening prioritization skills and workflow planning as they pertain to processing projects executed by various levels of staffing.
The workshop also pertains to interpretive projects such as exhibitions and digital initiatives. Furthermore, we will discuss how to apply
these tools for the solo archivist. The day will feature a series of nine exercises in workbooks provided by the instructor, as well as a separate workbook of sample
documents. A PowerPoint presentation displays all relevant information.

W4. Dating 19th-Century Portrait Photographs
Half Day Workshop: 1:00 pm - 4:00 pm
Cost: $45.00
Instructor: Gary D. Saretzky, Monmouth County Archives

Old portrait photographs are often found without dates, but trained archivists can frequently estimate dates fairly precisely based on the type of photograph; sitter's identity and clothing; physical characteristics of the photo, including mounting styles and mount
information;
photographer; and other factors. The date may be needed by researchers, but it is also helpful for cataloging and to confirm identification of the subject. In this half-day workshop, the presenter will explain major types of 19th century photographic
processes used
for portraiture, indicate when they were popular, and teach techniques for dating photographs. Participants will learn how to use a micrometer to measure mounting board thickness. Slide presentations
with several hundred examples will show dated cartes-de-visite,
cabinet cards,
and ferrotypes to help participants learn how the look of such images and their mounts evolved between the 1850s and 1900. The presenter will also bring vintage examples of the various processes and discuss how to identify and date them. After the lecture, participants will

This following work is copyrighted.   The primary objectives are wide distribution to Libraries, Archives, Museums and the lkie. I would have no objections to a direct descendant using specific sections related to his or her relative who died during WWII. Questions on Copyright and Fair Use are sure to pop up. I am unsure on preparing a proper response.
Any respose would be appreciated.

ANNOUNCING A MEMORIAL   March 9 2014
HONORING ALL THE KNOWN WORLD WAR II, U.S. SUBMARINE MEN LOST

A new Encyclopedia in six volumes   This work has been ongoing since the year 2004.
The U.S. Submarine Men's organizations use the words "Perpetuate the Memories" in their mottoes.
Monuments and Memorials have been erected in every State listing the boats lost with a brief listing of the names.
However until recently, little has been known about each man.
Extensive and costly research has been done to gather details, such as a basic genealogy with a history, including many WWII era   photos of these men.
The work has been documented and published as:

Assistant Library Director

The National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, a non-profit membership organization, is seeking a talented and forward-thinking Assistant Library Director to serve as an integral part of the management team of the DAR Library.

The National Headquarters, located across from the Ellipse and near the White House, at 1776 D Street, is well known as the home of Constitution Hall and Memorial Continental Hall, both National Historic Landmarks. It includes the DAR Library, one of the nation's premier genealogical research centers and ranked as one of the most important national institutions based on the uniqueness of sources.
Many thousands of volumes of genealogical compilations, record abstracts, and other materials such as family histories, cemetery record transcriptions, and Bible records are available only at the DAR Library.

We are looking for an experienced professional who will work closely with the Library Director to develop and carry out its plans, policies, and delivery of programs and services offered at the Library; who will manage and oversee the operation of the reference desk and staff; will help ensure the smooth functioning of the Library and overall department operations; who has a genuine passion, interest in and knowledge of genealogical/historical research, and a genuine desire to share that passion with others.

Essential Duties Include:

   *   Oversees the staffing, function, and schedules of the reference/information desks and the Seimes Technology Center, as well as supervising and managing the Search Services activities and staff.

   *   Provides informed genealogical reference services and referrals to all researchers utilizing all types of information media such as books, periodicals, online databases, other internet resources, CD-ROMS, etc.
   *   Works with the Library Director in developing, overseeing, and carrying-out a variety of programs and community outreach initiatives and activities.
   *   Gives library tours or orientations and is comfortable speaking to large groups.
   *   Manages and oversees the work and work assignments of volunteers, as needed.
   *   Participates in the selection of new books and other research materials and provides recommendations for purchases for the collection
   *   Assists with the collection of content for Library publications and indexing of new publications.
   *   Works with Library Director or others on projects to de-accession duplicate books and other materials from the collection.
   *   Takes the lead on software updates, researching new software options, if appropriate, and troubleshooting software issues, as needed.

Qualifications:
As part of our long term succession planning the qualifications and requirements are as follows:

Education:

   *   Master of Library Science (MLS) required.
   *   Bachelor's degree required, preferably in American History.

Required Knowledge, Skills and Abilities:
*   Minimum 5 years of Library experience.
*   Minimum 2 years management/supervisory experience.
*   Experience using library-specific software and superior skills using Microsoft Office.
*   Must have demonstrable experience working in a genealogical/historical collection or experience working frequently with a genealogical/historical collection of a library or similar research center.
*   Previous experience in genealogy research acquired through accredited or credible coursework is desirable.
*   Experience developing programs, community outreach opportunities and other activities that help promote and showcase the library's collection.
*   Experience working with visitors or patrons providing information, resources, or services, preferably serving on a reference desk.

*   Excellent management and supervisory capabilities; specifically the ability to lead a team and inspire excellence.
*   Outstanding written, verbal and listening communication skills and ability to interact effectively with broad range of people, including a diverse staff, executive committee, a large membership and the public. Strong organizational and interpersonal skills are essential.
*   Applies knowledge of professional library principles, best practices and procedures and maintains a current awareness of trends and developments in the fields of American genealogical research and state and local history.
*   Demonstrated success in prioritizing among multiple competing assignments, projects or programs.

*   Organizational skills, including accuracy and attention to detail.

For more information about the DAR Library and other programs and activities please visit our website at www.dar.org.

Submission Requirements:

Please send a cover letter and resume or application outlining your qualifications and skills for the position along with salary requirements to:

Attention: Human Resources Director

National Society Daughters of the American Revolution

1776 D St. NW, Washington, DC 20006-5303
