Merrick leads vote

BY STEVE SPINA

Incumbent SG Pres. Richard Merrick led the presidential vote tally in early returns last night with the votes of four colleges counted.

High school guidance counselors from around the state were forbidden to speak during the Blind Walk, part of a personal growth session here.

Sciences and Engineering counts showed Merrick ahead with about 47 per cent of the vote. Walter Smith and Harry Fink both ran close with about 20 per cent each.

In the vice presidential race, Doug Pettit was ahead with about 51 per cent of the vote. Harry VandenBosche was second, carrying about 20 per cent of the vote.

MERRICK'S RUNNING for re-election is only the second time in USF history that an SG president sought re-election.

SG Vice Pres. Wayne Wechsler did not seek re-election.

SG Atty. Gen. Steve Johnson yesterday predicted that total voter turnout for the two days of elections would reach 15 per cent.

Election Rules Committee Chairman James Dudley said, "The UC polling booth has done business just like a supermarket."

"It was another hectic day," he said.

"Campus-wide, it was a little slower but steadier yesterday, as compared with the first day," Dudley said.

"It appears to be a substantial increase over the number who voted last year," Johnson said.

Dudley said the operation of the polling booths ran smoothly both days, with some minor problems, such as running out of ballots.

There were complaints about campaign literature being too close to the polling booths. Regulations state that literature

Local papers and USF groups blast plan to chop lower level

BY ANDREA HARRIS
Oracle Staff Writer

In the week since the Board of Regents' Finance Committee proposal to cut freshman and sophomore programs here and at Florida Technological University was made public, a volcano of criticism has erupted from University groups and the local media.

Both the Tampa Tribune and the St. Petersburg Times blasted the plan in strongly worded editorials.

The Tribune printed Wednesday, "It's difficult not to get the impression the Florida Board of Regents' Finance Committee is putting the worst foot forward in seeking to solve its problem of a reduced budget....If the entire Board of Regents doesn't bar this low blow, the legislature should."

AND THE TIMES editorialized Saturday, "The constituent community of both

USF and the SPJC, star of the community college system, will not stand still for a blatant passion of the regents' money problems to the already overburdened junior college community. We say: Regents, vote no!"

A vote will be taken on the proposal by the BOR March 10, but the regents will meet Monday in Orlando to discuss the issue. See story page 3.

University groups were also quick to respond. The Faculty Senate blasted the proposal in a resolution to be presented to the regents Monday. It states, in part, "It seems obvious to us that, in a state with the dynamic growth rate of Florida and the projections of economic improvement in the nation, the present budgetary crisis is a temporary one."

"CONSEQUENTLY, we would argue that temporary problems should not be solved by a drastic and permanent alteration of the basic educational nature of USF and FTU."

The Student Senate also stated in "urgent legislation" Tuesday night that "such a rule change is patently unfair geographically, highly questionable financially and completely absurd academically."

In a press conference that same day, Pres. Cecil Mackey warned that the plan would result in the elimination of 20 per cent of the faculty and 10 per cent of the staff at USF.

He also measured the impact the proposal would have on USF in a statement printed on two pages in yesterday's Oracle.

"Abolition of lower division instruction at USF assumes that all of the required freshman and sophomore courses are or could be offered in a neighboring community college; such is not the case with regard to many of our programs," he wrote.

Extension plans draw criticism

WASHINGTON — President Ford's one-month extension of the limited clemency program for Vietnam War resisters found little support among those who want universal and unconditional amnesty.

"The extension of a bad program does not make it a good program," said Louise Ransom, a Gold Star mother who heads Americans for Amnesty.

Ransom's response was typical of that of most groups involved in the amnesty issue.

Even before Ford announced the extension, representatives of religious, legal and counseling groups intimately involved with the resisters and deserters denounced Ford's three-pronged program.

"That the program is now being extended for one month is largely irrelevant," said Henry Schwarzschild, director of the American Civil Liberties Union project on amnesty.

"A longer term may affect in some degree the numbers of people who feel compelled to take advantage of a punitive and demeaning offer from the Defense and Justice Departments and the Presidential Clemency Board," he said. But he added it would have little impact on Ford's aim of reconciling war opponents and supporters.

Pay speedup asked

WASHINGTON — President Ford yesterday ordered a speedup in the payment of $335.6 million to veterans to spur the economy, and asked Congress to postpone or cancel $2.6 billion in other spending to fight inflation.

White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said the $335.6 million will go to World War I, World War II and Korean conflict veterans in the form of faster insurance policy dividends.

The insurance policy dividends, originally scheduled to be paid over the entire year, will instead be paid within 45 days to boost consumer spending, Nessen said.

Williams eyes Pride as bicentennial head

TALLAHASSEE — Lt. Gov. Jim Williams said yesterday that he will nominate Don Pride as director of the Florida Bicentennial Commission today and that the position will be exempted from Career Service status at the time Pride actually takes the job.

Williams said he is not concerned with threats by the commission's present assistant director, Gary Wetherington, to legally challenge the administration's right to remove the position from Career Service status, or to hire Pride who does not meet the requirements set for the position by Career Service regulations.

Liles naming seen

TALLAHASSEE — The Joint

Legislative Auditing Committee is expected to appoint Woodie Liles, attorney for Hillsborough County, as permanent consumer advocate to the Public Service Commission today.

Liles would succeed Fred Karl, former state senator and gubernatorial candidate named when the office was created this summer.

Water danger seen

TALLAHASSEE — State Department of Pollution Control staff members said yesterday that a possible cutback in federal funds for improving sewage treatment plants could have grave effects on Florida's water quality and the building industry.

Amnesty plan extended

WASHINGTON — President Ford yesterday gave some 100,000 young Americans another month to seek amnesty for evading military service during the Vietnam War.

