PRICE FIVE CENTS

Hundreds Attend Ceremonies Opening USF Library Building

Concert, Exhibit Highlight Event

By BILL BLALOCK JR.

The largest building on the university campus was officially opened yesterday at 2 p.m. with a ribbon cutting ceremony and art gallery exhibition.

The $1.7 million six-floor library building, which occupies 114,000 square feet of area, was opened to several thousand visitors following a ceremony in which Dr. John S. Allen, president of the University of South Florida, officiated and Ellsworth Simmons, Hillsborough County commissioner, cut the ribbon.

High winds and threatening weather held down the number attending the ceremonies. About 1,500 persons were present for the ribbon cutting and between 2,500 and 3,000 attended the open house.

Punch Served

During the open house, guests were free to tour the new building. Punch was served by the University Women's Club. Other highlights of the opening were the first annual Invi-

Arts at the University of Illinois. Weller's talk was on art in general and the USF exhibit in particular.

Florida Artists

A catalog describing the works on display was sold at the exhibit.

Artists who had paintings on display were: Harrison Covington, Gainesville; Mrs. Artimis Jergert, Tallahassee; Hilton Leach, Sarasota; Eugene Masin, Coral Gables; William Pachner, Clearwater; Stuart Purser, Gainesville; Syd Solomon, Sarasota; Tony Scornavacca, South Miami; Joe Testa-Secca, Tampa; and Karl Zerbe, Tallahassee. Each artist had from two to three paintings on display.

The ultra-modern library has the most modern facilities throughout and will use the open shelf system which permits students to select books from the shelves. To alleviate damage to books, the library will have a machine which will copy pages from books and other forms of literature for a moderate fee.

Music for Students

There are music and listening rooms for student use where students may listen to the best music from records and tapes. Also available are microfilm and microfiche cards, along with the latest in projection equipment.

Library policies and hours of operation will remain much the same as those that were in operation in the temporary library. The hours planned are 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. weekdays, 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. on Saturday, and 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. on Sunday. The library is staffed by 21 full-time personnel and a number of student assistants.

The top floor of the building will house a suite of offices for evaluation services and a faculty-staff lounge. The lounge offers a wide view of the university campus, as well as the Tampa skyline and the Industrial Park to the south.

There will be elevator service for faculty, staff and students.

Communications from deans and faculty to students will continue to be sent through the mail to the homes of the respective students, says Dr. Howard Johnson, dean of student affairs.

Dean Johnson said that students have been failing to answer letters sent to them by USF personnel requesting appointments, but from want of a better communications system the postal service would continue to be used.

Some students, Johnson said, in ignoring messages from the faculty and staff have missed important counseling and in some cases, scholarships, available for rapid expansion.

NO CANADIAN PRICES

Campus Store Prices Defended

By LOUISE STEWART

John P. Goree, manager of service activities of auxiliary services says no Canada book prices are being charged in the USF campus store. Goree made the denial in an interview giving his side of a controversy over campus store prices and policies.

Goree stated an emphatic "no" to the complaint that the store charged Canada prices for required basic studies texts. He explained that the publisher takes full action in price raises on reprints. Accordingly Canada's prices have gone up. Goree states, "We do not charge present Canada prices."

Another issue is the policy of 50 per cent repurchase price on used books. The National Association of College Stores arrived at this figure as a fair repurchase rate regardless of the book's condition. Goree added that they would not, of course, accept books in extremely torn up condition.

Students Gain

Goree pointed out that it was a case of reciprocal benefit for both the students and the store. Used books present a ready source of books for the store by saving freight costs. Students gain money toward buying new books.

The store pays half price and charges two-thirds of the original price. Most of the profit is used on minor repairs of the books.

As a further service to the students, the campus store has arranged to have a wholesale dealer on campus in June to purchase texts not being used again. He will pay from one-fourth to one-third of the original price according to the demands for the book in other areas.

The wholesaler has no official connection with the university. He is provided strictly as a student service, Goree said. There will be a notice in the campus paper announcing his arrival.

No Profit on Some Items
An interview with Andrew C. Rodgers, director of procurement and auxiliaries, served as further confirmation.

Rodgers explained that there is no real profit on texts or gym clothes. These items are marked up only enough to cover overhead, upkeep and labor. The store breaks even in this area. Profit is made on the miscellaneous paperbacks and other sundry items.

