Lincoln Play Here Fri., Sat.

"The Last Days of Lincoln," Pulitzer prize-winner Mark Van Doren's first venture in play writing, will be presented at the University of South Florida at 8:30 p.m., Friday and Saturday, Oct. 27 and 28.

The Eddie Dowling Foundation sponsored, Florida State University produced, Civil War drama reflects Lincoln's concern over the position of the South during the period of reconstruction. Trying to insure a rational peace for the Confederate States, the action of the play portrays the President's opposition to the demands of northern extremists who desire exploitation of the secessionist South.

Campbell Plays Lincoln

Van Doren's Lincoln will be portrayed by Broadway actor Jim Campbell, who played the President in the New York production of "The Rivalry." Other professional actors include David Clarke as Lincoln's friend, Joshua Speed, and Nora Dunfee as Mrs. Lincoln. Florida State University students will play lesser roles.

The well-received premiere of the play was held in Tallahassee, Oct. 18. The play's two-night stand at the University of South Florida is part of a road tour through Florida cities including St. Petersburg, Jacksonville, Hollywood, Orlando and Miami. The tour is in preparation for a short run in New York.

Reserved Tickets

Tickets are available at the UC Information Desk or may be reserved for 50 cents by phoning ext. 266. Tickets are 50c for students, $1 for faculty, and $2 for the general public. Any available tickets may be purchased at the box office before performances.

The Dowling Foundation supports university theaters in first productions of new plays. "A Trumpet Calling" by Abel Pann, to be premiered at the University of South Florida, Nov. 15-18, sponsored by the Dowling Foundation will feature such outstanding personalities as Skitch Henderson and Broadway stars in lead roles.

Career Exhibi Featured In Ad Building

The Developmental Centers of the Student Affairs Office have organized a display of information on careers which will be on exhibit Oct. 23 through Nov. 3 in Room 1054 of the Administration Building. It will be open from 10 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 3 p.m. to students and faculty, and a member of the counseling staff will be present to answer any questions.

All the materials are from the Library and the Counseling Center, and the primary purpose of the exhibit is to show students what is available in helping to select a career.

According to Dr. Thomas Rich, it has been noted that the first two years of college are generally exploratory years and that one out of two students change their majors during this period. This exhibit, therefore, should be of interest to a large number of UF students.

USF Radio Club Elects Officers

Dr. Anthony Zaitz, associate professor of speech, and Dr. Robert C. O'Hara, assistant professor of English, have organized the university's first broadcasting club and have made plans for a series of radio programs.

Officers include: Joe Ahnell, president; Les Smith vice president; and Sharon "Toni" Thompson, secretary-treasurer. Members of the constitution committee were Chairman Louise Stewart, Alvis Sherouse, and Jim Bartlett.

Other members include, Stewart Beale, Jim Klueh, John P. Lazzara, Robert White, and Vicki Kides.

Yearbook Staff To Sell Cards

By VIRGINIA MONTES

The sale of Christmas cards by the USF yearbook editorial board was the main topic at a recent meeting between Dean Howard Johnson and the editorial board. The cards will be sold by the yearbook staff, in order to initiate the production of an annual.

This was brought about mainly because of a decree from the office of campus publications to the effect that campus publications would have to refrain from selling advertisements. The "Christmas card" idea was suggested at the meeting by Dean Johnson, and accepted by the editorial board though with some doubts, members admit.

Trouble Ahead?

The fact that the yearbook is being allowed to sell Christmas cards may be questioned by other organizations on campus. According to Dean Johnson, the arrangement of the card sale is due to an offer by the Hallmark card company to the university. This offer was made with the idea of helping an organization on campus, which would in the long run benefit the whole student body. The administration felt that at the moment the yearbook was the organization in greatest need, which could do the greatest good for all. Therefore, it was awarded the offer.

Phone 269 or 173

The actual sale of the cards will be handled by the campus bookstore, but the yearbook will receive the profits, and will also be doing most of the "sales-pitch."