The program had been scheduled to end at midnight tonight, but because of the rush of applications in recent weeks, Ford extended the life of the Clemency Board to March 1, and said:

"I believe that many of those who could benefit from it are only now learning of its application to their cases."

The clemency program for convicted draft evaders and military deserters is part of an "earned return" policy that Ford announced last September, coupled with a conditional amnesty program run by the Departments of Justice and Defense for young Americans who were charged or under investigation but not yet convicted.

Press Secretary Ron Nessen, who read the President's statement to reporters, said the entire program is being extended for 30 days to push the deadline beyond March 1 if the upsurge in applications continued, Nessen said "I don't know of any plans to do that."

During the first four months of the clemency program, from Sept. 16 through the first week in January, only about 850 applications were received.

Stamp cut dumped

WASHINGTON — The House Agriculture Committee yesterday overwhelmingly rejected President Ford's plan to cut food stamp aid for the needy by $650 million a year.

Route swap okayed

WASHINGTON — The Civil Aeronautics Board yesterday granted Pan American World Airways and Trans World Airlines the right to swap many international routes in an effort to keep the financially troubled airlines operating.

Overruling objections from the Justice Department, pilots, aviation unions and other airlines, CAB told Pan Am to take over many TWA routes in the Pacific region and TWA to assume various Pan Am services to Atlantic points.

Aid plan blasted

WASHINGTON — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., accused the administration yesterday of "threats and scare tactics" in efforts to get additional military aid for Indochina.

President Ford has asked Congress for $522 million to replenish military needs in South Vietnam and Cambodia. Congressional leaders believe there is virtually no chance the funds will be provided.

Regents to meet Monday; will hear enrollment plan

BY STEVE SPINA
Oracle Staff Writer

An emergency meeting of the Board of Regents (BOR) will be held Monday to discuss its Finance Committee's proposal to eliminate freshmen and sophomores here and at Florida Technological University (FTU), Regent Chairman Marshall Criser said yesterday.

The proposals are "virtually the only thing to be discussed" at Monday's meeting, State University System (SUS) Corporate Secretary Hendrix Chandler said.

THE EMERGENCY meeting was called to discuss the Finance Committee's proposals, Chandler said. According to the Administrative Procedures Act, the regents may say no to the proposal Monday although they may not say yes.

"If the BOR decides to adopt a rule eliminating underclassmen here and at FTU, it will have to wait until March," Chandler said.

An Associated Press story yesterday said that the BOR would not take up the committee's proposal until its March 10 meeting. That article was misleading, Chandler said.

The meeting will be held at FTU in Orlando and will be televised on WUSF-TV at 9:30 p.m. Monday. WUSF-FM will broadcast the meeting Monday at 8 p.m.

Buses carry few riders

USF's shuttle bus service was inaugurated yesterday with just a trickle of passengers on board.

"It was just a trickle but we'll let it go for two days, then see where we stand," Otto Meerbott, USF traffic coordinator, said.

He said if there is no upswing in the number of passengers, "then we may have to start asking the University community, where are these thousand people who said they wanted a bus service?"

The two bus routes were running on or ahead of schedule. The round trips had been scheduled from 15th at Fowler and Skipper at Nebraska to the UC for 15 minutes.

"But we find the buses are making the trip in just 10 minutes. This is fine because the buses layover in front of the UC circle for five minutes, and that's good free publicity, because the folks can see the buses are really running," he said.

Taft sees plan as 'death knell'

BY MARY RUTH MYERS
Assistant News Editor

Many graduate programs and research projects will be lost to USF if freshman and sophomore classes are ended here, Research Director William Taft said yesterday.

If the Board of Regent's Finance Committee's proposal is adopted, a chain reaction would result, he said.

The graduate assistants who teach many lower level courses would no longer be needed, so there would be a loss of student credit hours, endangering graduate programs, Taft said.

Without the graduate teaching and research assistants, faculty members would have less time to write good proposals attracting research money, he said.

Adoption of the Finance Committee's plan would be "a death knell for this institution," Taft said. "The first to leave this campus will be the faculty with the golden pens (those capable of writing excellent proposals)."

He said graduate and lower division programs are interdependent in the sense that many master's and doctoral candidates can only come to school if they have assistantships.

"We just won't generate the student quarter hours. This isn't an institution frequented by rich students," Taft said.

Last year USF received $6 million in research money, he said.

Forum to host Mackey today

An open forum featuring Pres. Cecil Mackey will be held today on the UC mall at 2 p.m.

Mackey will speak on the Board of Regents Finance Committee's proposal to eliminate underclassmen here and at Florida Technological University.

After Mackey speaks, the floor will be open for discussion. SG is sponsoring the forum.

Message must go to regents

Unless a large number of USF staff, students, faculty and administrators are in Orlando Monday morning, it is unlikely it will matter whether they ever attend another Board of Regents meeting.

Monday at 10:30 a.m. the regents will meet in emergency session at Florida Technological University (FTU) to consider whether to exclude freshmen and sophomores from USF and FTU. If the regents adopt the plan — and if the Florida Cabinet agrees with them — USF will lose its place as a powerful member of the State University System.

The Oracle sees no need for this. The reasons why USF should be maintained as a strong four-year institution have been enumerated many times by many people during the past week.

The time for talking among ourselves is over.

Now is the time to take the message to the regents.

The Oracle urges every student and faculty member who can possibly skip class or alter his or her schedule to get to Orlando to do so.

Because the meeting is at FTU, that university is sure to be well-represented. Unless USF can do at least as well, the future of the University is in grave danger.