43 Return From Nassau, Others See Clearwater

By WING PREODOR

How many of the 43 people from USF who went to Nassau had a wonderful time? No man-to-man pole was taken, but no one will argue if it is printed that exactly 37 students and six chaperones from this University had a fabulous time.

The vacationers left on a chartered Trailways bus at 8 a.m. Friday, March 31. The bus took them to Miami where the S.S. Bahama Star was docked and scheduled to leave port at 5 p.m. The bus trip was no worse and no better than bus rides usually are. There was one seat too few, but Tony Anello was sport enough to sit on a folding stool in the aisle.

Without mishap everyone was aboard and prepared for anything when the boat left Miami right on schedule. Several USF students, in Fort Lauderdale for the vacation came to see their friends off.

The confusing thing about the ship was the stairways. They never seemed to be in the same place twice. But there was always a steward around to help anyone who really got lost.

Only one case of seasickness was noted. Miss Mercedes Fernandez, instructor in physical education and one of the chaperones, was seen rushing from the dining room the first night out. It is said Miss Fernandez made a total of 12 trips to the rail.

Nassau is about 180 miles from Miami by boat. The trip took all night. The calm sea, the full moon, and dancing to the ship orchestra added to the glamour of it all, and made school and all its problems seem far, far away.

Island Boys
The Bahama Star came into Nassau at 8 a.m. Saturday. Two small tug boats pulled the boat around and to the dock. The water was so clear and turquoise it was almost unbelievable. There were many native fishing boats and sail boats in the harbor, plus island boys diving for coins.

After breakfast everyone went into Nassau to shop, rented bicycles to ride around the island, or went to the beach.

Most of the money from the USF group went to the straw market. Almost everyone bought a straw hat or purse, or both. The hats were all shapes and sizes including one with a crown almost three feet high purchased by Kathy Ruggiero. Clarice Bostick bought a purse shaped like a fish and Paula Paster bought one as large as a good sized suitcase.

Cocktail Party, No Less
Saturday night before dinner was the captain's cocktail party. A commercial photographer took pictures of every guest shaking hands with the captain. After dinner and on shore again, the most popular night club was the Cat and the Fiddle. It was there that USF students learned to dance the Hully Gully and to appreciate calypso music.

