STRING QUARTET

CHAMBER MUSIC

Quartet Schedules Concert

The University of South Florida String Quartet will present two concerts on Thursday, Jan. 18 at 2 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. in the teachers auditorium. Featured on the program are Debussy's "Quartet in G minor" and Glazounov's "Novellettes."

The quartet consists of Edward Preodor, first violinist and professor of music at USF; Armin Watkins, second violinist and associate professor of music; Margery Enix, cellist and instructor of fine arts, and John Tartaglia, violinist and student. The String Quartet was formed to give students an opportunity to hear live performances of the world's finest chamber music. Lectures in music given by the Humanities Division and classes in music history and appreciation are supplemented by performances of the quartet. Programs for music clubs, radios and television stations and public school assemblies are included as part of the quartet's schedule.

Free tickets are available upon request but reservations must be made at least 24 hours prior to the time of the performance. For reservations and additional information call the University of South Florida (WE 8-4131, ext. 266). Reserved tickets will be held until 30 minutes before the performance and may be picked up at the box office of the theater.

Members of the board of control, on campus this week, will attend the performance as guests of President Allen.

FRATERNAL SOCIETIES

Rush Booklets in Mail

By VIRGINIA MONTES

The Council of Fraternal Societies has mailed out rush booklets to all freshmen and new students; thus officially opening its Spring Rushing Program.

The program is open to all students who will have attended the University for at least one semester by February 19. Any student, who does not receive a booklet in the mail, but who may still be interested in rushing, may pick up his (or her) booklet at the CFS information table, to be located in the lobby of the university on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

The official registration form is located on the back cover of the booklet. This form, and the $2 registration fee, must be mailed to Box 2350, or brought to the information table, no later than noon, Tuesday, January 23.

All persons interested in rushing must be present at the convocation to be held in the TA on Tuesday, Jan. 23, at 11 a.m. Following the convocation, there will be a period during which questions concerning rush may be discussed.

DELPHI: Delphi Society would like to extend their belated thanks to Paideia for a wonderful dance during the Christmas holidays. They would also like to congratulate Enotas Society for their very much needed clean-up campaign.

EPHESUS: Delphi are now looking forward to a silver tea which is to be given in the near future.

EPHESUS: Nominations for club officers is taking place this week.

Emblems for the club's blazers are expected in the near future.

ETHELONTES: Ethelontes are now making plans for the coming Spring Rush.

An informal weekend party was held at Annette Albrecht's home last Friday night. Invitation was limited to pledges, members and special guests of the society.

ENOTAS: This week is "help" week for the Ennotas pledges. They will be seen around campus, helping students whenever they can.

Two new pledges were taken in recently. They are Mike Thomas and Jerry Adams.

The "Help Keep USF Neat" campaign, sponsored by Ennotas, is coming along very successfully. The brothers would like to extend their thanks to everyone for their assistance in this campaign.

SIGES: At the last meeting of the society, the Siges constitution was adopted. They also held election of officers; new officers elected are: President, Linda Franz; vice president,

State Board Of Control
Meets At USF FridayBuilding Committee To Tour
Present Facilities Thursday

By BILL BLALOCK

The State Board of Control, governing body of Florida's university system, will meet on the University of South Florida campus for the first time at 9 a.m. Friday. The meeting will be held in the Board of Control room adjacent to the office of Dr. John S. Allen, USF president. The meeting is open to the public as far as seating will permit, according to Robert L. Dennard, USF business manager. A building committee meeting will be held Thursday Jan. 18, in preparation for the board meeting Friday.

The monthly board meetings are held at the various institutions that are under the control of the board and are attended by the presidents and business managers of the institutions as well as the board members, representatives of the press, and on occasion, observers from the American Assoc. of University Professors chapters of the state universities. Dr. Donald Harkness, president of the USF AAUP chapter, said, "we plan to have someone present." The editor of the Campus Edition has been invited to sit at the press table.

Board to Hear Quartet
Various plans of the other state institutions as well as those for USF will be presented by the administrative heads and discussed by the board. USF is expected to have at least one item on the agenda, possibly more.

The building committee of the Board of Control will meet on Thursday afternoon in a business session. The meeting will be followed by a tour of the university and a dinner on campus.

Board members and their wives will be guests of President Allen at a presentation by the University String Quartet at 8:30 p.m. Thursday evening at the Teaching Auditorium Theater.