Museum, USF can benefit each other

A uniting of forces that brings a solid, profitable alliance is a desirable goal to further any purpose. Fortunately, the Hillsborough County Commission has realized this.

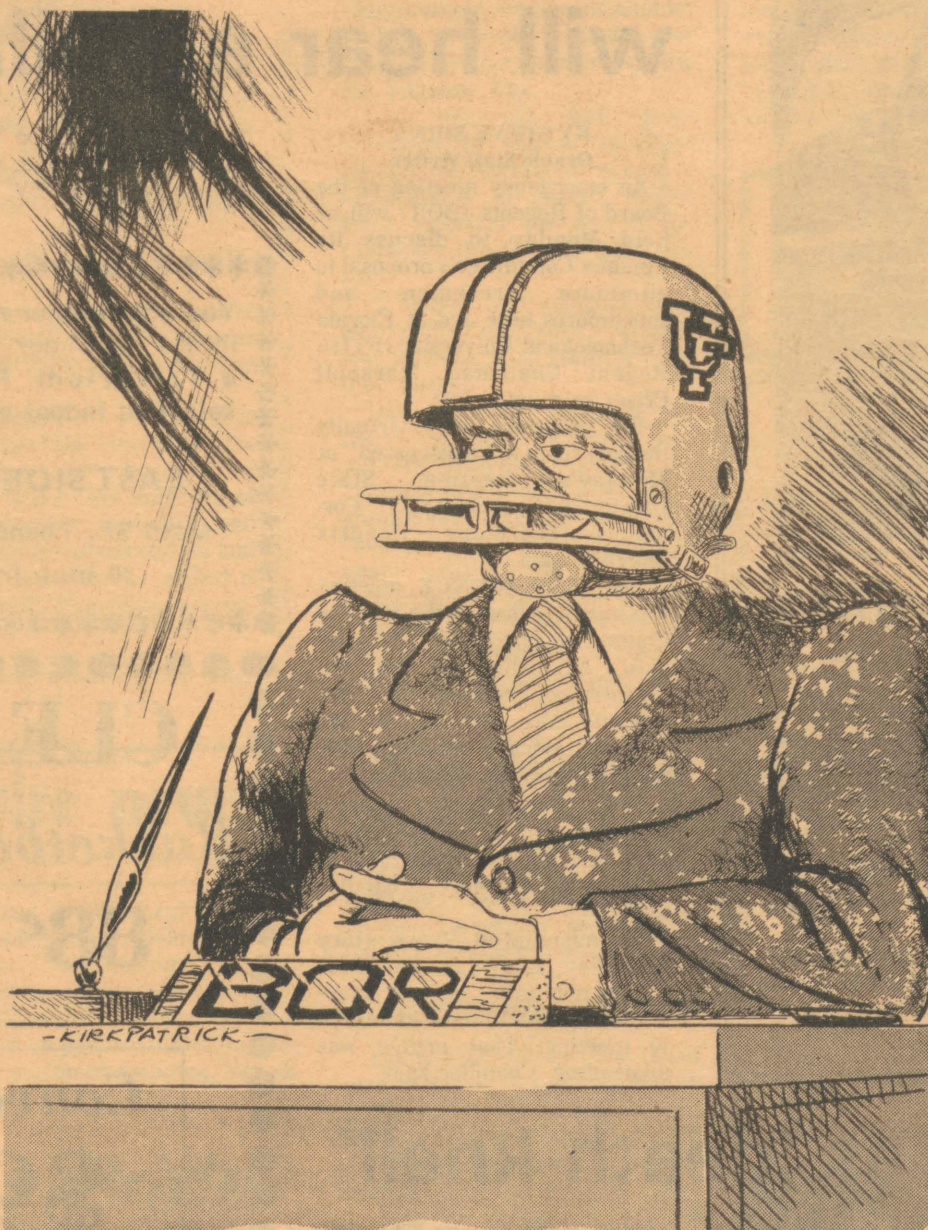

The Oracle feels the commission's decision to locate the Hillsborough County Museum on the USF campus is a move that will help not only the county but the University as well.

The University, with its scientific scholars and archaeological research interests, can offer the museum a wealth of expertise. In turn, the museum presents an opportunity for real community involvement for USF.

With the museum on campus, reciprocal county-University projects are not only possible, but a certainty. And it is no secret that USF needs all the local support it can get, especially at a time when the Board of Regents Finance Committee would like to chop off its entire freshman and sophomore population.