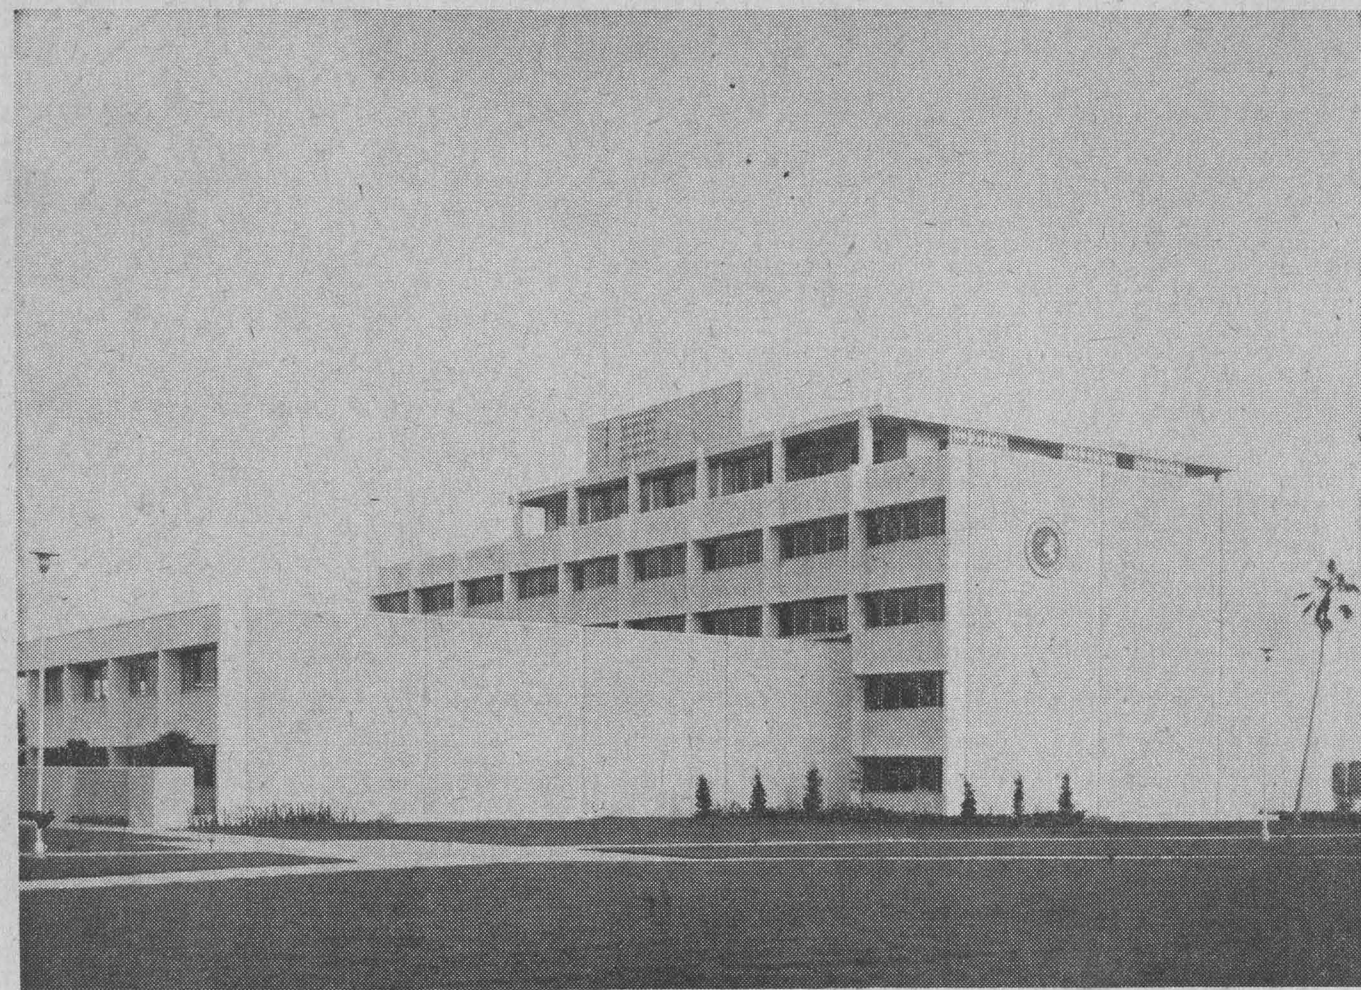

The next day was Easter Sunday. After church it was the straw market, bicycles and the beach again. The boats left Nassau at 4 p.m. Most of the vacationers from USF were on deck as the boat pulled away. No one missed the boat, but there were many who wished they could have stayed just one or two days more.

That night the ship's orchestra played again with a little help from Duane Lake, director of University Center and another USF chaperone. Linda McKnight won a bottle of champagne in a Hula contest.

The Bahama Star docked in Miami early Monday morning. Customs and immigration proved to be no problem and by 10 the bus was on its way back to Tampa.

Clearwater, Lauderdale, Too
Meanwhile, many not making the Nassau trip settled on Fort Lauderdale or Clearwater, Jan Longnecker, Paul Small, Joe Calderazzo and a few others reported that Lauderdale was the wild place the newspaper pictured it to be. Most agreed they had fun, enjoyed it and would like to return. Many from USF making the Clearwater trek for the weekend thought there was nothing like it and several agreed it didn't shake up their parents as much as if they had gone to Lauderdale.

While all this was going on the USF campus had several hundred visitors from northern universities—just stopping by to take a look on their way to or from Lauderdale, Nassau or Clearwater. Several from the University of Illinois thought USF "was the best, but where's the fieldhouse?" Up north that's a place to play basketball indoors in the wintertime.

'BRAIN' OF THE CAMPUS OPEN TO STUDENT TRAFFIC

Several thousand persons visited the University of South Florida library Sunday following the ribbon cutting ceremonies at 2 p.m. at the main entrance. The library was scheduled to open today to student and faculty use with more than 32,000 volumes on the shelves. Additional volumes are to be added until the total reaches approximately 250,000. Also housed in the building are a number of offices and a staff lounge.