Anyone interested in purchasing the cards is invited to call extension 269, from 9 to 10 a.m., or contact extension 173 from 10 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 4 p.m.

Help Wanted

The editorial board will be meeting again Oct. 25, at 1 p.m., in the UC second floor conference room. At this time, all sophomores who applied last year, and others wishing to join the staff, may attend.

Award Winners Are Delegates To ACP Meet

Miss Wing Preodor and Bill Blalock, members of the editorial staff for the USF Campus Edition of The Times, will be representing USF at the National Associated Collegiate Press Convention at Miami Beach Nov. 2, 3, and 4.

Miss Preodor and Blalock are sophomores from Tampa who were award-winning journalists as freshmen. They will be among the thousand students from the U.S. and Canada attending the convention.

The group will be staying at the Fountainebleau Hotel while attending workshop sessions covering all phases of campus publications. They will fly down early Nov. 2 and return on a lounge.

Speech Unit Elects
The USF Speech Association has elected the following: Bob Bickle, president; Larry Felix, vice president; Bernard Zaidman, secretary; and Louise Stewart, director of public relations. Although the larger group will probably not have a meeting again for some time, the smaller sub-groups will have regular weekly meetings.

Players Meet
Peninsular Players will meet Tuesday, Oct. 24, 11 a.m. in the Teaching Auditorium-Theater.

USF EXPECTS HUNDREDS AT OPEN HOUSE SUNDAY

New Alpha Hall Main Attraction

Several thousand visitors are expected on campus this coming Sunday, Oct. 29, as the University of South Florida holds an "Open House" from 2 to 5 p.m. Sponsored by the University of South Florida Foundation, the event will give the public the opportunity to see the results of the Dollars for Dorms Drive which helped outfit the new Alpha Residence Hall, home of 414 USF students, as well as view other campus facilities; hear a concert, see an art exhibit, and enjoy refreshments.

The art gallery in the Library will be open with a display of Joe Testa-Secca's works. Testa-Secca is one of Florida's most widely known artists.

USF String Quartet
From 5 to 5:30 p.m. the University String Quartet will give a concert in the Teaching Auditorium-Theater.

Guided tours of the new Alpha Hall will be available to guests throughout the afternoon and refreshments will be served by the women of the University of South Florida Foundation assisted by the USF Women's Club board members. Serving tables will be located in the lobby and west lounge of Alpha Hall.

No individual invitations are being issued but the foundation hopes students will invite parents and friends and that the staff members will bring their families and friends.

Open House
The "Open House" will be the first since early last April when the public was invited to take a look at the university when the library was officially opened. Gusto winds and threatening clouds held the attendance at that time to an estimated 3,000. Good weather should draw an attendance surpassing the earlier figure.

THE AUTHOR

Richard Powell To Speak Here

Richard Powell, author of "The Philadelphian" and "Pioneer, Go Home," recently filmed in Florida starring Elvis Presley, will be this fall's first guest of the University of South Florida's "Meet the Author" series, Thursday, Oct. 26.

The literary series, sponsored by USF's Events Committee, will bring Powell to the campus for an informal give and take discussion of his books in an "over-the-coffee-cup" setting at 2 p.m. in the University Center Building.

"The Philadelphian," published in 1957 and Powell's best known work, was a Reader's Digest Condensed Book Club selection and a well received movie starring Paul Newman.

Elvis' Story
Powell's "Pioneer, Go Home," published in 1959, is the hilarious tale of a completely made family stranded in the wilds of Florida.

"The Soldier," Powell's most recent novel, portrays the call of duty against the call of the heart in a WAC-infested, Lower Pacific Command during the violent days of the Second World War. "The Soldier," published in 1960, was serialized last fall in "The Saturday Evening Post."

The "Meet the Author" series is designed to give students, faculty and residents of the bay area an opportunity to participate in a free exchange of ideas with contemporary and recognized writers in various fields.