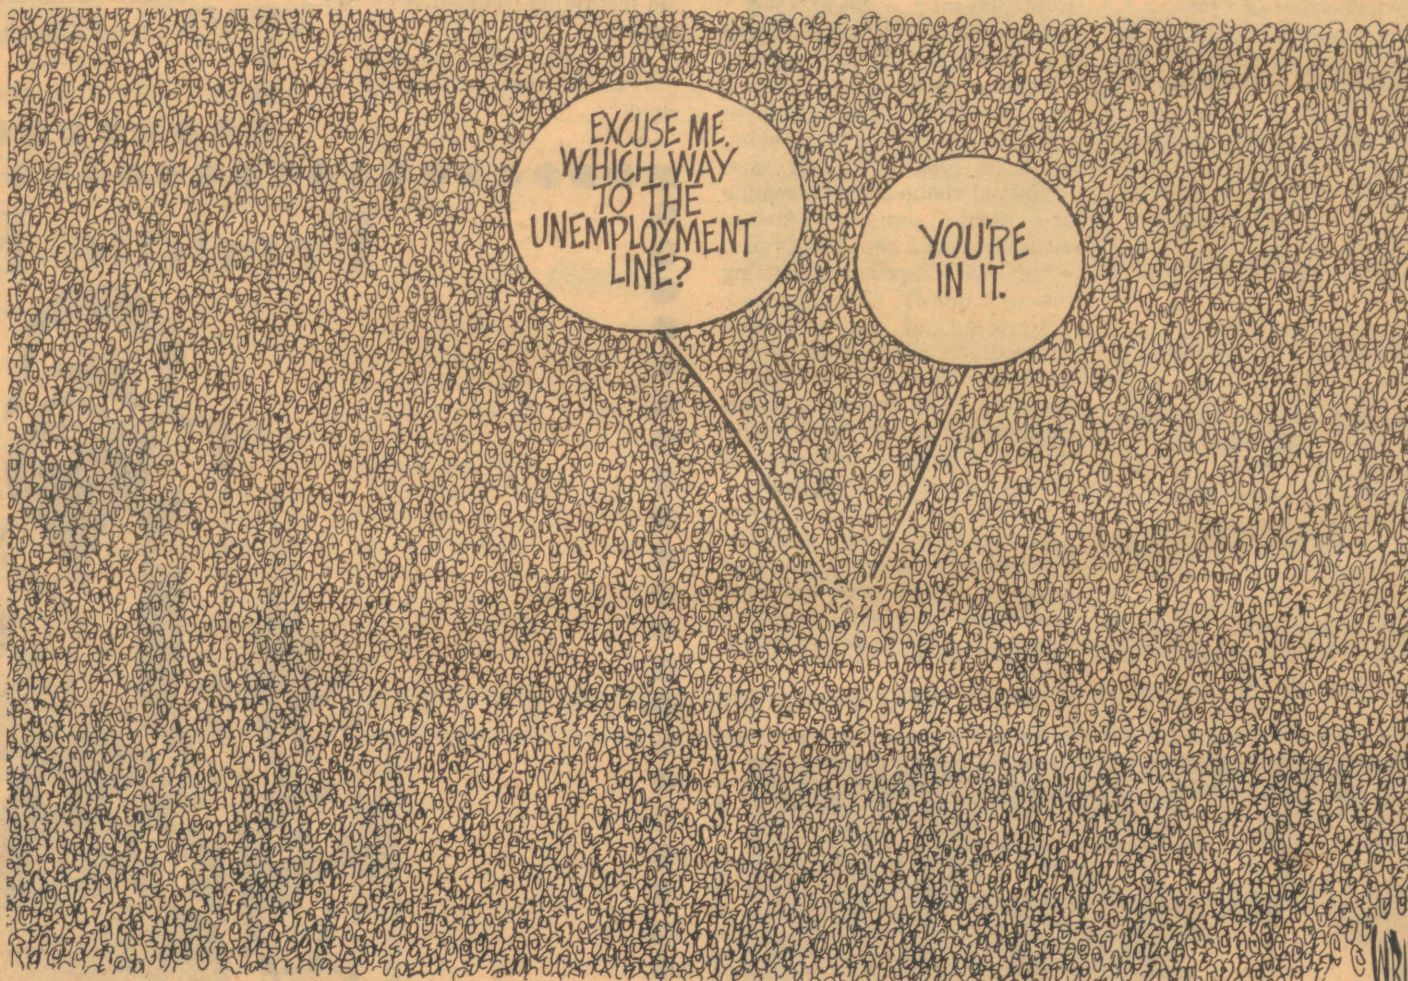

Community response appears to be the only thing that may divert the regents from their committee's plan to cut USF's under classes. And that response is likely to come only from a community that feels it is a part of the University.

The Oracle applauds the commission's decision. By working together, USF and the Tampa community can help further the development of the University.

Academic excellence requires lower levels

BY JESSE BINFORD JR.
Faculty Senate Chairman

As a faculty member in my fourteenth year at USF and as chairman of the Faculty Senate, I feel an obligation to make public my thoughts regarding recent developments that may significantly alter the life and function of the University.

The University has earned its right to exist since admitting its first class of 2,000 freshmen in 1960. It has been a very rough road but we have survived. Legislative investigations and budgetary shortages have not prevented the development of our University. We have made it. In Chemistry alone, my own department, we have graduated seven PhD students, each of whom has attained significant employment in recent months. There is considerable doubt that these young persons, most of them from the Tampa Bay area, would have risen so high academically if the University with its three divisions had not existed.

NOW THE Board of Regents may require us to abandon our lower division and become an upper division and graduate university. We would be required to give up a proven program for one which is experimental at best and possibly unsound educationally. The various levels of programs at a university depend on one another for their well being in a rather complex way. Graduate students are in a teaching partnership with the faculty, but graduate students can assist with teaching only in the lower division. There are few federal grants in these times to support graduate students. If the lower division is eliminated, it will eliminate some graduate programs because the University will not be able to keep pace with the graduate productivity figures required by the Board of Regents.

The University stands for academic excellence in the minds of the student population of our region. "Go to the community college if you are not ready yet — go to the University if you are sure you can make it." There is a need for academic excellence by the well-prepared student just as much in the lower division as in the upper division. The existence of honors programs, accelerated courses and undergraduate research all depend on the existence of a lower division. The association between academic scholars and bright purposeful young persons is just as important at the freshmen and sophomore levels as it is at the upper levels. Decisions about academic goals are made more knowledgeably and efficiently in a four-year undergraduate school than in a community college. Minority students who would have been accepted at the University would be forced into a community college or they would face the financial hardships of leaving home to attend a university.

The community colleges have certain goals that are important to the region, but they are not the goals of the University. Only one-sixth of the students at the community colleges ever go to a university. The community colleges teach trades which do not require four years of training. This is a worthy goal, especially when so many young people are unemployed. The community colleges do not have the facilities to accept 2,000 freshmen next fall who would attend USF. Where would they go? Many classrooms, laboratories, dormitories and library facilities at the University would go unused. Is this sound economics?

