Mrs. Helen Renick returned home Saturday, April 1, from another visit to Atlanta.

The T.C. Cross' are having a whole house full of guests. Coxwain and Mrs. T.J. York, their son and new daughter from Fort Lauderdale, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Cross (Bob is an aviation instructor) of Arcadia, Mrs. Carl E. Cross of Montgomery, Alabama, Mrs. Joe Mickler and son, Joe, Jr. of Miami are the guests. Mrs. T.C. Cross flew up from Miami Saturday night.

When victory in Europe does come, people all over America will be celebrating. Horns, bells, and sirens will sound, and everywhere people will be expressing their joy. We in Temple Terrace also want to express ourselves. Now, I'm not asking our city fathers to stage any spectacular exhibition or erect any monument. But I do think it would be very appropriate and mighty considerate of them if they could find time in their work of running the city to raise the Flag of the United States on the now bare flag pole that was dedicated by our city father emeritus, the mayor, at a service [redacted]. I can not think of anything I would rather see than a flag flying over Temple Terrace - at least on V-E Day.

Hugh DeMilt, who has been all over the Mediterranean Sea and the Near East with the Merchant Marine, is now home. Hugh plans to ship out soon. This time he wants to go to the Pacific Area.