Highways Nearing Deadline

Construction under way on two new campus access roads and four parking lots is due for completion in the next summer, according to Roxy Neal, staff assistant of the physical plant division.

The longer of the two new entrance roads will run parallel to Fowler Avenue from the main entrance west to 30th Street. It will be 4,600 feet long. The second entrance road will extend for 3,600 feet from the power-house road at the north of the campus to Fletcher Avenue.

Four new parking lots are being built in various areas of the campus and will accommodate about 800 cars. One lot will serve the Library Building. Another is being built near the Life Sciences Building, and two lots will serve the proposed Humanities Building.

Presently on campus there are nearly four miles of streets and roads with only two entrances to the campus. Neal said, the two new entrances will greatly facilitate access to the western part of the campus.

James D. Garner, superintendent of securities and communications, said that with the addition of the new roads, names should be given to all of the campus roadways. This is necessary to alleviate the confusion which arises when giving directions around campus, Garner said.

MARK VAN DOREN HERE TO SEE HIS PLAY

Mark Van Doren, second from left, author of the play, "The Lazy Days of Lincoln," has arrived in Florida to take a look at the presentation of his play which will be produced in the USF Teaching Auditorium-Theater, Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. Van Doren will also appear before students, staff and visitors at 3 p.m. Friday in CH100. Here, left to right, are: Richard Fallon, director of the play; Van Doren; Mrs. Van Doren, and Jim Campbell, who plays Lincoln.

Tri-Semester System Given OK

By WING PREODOR
University of South Florida students may look forward to a tri-semester scheduling of the school year starting in September of 1962. The State Board of Control has voted in favor of the tri-semester plan over the quarter system, which was the other plan proposed for year-round operation of state colleges.

The new plan will not affect the number of credit hours accumulated during one semester thus allowing students to graduate with a BA degree in two years and eight months.

Purpose of Change
The purpose of the change-over is to make year-round utilization of physical plants of the four state universities possible. It will also level off the enrollment during each semester allowing for more efficient use of space.

Under the new system the registrars office will be working toward an efficient compressed schedule of registering. The calendar will be compressed and registration periods will be shorter and more often. The deadline for applications will be earlier because the fall semester will start, of necessity, much sooner in September than it had in the past.

Shorter Registration
Although actual registration will be shorter, the usual two weeks will be allowed for advising.

Dr. Frank Spain, registrar, said that aside from materials the actual administrative cost of registration will be something less than 50 per cent more than it is under the present plan. He also said that the registration period in the fall will have to be longer than the other two because more people will be entering the university for the first time then.

Spain said that for the last four terms there has been an average of one course change for every registrant. Starting in September when the time allowed for registration will be shorter, scheduled changes will have to be limited in some way.

Dr. John S. Allen, president, said, "The real problem, as I see it, is to interest students in attending year-round, or encourage them to stay out. If they must, during the winter months so that the enrollment level will be the same in all semesters."

Four-Month Semester
Allen said that the first semester will probably start soon after Labor Day so that it can be over before Christmas. This would make the semester not quite four months in length. He said he hopes that the registration for each semester can be completed before the preceding one is over.

About the summer semester, which will begin in May, Allen pointed out that public school teachers will not be able to attend and also that high school graduates, who plan to attend college in the summer, need a few weeks after graduation to prepare for college.

Special Term
For these reasons the possibility of a special term superimposed over the regular summer session, which will be scheduled so that teachers and recent high school graduates can attend, and offering courses designed to attract them, is being considered.

Allen said that he prefers the tri-semester plan over the quarter system because it allows more time for instruction without as many starts and stops for registration and exams, and allows for better utilization of space.

Andrew C. Rogers, director of procurement and auxiliaries, says that administrative costs of operating the resident halls and other housing will probably not go up significantly under the tri-semester plan.

Student Cost May Drop
Since students will spend 15 weeks on campus instead of the present 17 the cost of room and board per student will probably go down slightly per semester.