A WELL qualified group of faculty has been recruited at the University of South Florida over the past fifteen years. They have been attracted by our integrated program of three divisions — lower, upper and graduate. Our most active research professors and full professors teach regularly in the lower division and they believe in it. Our young untenured faculty bring new blood and vitality to the University, and they depend on the lower division for their very jobs.

The Oracle welcomes letters to the editor on all topics.

All letters must be signed. If a letter is received without a signature, it will not be published. However, names and-or student classifications may be withheld upon request. Such a request should accompany the letter.

Mail boxes are located in the UC and Library for letters.

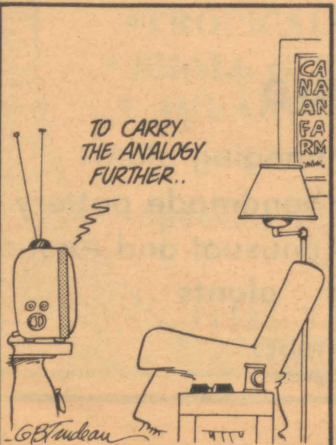

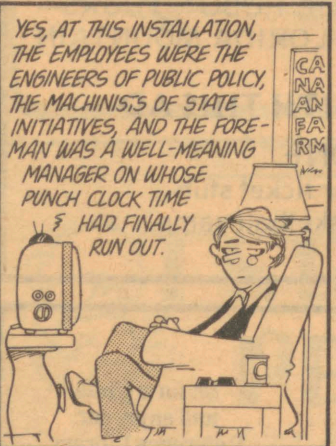

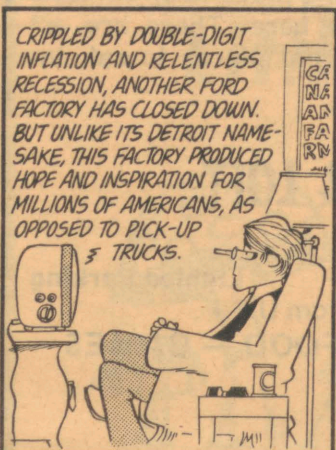

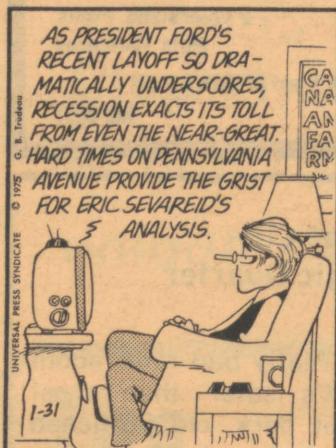

The Finance Committee plan has the purpose of cutting the budget for higher education, but no money is saved by eliminating students. This is accomplished only by eliminating the faculty who teach them. By next September, if this plan goes into effect, it might be necessary to eliminate 100 faculty from USF, and by the following September another hundred. Each one of these faculty was chosen with great care and high selectivity after a nationwide search. The departments need them to fulfill their special goals.

Why should our University be required to bear this disproportionate burden while three other state universities are permitted to keep their lower division students? We purposely have chosen to emphasize academics. Will we pay for this by being denied a lower division?

The reason for establishing USF 18 years ago is just as valid today as it was then — to provide a first rate general university in one of the major metropolitan areas of the state for the improvement and education of its young people. We must ask the Board of Regents to consider this matter with great care at their Monday meeting, because the unified undergraduate program at USF is at the very heart of an important regional system of higher education in Florida.

The SG election:

Howell gives views on low candidate turnout

Joe Howell
... 'less interest'

BY ILENE JACOBS
Oracle Staff Writer

"The less traditional a university gets, the less residential it gets, the less interest there is in student government."

That's how Dr. Joe Howell, vice president for student affairs, explained the low turnout of candidates for SG elections.

ONLY 42 persons filed for 32 vacancies on the Student Senate by deadline. Four were on the ballot for SG president and five for vice president.

"Due to the wide range of types of students here, probably the traditional student government structure will not interest large numbers of those students," Howell said.

USF's SG is composed of an executive branch headed by the president, the Student Senate overseen by the vice president, a Student Court of Review for technical constitutional matters and the nine college councils.

Jabbing a pencil in the air to emphasize a point, Howell said he realized SG is not the sole representative of the student body's point of view, and he takes that into account when he wants a feeling of what the students are thinking.

"SHOULD I listen more to those over 35 or those 18 or 19? I have to listen to both. SG is probably reflecting the ideas of the 18-year-old who lives in the dorm. I can't entirely rely on that."

The bristle-topped administrator said he also weighs students' opinions that come to him indirectly through his staff members. Letters to the editor in the Oracle, petitions and one-to-one meetings influence his decisions.

And what can SG do to stimulate interest?

"I JUST don't know. They're not going to get them to come to senate meetings. Realistically, as long as it doesn't pinch them (older students), they'll say 'let the kids handle it.'"

He suggested one reason for the overwhelming apathy as evidenced by low voter turnout may be that the University is better at meeting its students' needs, therefore SG has a smaller job.

"Whatever it is, to activate interest, they have a job that's almost impossible."

New WUSF radio format suggested

BY STEVE SPINA
Oracle Staff Writer

SG has proposed "an alternative programming format for WUSF-FM," including more folk and bluegrass music, music geared to the black audience and nonwestern, progressive and electronic music.

SG also requested that the station cut the amount of classical music aired.

Dr. William Mitchell, director of Educational Resources, said he "will consider SG's suggestions when we do make changes."

HOWEVER, Mitchell said there would be no format changes in the near future, but "we appreciate all sorts of responses from our listeners," he said.