Harrison Is Chairman
Members of the Board of Control are J. Broward Culpepper, executive director, from Tallahassee; Baya M. Harrison Jr., chairman, St. Petersburg; Frank M. Buchanan, Miami; Charles R. Forman, Fort Lauderdale; S. Kendrick Guernsey, Jacksonville; Gert H. W. Schmidt, Jacksonville; John C. Pace, Pensacola; and Ralph L. Miller, Orlando.

The building committee is composed of Schmidt, chairman; Guernsey, Pace and Miller.

Ferrell Walls
Is Recovering
In Hospital

Ferrell Eugene Walls, University of South Florida freshman, is in Tampa General Hospital with a fractured cervical vertebra.

Injured while water-skiing before Christmas vacation, Walls has begun physical therapy and is making a more rapid recovery than expected.

Walls, who is studying American idea, psychology, and second semester English, needs someone to read to him from his textbooks. Any volunteers would be welcome. Cards and phone calls are also welcome.

USF Band
Seeking Recruits

This week marks the beginning of a program to increase the membership of the University of South Florida Band to the full instrumentation of a university symphonic band, according to Dr. Gale Sperry, band director.

Membership to the band is open to university students whose schedule permits them to attend rehearsals. Approximately one-half of the band members are now registered for credit; the remainder have elected band as a special interest activity. New students from the latter category are expected to add another 30-35 band members to the present group.

Starting now, the band is preparing music for its Feb. 25 concert. For this reason, students interested in joining the band are urged to make appointments with Dr. Sperry for auditions (Ex. 340). Rehearsals for the band are on Mondays from 3-4:30 p.m. and Tuesdays and Thursdays from 4-5:30 p.m.

The Feb. 25 concert will be the first of eight major appearances before the school year ends. Three outdoor campus concerts, two formal concerts in the teaching - auditorium, and a three off-campus programs are scheduled out the semester for the 60 band members.

Panels Plan
To Discuss
U.S. Policies

A series of "Great Decisions" discussions of United States foreign policy will be held on the University of South Florida campus during the early part of 1962, according to William W. Ford, mathematics lecturer.

During the past week, arrangements were completed for "Great Decisions" discussions on the USF campus and in nearby communities. This activity will be part of a nationwide program sponsored by the Foreign Policy Association - World Affairs Council. The program is now in its eighth successive year.

Groups of five to 15 interested people will meet once a week for discussion of the crucial problems facing American foreign policy. Meetings are held at a convenient time and place, and discussion leaders are selected by the members of the group. Fact sheet kits, as discussion aids, are furnished by the association at $1.50 for the session.

It is planned to begin the series during the week of Feb. 18, in order to avoid the examination period. Meetings, eight in all, will then be held weekly through April 15. Discussion groups will be formed on the campus, in Temple Terrace, in Carrollwood, and wherever else a demand arises.

Subjects for discussion in 1962 are Vietnam, Red China, Brazil, Nigeria, Iran, Berlin, United Nations, and United States (overall policy) in that order.

The Foreign Policy Association is a non-partisan, non-profit organization dedicated to education in U.S. foreign policy.

Further information on the program may be had from W. W. Ford, AD 2093, or by calling Ext. 189.

ZAITZ OUT OF UNIFORM

Chinsegut Retreat
Airs Staff Gripes

"Communications" and "registration" were the subjects recently during a staff retreat at Chinsegut Hill. The retreat, which drew more than 75 persons, worked with four discussion groups in a pattern similar to the student-staff retreat of last spring. Little was said in favor of the current registration system and advisers seemed quite put out that they had not been consulted before the program was placed into operation. They felt there should have been more communication.

More Campus Edition Wanted

This led to the second subject of communication. In general it was felt communication going up was good, coming down was to be desired. Suggested improvements included a Campus Edition of the Tampa Times with more pages devoted to university news plus more frequency of publication. Also, an improved Sunscreen that would be available to students as well as staff.

The faculty would not communicate to a great degree as to what went on but students picked up these few facts: Dr. Tony Zaitz was the only person present with a white shirt and tie. Carroll Rodgers wore a white sport shirt. Others were dressed appropriately for the occasion.

Earlybirds, there were 13 of them, were treated to a tour of the Chinsegut grounds. They had left the UC at 6 a.m. Some 65 others left at 8 a.m. Discussion sessions started at 10 a.m. and there were four groups.