The tentative schedule for the new system which starts in September, 1962, follows:

Registration and orientation Sept. 4-8 with classes starting Sept. 10. Final exams will be Dec. 17-22. Second semester registration and orientation runs Jan. 24, 1963, with classes starting Jan. 7, 1963. Final exams will be April 22-27. Third semester orientation and registration will be May 1-3 and classes start May 6. Final exams will be Aug. 10-17. The schedule for a superimposed summer session has not been worked out.

STUDENTS ELIGIBLE

Speech Association Schedules Tourney

The Speech Association of the University of South Florida will sponsor an intramural speech tournament during the latter part of the current semester. All students and student organizations are invited to participate. Student organizations will choose the students who are to represent them; students not affiliated with an organization may represent themselves.

The tournament will include four activities: Oral interpretation of poetry, extemporaneous speaking, manuscript speaking, and radio speaking.

The Speech Association will award the Lew Saret sweepstakes trophy to the organization earning the most points in the tournament. This trophy was presented to the Speech Association as a memorial to Lew Saret, who was a poet, a professional lecturer and oral reader, and a teacher of speech. The trophy will be engraved with the name of the organization and will be on permanent display in the University Center. The Speech Association, however, retains ownership. The individual winners of the four events will be awarded plaques.

Organizations and individuals wishing to participate must register with Dr. Hermann G. Stelzner, assistant professor, in UC252 by Wednesday, Nov. 22. Immediately following the Thanksgiving recess final instructions will be distributed to all expressing interest. Organizations may enter two participants in each of the events, but no student may participate in more than one event.

Details of Event
Oral Interpretation of Poetry: This event will be limited to lyric poetry. Each participant shall select a poem or poems; the entire reading shall not exceed 7 to 8 minutes. Students may read from a manuscript or a book. Basis for judgment: the student's comprehension of and responsiveness to the full meaning of the poem(s).

Extemporaneous Speaking: Although no advance preparation is required of participants, they should have an interest in

Survival Arouses Students

By SARAH CALDWELL

President John F. Kennedy asks that the general public make a maximum effort for survival. How does the average USF student feel about this? Is he willing to take a college civil defense course? Would he like a campus fallout shelter? The following people answered these questions.

Carol Johnson, freshman, Fort Myers: "I think a shelter would be a problem to build on campus because of the amount of space required, there would also be the problem of community use. The CD course would be a good thing, it should become a required course with no credit given."

Jim Wharton, freshman, West Virginia-Lake Land: "No, I wouldn't want a shelter, it would only prolong life, not sustain it indefinitely. A CD course gives general survival information of use to everyone, it should be offered at South Florida."

Tom Kester, freshman, Tampa: "I believe a shelter to be impractical, however, students should be forced to take a CD course for their own good."

Tommy Gates, freshman, Ohio: "The university should have a shelter, strictly for campus use, after all, what's more important than preserving youth? Everyone should take CD to become well qualified in first aid for survival."

George Bukota, freshman, Tampa: "A shelter would be too expensive to build because of size, but I do think a CD course should be offered for those who wish to take it."

Yvonne Alfonso, freshman, Tampa: "A shelter should be built. It's a big risk having so many students on campus and no preparations in case of emergency. Because of the present state of world affairs, I definitely think a CD course should be offered."

An organizational meeting will be held Wednesday in UC 218 by the USF veterans' club. Discussion and ratification of the constitution will be the main topic.

P.E., INTRAMURAL

Turks, Alpha III Open I-M Grid Season Today

The Terrible Turks and Alpha III unveil their playing prowess in a 4:30 p.m. contest today. Opening the second and largest intramural touch football season while scouts from 13 idle teams look on.

The league sends all but one of its remaining teams into action later this week, with three contests scheduled for Wednesday and three for Thursday. All games will be played on USF's three fields east of the Administration Building.

This fall's schedule calls for a two-division, round-robin program, allowing each team six games in six weeks.