SG Pres. Richard Merrick said in a letter to Mitchell that his major reason for issuing a proposal for a format change was that the current format served only a minority of the public.

"The University was created to serve the needs of all the people, not to gratify the social-cultural preferences of a tiny minority," he said.

THE BLACK Student Union (BSU) last week wrote a letter to SG asking for airing of more black music on WUSF-FM.

In the letter, the BSU asked for "broadcasting black music, albums and short playing records, black disc jockeys and black culture programs."

According to Merrick, the Board of Regents' guidelines for university radio stations ensure educational values, proper balance and good taste.

"University radio stations are supposed to tastefully broadcast a balanced programming format aimed at affecting and involving the communities that surround them," he said.

must be 75 feet from the polling area.

Dudley said the literature "was removed as soon as the problem was brought to our attention."

LAST YEAR only 9 per cent of the students voted—less than 2,000. Over the past six years, including yesterday's votes, that was the smallest turnout per centage.

In 1973, in one day of voting over 2,500 students voted, totalling about 13 per cent. And in 1970, 2,300 voted, another 13 per cent.

In 1972, 18 per cent of the student body voted in the SG elections. In 1971, over 25 per cent of the student body voted, that being the highest number of students voting in recent years.

The winners of yesterday's elections will take office in March.

We're in Ybor City Tampa's Nostalgic Quarter

You may have heard some really bad tales about Ol' Ybor City. Truth is it's safer than most everywhere else in town. After dark, old fashioned street lights make it a charming place to stroll. Lots of nice people LIVE & work here. There are art galleries, unique shops and great places to eat, including us.

HERE'S YOUR CHANCE TO WISE UP ON SPEAKERS

Monday at Viviano's Stereo Shops on 30th Street in Tampa and in Crossroads Shopping Center, St. Pete, John Wilson and Mark Solloway, representatives from the Advent Corporation will be conducting a speaker seminar between 2 and 8 p.m. They will be discussing these subjects relevant to loud speaker selection: Design... Performance...and Cost.

Plus you'll have a chance to ask all those bright intelligent questions you've always wanted to ask but couldn't find anyone bright and intelligent enough to answer. We won't even mind if you ask a few dumb ones. Best of all, it's free. There will be one hour sessions every hour on the hour and there will be no quiz at the end. Be there and wise up.

Seminar to be held at 30th Street south of Fowler, Tampa; and Crossroads Shopping Center, St. Pete.

Magic Dick, Wolf make J. Geils Band rock on

Picture Peter Wolf, lead vocalist of the J. Geils Band jumping around the stage yelling "Give it to me!"

If you can get a picture of that in your mind, then you're on your way to enjoying the group live at the Lakeland Civic Center tomorrow night at 8 p.m.

The group, without a doubt, is best seen live. Although their albums sell briskly, "Full House" their only live album, was recently cited as the most popular. One time through the album and it becomes apparent why this is so.

concert preview

Part of their appeal is excellent musicianship. Everyone has probably heard Magic Dick blow harmonica through "Wammer Jammer" and wondered with amazement how he does it without tearing his lips off.

Stephan Jo Bladd on drums, Dan Klein on bass and Seth Justman on keyboards add the driving rhythm that made the J. Geils Band the hard rockers they are today. J. Geils himself shines on guitar and manages to do it while jumping all over the stage.

The other part of the magic is Peter Wolf. Few vocalists can combine sex, violence and pure shouting like Wolf. And he doesn't just stand around on stage either. In fact, if he isn't moving, he's getting ready to move.

All of this adds up to what should be a very entertaining evening for the $6 admission charge. Tickets are available at the Civic Center box office.

Dixie Hobo Band will play Keg

The Dixie Hobo Band will play Slappy Hour today in the Empty Keg from 3 to 5 p.m. This three-member band is noted for the number of instruments they play — mandolin, tuba, upright bass, dobro and trombone, as well as more conventional instruments. Their sound is a combination of bluegrass, country and dixieland.

Saga will reduce the price of small beers to 30 cents during the program.

Literature to be celebrated soon

The third annual Celebration of Literature, Feb. 20 through 22, will feature noted guest authors and creative artists. Among the Celebration guests will be Ken Kesey, author of "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest," and Stephen Schwartz, music composer of "Godspell," "Pippin," and a new Broadway musical "Magic Shows."

Many universities, colleges and high schools will present oral interpretation, dance and film events relating to literature.

Speech Communications Department events include a presentation of "Catch-22," literature hours, student reading hours and Focus debates.

Guitarist Alvin Lee has some fun with 'In Flight'

Reviewed by MARK SHERMAN
Oracle Managing Editor

Ten Years After has not broken up for good; Alvin Lee, their lead guitarist, is just having a little fun.

And Lee's new album, "In Flight," is a lot of fun to listen to. He has, for a long time, been one of the most under-rated guitarists in the rock business. His years with Ten Years After were not especially popular ones for either him or the group.

Lee is, however, one of the fastest and most fluid guitarists around. One would think that he has seven fingers on each hand to play as fast as he does. He doesn't.

"In Flight" is definitely a good-time album. Lee is basically a hard rocker and that is the kind of music he does best. "Mystery Train," "Keep Knocking" and "Got Eyes For You, Baby" are probably the finest examples of Alvin Lee turning up his Gibson and blowing off the roof of the Rainbow Theater, where the concert took place.

Believe it or not, he does manage to squeeze in a delightful acoustic number, "All Life's Trails," and some slow blues with "Everybody's Blues You've Ever Heard."

What will undoubtedly astonish a lot of listeners are Lee's vocals. He sounds more like Elvis Presley than Elvis did. He does Elvis' "Don't Be Cruel" and one is hard pressed to tell the difference between them.