CAMPUS ROUNDUP

'Little Lauderdale' Big Attraction

By CAROL MARTIN

University of South Florida—A gathering of approximately 200 USF students and more than 300 students from other college campuses throughout the United States made a miniature Fort Lauderdale out of Clearwater Beach over Easter week-end.

Though not as publicized as the east coast city's annual seething with college students, this year Clearwater Beach was well represented with students from about 14 colleges and universities.

There was no rioting or beer can barrages, but one policeman in making a routine investigation noted mad scrambling by students to bury beer on the beach to avoid confiscation. The feeling of many students is that next year "the crowd" will hit Clearwater.

Florida Southern College—During the Easter vacation, 50 Southern students joined students from the University of Florida, Georgia and the University of North Carolina on a cruise to Nassau.

University of Florida—A television documentary concerning the growing crisis in Florida's higher education was broadcast April 6 over station WFTX in Jacksonville. The University News Bureau planned the format of the program in the first effort of a plan to educate people to the problems of Florida's universities.

Stetson University—More than $68,000 has now been raised in the Jacksonville portion of the school's state-wide capital fund campaign to raise $6 million primarily for new buildings on the DeLand campus. First funds will be used for construction of a new library and a new science building and for a faculty salary fund.

University of Tampa—On Friday a chapter of Phi Alpha Theta honorary history fraternity will be installed at the university by Dr. A. Worcester, national president of the organization.

Gordon Keller—Activities committee chairmen have been chosen at USF for 1961-62, along with the co-editors for the 1962 Otony, the school's yearbook.

Florida State University—Papers have been filed with the secretary of state for the creation of a student government-managed corporation, Student Enterprises, Inc. The first goal of the organization will probably be to finance a swimming pool for the proposed new student union.

Florida Southern College—Alan Ellis was winner of the annual Sigma Sigma "Ugly Man" contest. Proceeds will be donated to the Robbie Page Memorial for Crippled Children.

University of Florida—Near unanimous approval has been given to deferred fraternity rush procedures proposed by the Inter-Fraternity Council. Formal rush will be held Sept. 24-Oct. 4.

University of Tampa—The third annual Healthorama was held recently at the University of Tampa. Information of health services in Hillsborough County was made available as a public service project.

Florida Southern College—Anne Smith of Pompano Beach, who was chosen as the best dressed girl on campus, will compete in a magazine's "Ten Best Dressed College Girls in America" contest.

University of Florida—Nacragua will host the functions of the '61 International Week on campus April 9-15. The purpose of the activities is to emphasize international interests on the campus, considering foreign students as well as professors who are in universities overseas.

University of Tampa—The office of the dean of men has announced the pledging of 68 TU men into four fraternities during spring rush.

Florida State University—The curriculum evaluation committee proposed by Student Body President Carl Butler of Jackson, Miss., has been endorsed by the faculty senate.

Florida Southern College—The annual leadership senate has been set for April 11. Members of the senate, the presidents of the 10 national fraternities and the nine sororities on campus, will be present.

University of Florida—The new pharmacy building, an addition to the J. Hillis Miller Health Center, will open for teaching and research this June. The building will have cost $2 million when completed.

Florida State University—Marty Washington, FSU sophomore from Miami Springs, topped six past National Rifle champions to take honors at the Sawgrass Rifle Championships in Miami.

Organization For Shorter Girls Started

A new social organization on campus, called Glamoreux, is under way. It is for girls 5 feet, 4 inches or under, and its purpose is to promote self improvement and to serve the university in any way it can, such as helping with receptions.

March 29 the girls got off to a good start by holding a welcome tea for the group's members and sponsors in one of the private dining rooms. Dr. Margaret Fisher, director of women's activities and Miss Mercedes Fernandez, physical education instructor, are sponsors of this new club.

Joan Farnum, spokesman for the new organization, (guess maybe she really is the spokeswoman) said that membership is by invitation only. So remember, if you can't see the top shelf, have no trouble entering low doorways, and have never been selected as a model because you were "too short," honor or may come your way. If interested wear low heels and walk in a stooped manner.

Cleo Elects Officers
The Cleo, one of the men's social clubs, has elected officers for the coming year. They are: Dennis Granda, president; Jim Widdien, vice president; Rodney H. Kite-Powell, secretary-treasurer; Dan Myers, treasurer; Bob Alwood, parliamentarian, and Jim Mims, chaplain.