Several faculty members commented that two of the reporters for the discussion sections seemed to write their own opinions as decisions of the group. However, notes to the proper persons were expected to handle the corrections.

"Wise Man Changeth Mind"

In summary it might be said the administration can be expected to make some effort to improve communications and to "again change" our method of registration. To quote one of the banana handlers at the city docks, "A wise man frequently changeth his mind."

John Gullett Gets Scholarship

Award Is Valued
At $500, Is Given
For 1961-62 Year

John E. Gullett, third semester student and intramural editor of the Campus Edition of the Tampa Times, has been awarded the John Stewart Bryan Memorial Award Scholarship of $500 by The Tribune Company for the 1961-62 academic year.

Gullett has received $250 and will receive a second check for $250 when he registers for the second semester.

The scholarship was given as a memorial to the late Mr. Bryan who was formerly a major owner of the Tampa morning paper. Currently his son, Dr. Tennant Bryan, is chairman of the board of The Tribune Co. Newton Conducted Interviews

The award, administered on campus by the University of South Florida Foundation, followed interviews conducted by V. M. Newton Jr., Tribune managing editor, with USF students interested in a newspaper journalistic career. Newton said he is interested in seeing the journalism program on the USF campus strengthened and in giving recognition to deserving students heading for a journalistic career.

Gullett, who was born in Indianapolis, Ind., moved to Tampa at an early age and after

'Search for Truth'
Series Postponed

A public debate on issues involved in teaching about Communism in the public schools, scheduled at the University Tuesday (Jan. 15), has been postponed.

The debate, part of a regular series called Search For Truth, will be rescheduled later in the spring, according to Dr. Edwin P. Martin, chairman of a committee which plans the forums. Martin said lack of time prohibited selection of participants who could be prepared to debate the issue on such short notice. He said the committee would meet soon, and that an effort would be made to reschedule the debate for late January or early February.

Letters to the Editor

OFFICE OF THE
SECRETARY OF STATE
STATE OF FLORIDA
Tallahassee

Jan. 3, 1962

Editor, Student Newspaper
University of South Florida
Tampa, Florida
Dear Editor:

As a member of your State Board of Education, I am vitally interested in the development and maintenance of quality education in our institutions of higher learning. In order to achieve quality education in our universities, one of the factors that we must consider is the proper relationship of instruction to research and service. One comment that I have heard time and time again is that the emphasis today is on research (and too often on quantity rather than quality) and service at the expense of instruction. A recent edition of the Wall Street Journal carried the following comments by Carroll V. Newsum, President of New York University:

"As a matter of fact, a large number of scholars in a truly modern university should be involved in elaborate programs of research. But the situation that has developed in recent decades, at least in some institutions of higher learning, has not been conducive to the development of a sound educational program.

"Teaching has become secondary in some university departments, for a substantial number of professors, especially the younger ones, have little interest in teaching as well as limited understanding of its problems. They have been educated only to pursue highly specialized investigations in restricted fields of knowledge. The most trivial studies are, in fact, designated as research.

"Some young professors then publish innumerable articles on their findings—to complicate further the problems of our libraries—for they believe (and they may be right in the case of some institutions) that, in determining an individual faculty member's salary and academic rank, administrators count 'the number of lines or print' that he produces.

"The title 'Research Man' has become a badge of respect on university campuses, and, irrespective of his ability to do meritorious research, the person seeking such a designation frequently expects special and unreasonable dispensations. Teaching assignments for him may become especially onerous, and he may complain bitterly if he is assigned a 'normal teaching load.'

"The situation is a modern phenomenon. Of course, special provision should be made for competent teachers who are also research men of genuine distinction, and there are some in every great university. But the fact remains that the really great scholars and research men of history, those who have made major contributions to human knowledge, usually had great companies of students—young scholars who enjoyed the opportunity of debating with 'the master.'

Please be assured that I support wholeheartedly the need for research activities in our universities as an essential function of any good institution of higher learning. We cannot progress unless we delve into the unknown. At the same time, however, unless the heritage of the past plus the discoveries of today are communicated effectively to students through the instructional process, research may be for naught.