His back-up band, Mel Collins on sax and flute, Ian Wallace on Drums, Tim Kinkley on keyboards, Alan Spenner on bass, Neil Hubbard on rhythm guitar and Dyan Birch, Frank Collins and Paddie McHugh "bop sha bopping" their way as a backing chorus, are also very talented.

Lee and his band are currently touring the U.S. and are reported to be playing to packed houses. And judging by "In Flight," he should be.

Lee is at his best doing guitar solos, which are plentiful on this album. The best example of this is a ditty called "Writing You A Letter."

"Pink Flamingos" plays tonight and Saturday at midnight in ENA. This X-rated film is part of the Film Art Series. Admission is $1.

'Panther' sports Sellers' wit

Head Theatre's weekend feature will be "The Pink Panther" starring Peter Sellers. The film will be shown at midnight in LET 103 today and Saturday. Admission is free to those with valid ID, $1 to all others.

Peter Sellers, in his best-known role, plays Inspector Clouseau of the Paris Police, who is quite a bungler. His wife is two-timing him with the jewel thief he is trying to catch. Inspector Clouseau refuses to realize what is going on and remains steadfast in his pursuit of the thief.

The movie is complete with slapstick, gorilla costumes and a fabulous gymnasium called the Pink Panther. Claudia Cardinale, Robert Wagner and David Niven also star in this 1964 film which spawned the Pink Panther cartoons.

Jack Nicholson won Best Actor award at the Cannes Film Festival for his performance in "The Last Detail." A tremendous box office hit and an Academy Award nominee, the film is a wildly raucous and poetically complex portrait of an arrogant but sensitive sailor, played by Nicholson.

It is the story of two veteran sailors who escort a young recruit to the brig. Their no-holds-barred last fling builds a salty humor and makes one of the richest character studies in years.

Baseball team to host St. Pete

A doubleheader here tomorrow will kick off a seven-game exhibition series between USF's baseball team and St. Petersburg Community College.

The Brahms, who defeated Hillsborough Community College in their first three exhibitions, will play two seven-inning contests against St. Petersburg for the next three Saturdays and a nine-inning game next Friday.

Steve Ruling, Jay Keller, Chris Welsh and Mark Baum are scheduled to pitch three or four innings apiece tomorrow with Mark Miggins as a backup, coach Jack Butterfield said.

Game time is 1 p.m.

Gibson has his 'hands full' as USF visits Tar Heels

BY JEFF WHITTLE
Oracle Sports Writer

Bill Gibson is well aware of the reputation of the University of North Carolina (UNC) basketball team which his Brahms play Monday.

The game begins at 8 p.m. at Carmichael Auditorium in Chapel Hill, N. C., and will be aired on WFLA-AM (97).

"NORTH CAROLINA is what basketball is all about," the USF coach said. "We'll face the most active, largest crowd of the season up there."

"But to tell the truth," he added, "I'm looking forward to it. I always like going into Carolina."

Gibson may sound as if he is awaiting a vacation, but that definitely is not the case.

"They're so talented they just wear you down; he said of the Tar Heels. "They use 11 or 12 players a game."

ONE MEMBER of that barrage of talent is 6-foot-9 Mitch Kupchak, the UNC center.

"He's better than ever this year, and I'd have to say he's probably the number one big man in the ACC (Atlantic Coast Conference) to date," the former ACC coach of the year said.

Bill Gibson
...is optimistic

Kupchak will be joined in the UNC starting lineup by guards Phil Ford and Brad Hoffman and forwards Walter Davis and Tom LaGarde.

"Ford is one of the top freshman guards in the country, if not the top," Gibson said, "and Hoffman is a good ball handler and a great shooter."

GIBSON ALSO termed Davis a "great all-around player" and said LaGarde is "starting to come on strong".

Davis is 6-foot-6 and LaGarde is 6-foot-10.

Gibson pointed out that the Tar Heels have gone to a four-corner offense several times this year, and said he was impressed with their execution of it.

"They went into it with 10 minutes left against Maryland, and you saw what happened," he said.

THE TAR HEELS defeated the Terrapins, who previously had been ranked fourth in the nation.

But Gibson isn't letting that destroy his contagious optimism.

"I think we can honestly look to win this game, but we're going to definitely have to play our best game of the season," he said.

"When we go up to North Carolina, I'm going to really have my hands full," Gibson said.

"But I love having my hands full," he added, cupping them and smiling confidently.

Rugbers face Florida in 'grudge match'

Still smarting after being passed over for a spot in the Gator Invitational Tournament in March, USF's rugby team will host the University of Florida tomorrow at 2 p.m. on the intramural football fields.

"We consider it a grudge match," wing Robert Woodard said.

"TO A FEW of us it will be," Rugby Club Pres. Tom Springer agreed.

"We got a pre-invitation and received assurances from the head of the selection committee that we would be invited,"

Springer explained. "But apparently he was overruled by the committee itself."

The Brahms are ranked number three in the state and have won their first two games on the road this spring. Tomorrow's match is the squad's home opener, and Springer expects a tough contest.

"Florida doesn't need any incentive to play us. We knocked them out of the winner's bracket two years in a row at the state tournament (the Florida Cup)," Springer said.

LAST FALL the Brahmas lost to the Gators 15-6 in regular season play, then upended the Gainesville team 4-0 in the Florida Cup tourney.

"If we play flat, we can lose," Woodard said.

"We have an emotional team," he added. "If we get up for it, we can win."

God asks you to give more than thanks.

Cagers enter tournament

BY RINDY WEATHERLY
Oracle Sports Editor

Nursing a lot of minor injuries, USF's women's basketball team enters its second tournament of the young season in St. Augustine today.