The pin design for the club has been ordered, and committees on finance, constitution, and entertainment have been set up.

Banquet for S.I.S.
The installation banquet for the Tri S.I.S. will be held at 6:30 p.m. tonight at the Tropics. The theme is a secret, but the banquet committee has announced that it will carry out the club's colors.

Guests are to include: Dean Johnson, Dr. Margaret Fisher, Dr. Rose Spicola and Dr. Louise Sands, sponsors, and Dr. Edgar Stanton, who will serve as master of ceremonies. There will be 30 members and officers installed. Officers are: Joyce Carballal, president; Diana Delgado, vice president; Hilda Canario, secretary; Linda Leto, treasurer; Vilma Reiso, parliamentarian; Suzanne Jennings, historian; and Sandra Morgan, chaplain.

Director Will Address Group

Duane Lake, director of the University Center, will address members of the international conference at the 38th annual Association of College Unions, Colorado Springs, Colo., April 18. His talk will deal with coordinating the work of various departments within a college union. Lake is chairman of the ACU's 1961 nominating committee.

Many Feel USF Needs More Money

Hillsborough legislators in Tallahassee, according to news stories out of the state Capitol, believe Gov. Farris Bryant's recommendation of $2.3 million for USF in the upcoming budget is not enough. The University had asked for about $9 million.

Sen. Sam Gibbons said, "It is not enough." He feels it will take at least $5 million, perhaps more.

Re. Bob Mann said, "I don't think it will do the job."

Rep. Tom Whitaker Jr., exclaimed, "I feel it is only wise to take into account the need for existing institutions before starting a new one." (This with reference to Boca Raton which would get $5.3 million).

Rep. Woodie Liles, added, he didn't feel the recommendation for the University of South Florida was sufficient.

Reports out of the Capitol said the Hillsborough delegation will seek more for USF.

Several interviewed on the USF campus felt if the flood of students hit the campus as estimated more must be made available for rapid expansion.

CAMPUS DRIVE COMING

Foundation Seeks To Expand Work

A goal of $45,000 has been set by the University of South Florida Foundation in its drive currently in progress to raise money for scholarships and loans for USF students.

The foundation, which has membership throughout the Tampa Bay area and Florida, also includes approximately 40 per cent of the USF faculty and a number of students.

Don Gould, director of the USF Foundation, said a student foundation committee plans an on-campus drive from April 17 through April 24 in which they hope to gain a sizeable membership on campus and tell the story of the foundation to students.

Student membership is $2. The student committee, making plans for the drive, includes: Carroll Froelich, Diana Otero, Henry Brown, Jim Woodroffe, Bernard S. Zaidman, Louise Stewart, Julian Piper, Virginia Montes, and Leonard Jones.

Sam Gibbons, President
The foundation itself is headed by Sam M. Gibbons, president; Robert L. Dennard, treasurer; and Mrs. John R. Himes, secretary; with Dr. John S. Allen, USF president, serving as chairman of the board of trustees.

The foundation was chartered on Sept. 4, 1958, and during the first semester of the present school year helped more than 100 students through scholarships and more than 50 through foundation loans. This totaled more than $22,000. However, with increased enrollment next fall the foundation hopes to double its amount for both scholarships and loans.

The USF Foundation was set up to take the place of an alumni association and to assist the university in any way possible. This is expected to be mainly in the area of loans and scholarships to students but Gould explained it is hoped this can be expanded in the future. This expansion could mean recognition of faculty and supplements to university projects.

Raised $80,000
Among the projects the Foundation has headed in the past was the "Dollars for Dorms" drive which netted the university more than $80,000.

Since USF will not have alumni until the first class graduates, the foundation was set up to fill that gap and in the long run to coordinate the activities of an alumni association when it does form.

'Twenties' Dance Scheduled Friday

A Roaring Twenties dance, featuring the Vel-Ives, is being sponsored by the Fides Friday. The dance will be held in the South Cafeteria of the University Center from 8 till 11:59 p.m. Friday, April 14.

Costumes or school dress will be worn and a Charleston contest will be one of the highlights of the evening. During intermission the Fides will announce their mascots for the coming year.