Perhaps you would be willing to bring this subject to the attention of your faculty and students and ask them to evaluate your institution in the light of President Newsum's comments. It would be most helpful to me if I could have the benefit of their reactions. The only way that I can carry out my responsibilities properly and effectively as a member of your State Board of Education is to know and to understand what is taking place in education in Florida today.

With kindest regards, I remain

Sincerely,
Secretary of State

Horse Fanciers Study at Busch

The Horse Fanciers' Club has planned an excursion to Busch Gardens, tentatively for Jan. 20, to study the several members of the horse family there. These include quarter horses, draft horses, burros, and zebras. This is the first activity planned by the newly formed club which met Jan. 9 to elect its officers and vote on its by-laws. Future activities include riding lessons for members who wish to begin or improve riding skills.

Membership in the club is open to staff members and students. Meetings are held the second and fourth Tuesdays of every month. The next meeting, scheduled for Jan. 23 will be in UC200, time to be announced later.

Student Book Contest To Be Annual Event

The University Library and Campus Store are sponsoring a personal library collection contest for all full-time day students. This contest opens now and closes March 16, 1962. Judging will take place the week of April 30. The prizes will be: 1st place, a portable typewriter, retail value $119.95; 2nd place, books valued at $50; 3rd place, books valued at $25. The three winning collections will be displayed in the library.

The purpose of this contest is to create an awareness of the usefulness of a carefully selected personal library in the general student body. This will be an annual event. Beginning with the first senior class, the winning senior's collection will be entered in the Amy Love-man National Award Contest. The national contest, open only to seniors, offers a prize of $1,000 for the best collection from among those submitted. Entering this contest is not contemplated until 1964 when there is a senior class.

Judges will consist of two members of the academic staff and one person chosen from outside the university.

GENERAL RULES
1. The contest is open to all full-time day students.
2. Each collection must number 20-35 books.
3. All books will be considered with the following exceptions:
a. Textbooks as such.
b. No more than five (5) course-required books at USF. (Monetary value is of no consideration).
4. The collections may be:
a. Centered in a subject, e.g. academic, regional, etc.
b. Collections of a single literary author.
c. Collections of several literary authors.
5. Each student wishing to enter the contest is to leave a sheet of paper containing the following information: Name, address, number of books to be entered, and the title of the collection at the Director of the Library's office by March 9, 1962. Students entering the contest will be notified when they are to bring their collections for review by the judges.

JAM SESSION, TOO

Center Features Name Room Contest

By VIRGINIA MONTES

Highlighting University Center activities this week is the monthly Jam Session, sponsored by the UC Music Committee. Mark Morris, chairman of the committee, announced that the session will be held on Tuesday, Jan. 16 at 5:30 p.m. in the Ballroom of the UC. Students are invited to come and enjoy the playing of their fellow classmates.

Marlene Hennis, chairman of the Arts and Exhibit Committee wants to remind everyone that today is the last day to enter the 'Name The Room Contest. The winners of the contest will be awarded their prizes at the Grand Opening of the 'room.' to be held Saturday, Jan. 26, with a Stereo Dance. First prize will be $15, second prize will be $10.

Rec Room Annex

Remember the new room that you are naming is the Recreation Annex, also known as Room 2, University Center. Go in and see your additional Recreation Area and enjoy dancing and playing table tennis at all hours. Duplicate bridge is held each Tuesday night in the Gallery Lounge of the UC. This program is open to all students and staff and will enable participants to earn Master Points. Winners last week were Larry Connors and Ernie Crawford; this event is under the sponsorship of the Lessons Committee of the UC.

Dance Poll

Members of the Dance Committee of the UC will be taking a poll on Wednesday of this week, concerning the type of dances you enjoy and the band that you would like to have.

Women's Club Meets

The University of South Florida Women's Club will meet today at 3 p.m., in the staff lounge of the library. Mrs. Zenaida Nunez, secretary of the Volunteer Bureau, and Mrs. Kenneth Hardcastle, III, chairman of the advisory committee to the Volunteer Bureau, will be guest speaker.

P.E.—INTRAMURALS

Facts Reveal Need For Campus Sports

Figures just released on the 1961 football season in the intramural program reveal that 303 players competed on 15 teams in 55 games during the three months of gridiron play.

Although facilities are much improved over last year's, they are far from being "first class." The three fields used for practice and league games need to be leveled off and lengthened, and bleachers for spectators are not to be found. Uniforms are almost nonexistent, except when an organization participating in the league chips in to clothe its players. Glory is difficult to come by, for publicity rarely goes beyond the walls of the campus.