The divisions are formed by dividing the teams into three types: residence hall sections, independents, and social clubs; and placing them equally among the two groups.

In Division I, squads from the Turks, Blue Devils, Enotas, Epeltas, and Alpha sections II and III will battle for the group title. In the second division, the All Stars, Mauers, CIEOs, Aretes, Skeeters, Disciples, and Alphas I and IV will vie for a first-place finish.

Two Champs Will Vie
When the league completes play about the last week of November the winners of both divisions, determined on a won-lost percentage basis, will square off for the league championship, while the second-place finishers battle for third-place honors in over-all play.

Intramural Coordinator Jean McCarthy, physical education instructor, will head the group of ex-high school greats seeking the championship. A win would give the top team an early lead in the Activity Points Award race.

Three Games Oct. 25

Wednesday, Oct. 25, will see six teams match wits: the Epeltas and Blue Devils on field 1; the Mauers and Alpha I on field 2; and Outer Alpha and Alpha IV on field 3.

Thursday's contests include: the Disciples against the Skeeters, field 1; CIEO versus the All Stars, field 2, and Enotas and Alpha II on field 3. The Aretes were given a bye until the following week.

Touch football rules require only that the ball-carrier be touched by one hand of an opponent whose both feet are touching the ground at the time of the tag.

Officials Improving

Officials for intramural contests will be keen of eye and sharp in skill this year, states Miss Sunny Fernandez, physical education instructor and advisor to the newly organized USF Official's Association.

"We have a new training program for club members," related Miss Fernandez, "which will enable the officials to handle contests with a high degree of skill and accuracy."

Club membership, required of all intramural officials, is open to men and women; and the organization is currently making an all-out effort to increase membership greatly above the current 14.

Must Pass Tests

"Once they are in the club," said Miss Fernandez, "we will begin training new members to officiate games. After they pass a written test, the men will be allowed to officiate campus contests for males."

"The women will work as scorekeepers for the men's contests, but the situation will reverse for games among the women."

Officials and scorekeepers are given a standard rate of pay for all games to be held throughout the academic year. They are rated on their performance by team managers after each contest.

Officials May Play

Officials are not restricted from participating in sports contests not connected with their officiating.

"We would like to progress far enough to receive sanction by national, state, and area officials organizations," concluded Miss Fernandez, "so that our members will be qualified to officiate in any off-campus activity."

Sports Cars Off

The new USF Sports Car Club will hold its initial meeting of the year at 2 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 26, in UC202. I-M Sports Clubs coordinator R. H. Hunter urges all "enthusiasts" to attend.

Religious Clubs To Play Big Role in Campus Life

The religious life at USF will play an important part in the present and future student life at USF. There will be representatives in student government; and holidays will be commemorated through programs and ceremonies presented by the clubs as a whole. The clubs will place a religious emphasis on the campus, and provide an active social life for their members.

Seven Clubs

The denominations at USF are represented by these seven clubs: The Baptist Union (Baptist); the Canterbury Club (Episcopal); the Catholic Student Organization (Roman Catholic); the Christian Science Organization (Christian Scientist); The Jewish Student Union (Jewish); the Wesley Foundation (Methodist); and the Westminster Fellowship (Presbyterian).

Denominational foundations sponsor these clubs. Many will be building student centers and chapels on the campus in the near future. The buildings will be situated along 50th St. on the campus.

Watch Bulletin Boards

Because many of the clubs are not fully organized, students may have the opportunity to help organize their clubs. They will notify students through the bulletin boards.

Students are encouraged to join and participate in the clubs representing their particular religions.—(P.K.)

Club Holds Drive

The Botega Club will hold a membership drive Tuesday in the University Center to recruit new members for the art organization.

The purpose of the club is to promote interest and understanding of the visual arts for the students of the University of South Florida.

Boxes Available

Post office boxes in the post office in the University Center are available to all non-resident students. Post office is open 11 to 2 daily.