One boy from each of the social clubs will be selected by the girls and will be asked to attend all social functions for the coming year.

First thing coming up will be the powder-puff football game against the Delphi's at which the boys will represent the Fides as their cheerleaders.

Tickets will go on sale the latter part of this week by members of the Fides.

All faculty, staff and students may attend the dance.

Dr. Sidney J. French, dean of the USF College of Basic Studies, will give a lecture on the subject "Science in War and Peace," at 2 p.m. Wednesday in S-100.

Dr. French will deal with the problems in the development of synthetic nitrates and their relationship to the outbreak of World War I.

His discussion will also include the fact that many of the new scientific developments have applications to both peace-time development and wartime destruction.

Clinic and Concert
A combination orchestra clinic and concert will be held Saturday in the Teaching Auditorium-Theater. Robert T. Scott, head music director at King High School, will conduct both the concert and the clinic. The clinic will be held at 2 p.m. The concert, which will be presented at 8 p.m., will feature the Florida West Coast Youth Symphony.

INTRAMURALS

All-Stars Take Cage Championship

The Intramural All-Stars, powered by the sharp-shooting of forward Roy Wilcox and the rebounding of big Dan Meisen, put on a second-half scoring surge to down the Desert Rats, 50-43, in a championship play-off game Tuesday, March 21, at King High School.

The win provided the All-Stars with an 8-1 record for the season, giving them the first USF Intramural Basketball League championship. The league, which began Jan. 17, finished with four teams. The Desert Rats, by losing the playoff contest, took second place with a 7-2 record, while the Flames came in third with one victory and six losses. The Monsters failed to enter the winning column during the season.

The All-Stars were captained by Jim Moffett. Other members of the championship squad include: Wilcox, Meisen, Pete Doyle, Frank Meiners, and John Gullett. Awards will be presented at the end-of-the-year banquet scheduled for late May.

Crutchfield is Low-Medalist
Low medalist in the March 24 All-Campus golf tournament at Forest Hills Country Club is Thomas Crutchfield, who shot a 74. Bob Woodbury was second with 77, with Lewis Bower, Jr., and Jerry Oberer tying for third with an 82. Another tournament is being planned for the latter part of April.

A faculty-student-staff archery tournament has been scheduled for Thursday, April 27, on the Campus Archery Range. Each contestant will shoot 30 arrows at 40 yards. Total points will determine the winner. Entry forms are available in the Intramurals office, or the P. E. building.

Another tourney, with horse shoes, will be held Thursday,

April 20, at a site to be announced later. Each contestant will pitch 50 shoes, with the winner being determined by total points.

Robert Alwood took top honors in the March 23 Free-Throw tourney at King High School. The All-Campus event, faculty, staff, and students competing

Noted Author
Al Hirshberg
Visits USF

The famed author and sports columnist Albert Hirshberg appeared on campus March 23 and spoke to both students and faculty at an informal session in the West Lounge of the University Center.

Hirshberg's recent publication, "The Desperate and the Damned," was one of the topics of much discussion. Hirshberg's writing career began with the newspaper and then he became the freelance writer he is today. He admitted that he had not worked for a salary since 1952 and has little intention of doing so again.

Hirshberg writes mostly non-fiction stories and feels that the writing of fiction is quite risky. He said that the writing of non-fiction is a business instead of a pleasure.

The three best ways of becoming a good freelance writer is by practice, have a casual outlook, and be an egotist, said Hirshberg. He recommended that anyone wishing to go into on an even basis. Alwood hit for 56% in 100 attempts.

Tennis Finals April 19

The third round of the All-Campus Tennis Tourney is scheduled for Friday, April 14. Finals will be held on the new campus courts, Wednesday, April 19. Twenty-five entries competed in first-round action. First round action in the Intramural Softball League saw the All-Stars, Revolvers, and Aretes victors. The All-Stars downed the Faculty, 10-1, behind the pitching of Charles Yawn.

The Aretes scored four runs in the second inning, then coasted to a 10-1 victory over the Enotas. The Revolvers won a forfeit from the Epeltas.

ON YOUR MARK

All-Campus Track
Meet Opens Today

The first All-Campus Intramural Track Meet, loaded with nine track and field events, begins at 4:20 p.m., today, April 10, at Chamberlain High track field.