But with these conditions added to an occasional period of inclement weather, not one team forfeited a contest during the entire season. When hundreds of students, except possibly those playing for a social club, continue to support and actively take part for sports alone, a definite demand for good, healthy and varied competition seems apparent.

Seven teams tied for top honors in the sportsmanship ratings compiled for the grid season. The following teams were given perfect ratings by officials for all games played: All-Stars, Blue Devils, Disciples, Mauters, Alpha II, Alpha IV, and Outer Alpha.

Ratings of student officials were made by teams following each contest, and compiled for season placement. Melvyn Bryan, Ray Graham, Jim Mof-fett and John Ward received top honors in the final ratings, followed closely by Jim Rackley, Bob Alwood, Fred Bayless and Bill Smith.

Bryan received a 2.92 rating

Registration Schedule Announced

Registration period for the spring semester is approaching an end. Students taking basic studies foreign languages must remember to contact Dr. Robert L. Morgenroth, chairman of functional foreign languages, to schedule a lab as soon as they have paid their tuition.

The deadline for paying tuition is Feb. 16. After this date a late fee will be charged. Classes for the spring semester will start Monday Feb. 19.

Other important dates to remember right now are:

Monday, Jan. 22—Lists to be posted of those who may complete registration and payment of fees. Listing of details of registration in the Campus Edition of The Tampa Times.
Monday, Jan. 29—Same as Jan. 22 plus possible supplementary lists, and additional instructions.

Wednesday, Feb. 14—Testing and orientation for new students, cleanup registration for old students (those not returning their packets in proper order by Jan. 10).

Thursday, Feb. 15—Registration of new students.

Monday, Feb. 19—Acceptance of requests for changes in schedule.

Scouters Study

A "University of Scouting" will be held here 1-9 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 20. The meeting will include 400 scout counselors, ranging from cub to explorer leaders. They will be attending study classes on scouting in the chemistry building and one class will be held in the ballroom of the University Center.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas—For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a Texas firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment that is not only stopping hair loss . . . but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If your symptoms indicate that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself.

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. This is all the more remarkable in light of the fact that the great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped. But how can any man or woman be sure what is actually causing their hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Actually, there are 18 scalp disorders that can cause hair loss. No matter which one is the cause of your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. If you still have hair (or at least some fuzz) on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair . . . now is the time to act.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them information to help them analyze your problem. This information should include how long your hair has been thinning, and whether or not you now have or ever have had any of the following conditions: Do you have dandruff? Is it dry or oily? whether your scalp erupts in pimples or other irritations, does your forehead become oily or greasy? does your scalp itch and how often? and any other information you feel might be helpful. All letters will be answered promptly. Send the above information, and your name and address to Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Box 66001, Houston 6, Texas.

Professors Active

Dr. Charles N. Millican, dean of the University of South Florida College of Business Administration, will serve as interim pastor of the First Baptist Church in Ocala during the month of January.

Dean Millican will speak to the church's congregation each Sunday during the month while a permanent minister is being sought.

Dr. A. Hood Roberts, instructor in English, presented a paper on "Patterns of Vowels and Consonants Which Occur in English" to the Linguistic Society of America in Chicago recently.

Roberts, whose dissertation for the Ph.D. was in this area, used electronic computers to show that of 1,790 forms or patterns found in a 10,000-word sample only twenty-one of the forms were used 75 per cent of the time. The unusual study, concluded that although there are a great number of different forms in the English language, only a very small percentage of them are used with a great degree of frequency.

Dr. Hans Juergensen, professor of Humanities, has received many honors in connection with his new collection of poems, "In Need For Names."

The original manuscript has been requested for the Florida Authors Collection at the University of Florida. Dr. Juergensen has also been notified that the poem, "January to March, 1865," will be featured by the Enoch Pratt Free Library in Baltimore.

Psychologists Meet

Two University of South Florida psychologists participated in the second annual conference on personality theory and counseling at the University of Florida recently.

Dr. Paul R. Givens, associate professor of psychology, presented a paper entitled "Toward a Definition of the Creative Process," Dr. Thomas A. Rich, assistant professor of human behavior and clinic counselor, discussed with a panel of other psychologists a paper to be given by Harvard psychologist Gordon W. Allport.