The first event will be the 100-yard dash, followed by the 880 or 1/2-mile at 4:25. Other events and starting times include: 120 low hurdle race, 4:35; mile run, 4:40; 440 yard dash, 4:50; 220 yard dash, 4:55; high jump, 4:20; broad jump, 4:25; and shot put, 4:30. Contestants include students, faculty and staff members.

All contestants must be at the track in plenty of time to sign up on the official entry form. Richard D. Hunter, intramural coordinator said, "You must sign these forms to officially enter the meet. The entry form must be returned to the course clerk before the event starts. Each entry is also to provide his own running clothes."

Points will be given for the first 3 places. First place will receive 5, second place 3, and third place 1 point.

Prizes will be awarded to winners of each event and to the individual who amasses the greatest number of points for the meet.

A special "USF Ladies Court" will be awaiting the winner of each event past the finish line. There is no admission charge.

USF Sports

by John Gullett

The Physical Education Division, headed by Dr. Gilman Hertz, received the "go-ahead" sign on development of their proposed physical education program when the University Senate approved the plan at their March 24 meeting.

"This is what we have been waiting for," Hertz said, "Now we can concentrate on making this projected program a reality." They are well on the way.

Basic physical education, which is just one of four areas making up the entire physical education curriculum, is already operating. The program requires that each student demonstrate proficiency in each of four areas: functional physical education, team sports and group activities, aquatic sports, and individual and dual sports.

Demonstrated proficiency in any area may be accomplished by examination, prior relevant experience, or a semester course pertaining to a particular sport. Personal Hygiene Emphasized

In the functional P.E. course, emphasis is placed on personal hygiene, "the importance of optimum fitness for daily living, and an appreciation for American sports." Much of the time is spent in the classroom, where various audio-visual aids are used, but activity is also provided to give the individual a chance to evaluate his own physical fitness and motor abilities.

Five courses in the team sports and group activities area got under way this semester. They include: basketball and volleyball; creative dance; recreational activities; special conditioning; and social, folk and square dance. Proficiency in this area is designed to "evoke socially desirable attitudes toward behavior."

where group pressures influence individual response." From this area will evolve varsity baseball, basketball, crew, and football.

Scuba Heads Aquatics
In the aquatic sports area, three of the seven courses in the projected program are in full swing. Scuba diving heads the list, which includes: beginning and intermediate swimming. Lack of facilities necessitates using an off-campus pool, but hopes are high for a University pool in the near future.

Six courses in the individual and dual sports area were initiated this spring, ranging from archery for men and women, to weight training for men. Other courses being offered include: bowling, golf, handball and paddleball, and tennis.

Playing Despite Difficulties
It's an uphill struggle, but Hertz and his staff members are nearing the top. "We're playing on the sand in tennis class," Hertz said, "but at least we're playing." This problem was alleviated with the recent construction of six new tennis courts on the north end of the campus.

Although varsity sports are included in the projected program, they are not yet established. The first step has been to organize clubs in the various areas. Clubs are being established in crew, track and field, tennis, golf, baseball, and swimming. These it is hoped, will serve as a nucleus for varsity sports, when they are established.

Strong Foundation Desired
Concentration at the present time is on building a strong foundation with a wide variety of courses. "We are trying to offer a varied program of activities desirable to the students," Hertz said. "We want to build such attractive facilities and offer such an interesting program of activities that the students will consider it a privilege to develop proficiency in the activities rather than a requirement."

Other programs in the curriculum include: intramural sports, intercollegiate athletics, and professional physical education.

Program Molds Teachers
The professional P.E. program is designed to qualify teachers for work in the public schools. It meets the objectives in Teacher Education at the University and the State of Florida Teacher Certification requirements.

Competition
On Haikus
Ends Today

The Haiku Contest being sponsored by the Functional English faculty at USF for the past two weeks comes to a close today. All entries must be in the hands of Dr. Sy Kahn or Dr. Anthony Zaitz by 11:59 p.m. If they cannot be found, submit entries to any member of the English faculty wherever they can be located.

All poems must follow the three line 5-7-5 syllable form and must be written on the following themes: Junk Yard, Snakes, Orange Blossom, or the Beach and Rain. There is no limit to the number of poems one may enter.

Book prizes for the best Haiku in each category and possible publication will be allotted each of the winners.