The Brahmisses are one of eight teams participating in the three-day double elimination Flagler Invitational at the St. Augustine High School gymnasium.

"JUST ABOUT everybody is taped up with something," coach Jane Cheatham said, "whether it's shin splints, ankles, knees or backs."

That hasn't stopped her team from winning its last four games for a 4-2 record overall.

But that winning streak is in jeopardy since USF must play Florida State University at 4 p.m. today, then face Rollins College at 10 a.m. and Miami-Dade Community College South at 5 p.m. tomorrow.

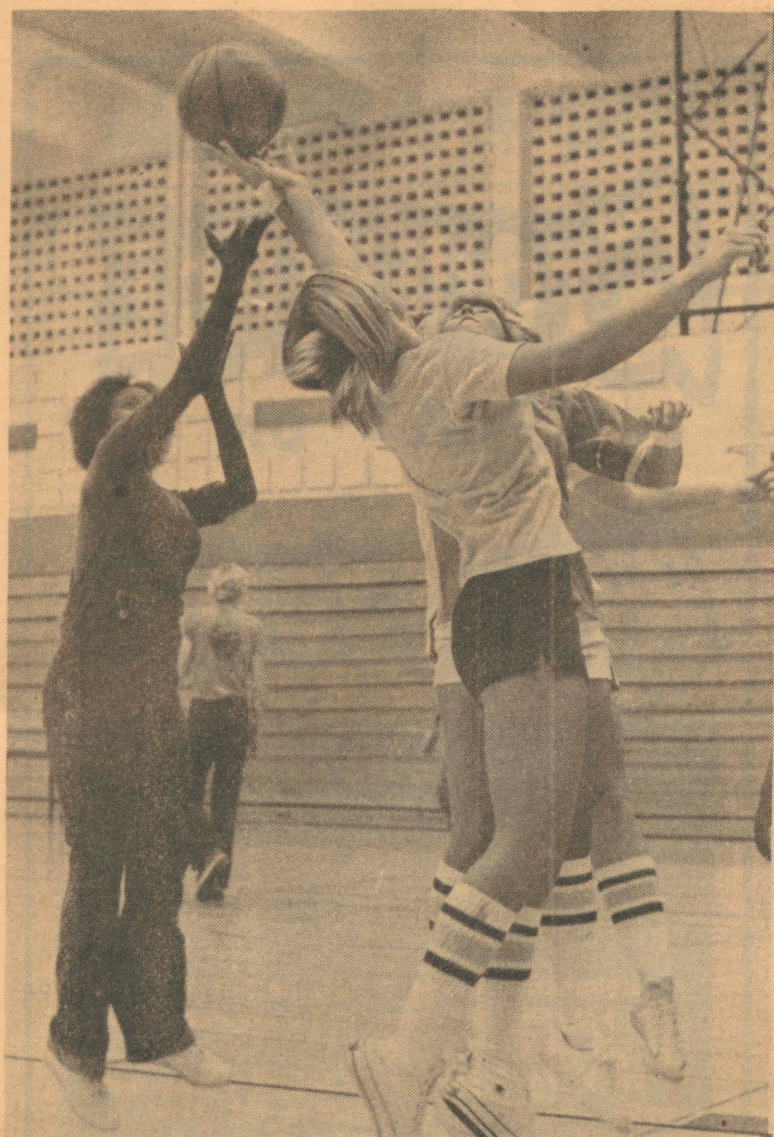

The top two teams from that group of four will enter the finals Sunday against the two best squads from a pool consisting of the University of Florida, Flagler College, Miami-Dade Community College North and the University of Miami.

"I'VE HEARD the University of Florida is the team to beat this year," Cheatham said.

But before her squad has a shot at the Gators it must get by the teams in its own pool. Two of those—Florida State and Miami-

Dade South—are seeded among the top four in the tournament.

"Florida State will be tough. Rollins is not too strong," Cheatham said. "I don't know anything about Miami-Dade South."

Trejos scores 24

Jorge Trejos cashed in 24 points to lead the Conquistadors past the Bushmen 75-36 in intramural basketball competition yesterday. Jim Ricci chipped in 10 for the losers.

In another independent game, the Bottoms blasted the Kinks 72-41 behind Woody Simmons' 13 points. Rusty Phillips scored 12 to aid the Fighting Purple Cows in their 33-31 win over Tracy's Truckers. The Continental Lovers stopped Residue Class 47-25, the Bombers defeated La Mancha Dos 53-50 and the Family got by the Hustlers 54-37.

Alpha Phi Alpha crunched Phi Delta Theta 59-18, while Kappa Sigma beat Sigma Nu 43-33 in the only fraternity contests.

Theta 1 continued its winning ways, dropping Iota 2, 47-31 for its third victory. Beta 1 East just got by Beta 2 East 48-44.

Kissinger: Force if needed

WASHINGTON — The Arab world is in an uproar over Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's remark about hypothetical American military intervention against the oil states.

Vice Admiral Frederick Turner, the Sixth Fleet commander, added to the furor by saying the Navy didn't want to invade any oil sheikdom but was "prepared" to do so.

Now, American diplomats are trying to calm the storm. They are telling Arab leaders that Kissinger's views have been misrepresented by the press. Kissinger himself has publicly disavowed his own statement. We can reveal, however, what the Secretary of State told associates during a recent secret discussion.

He said President Ford would not stand by while the Western world was destroyed by an oil squeeze. If oil should be used as a weapon to destroy the free world's economy, Kissinger said, it would be just as serious a threat as a Soviet military move against the West. The response of the United States, he added, would be the same.

Kissinger also said he didn't think the Soviets would go to war with the United States over the Middle East, as long as the United States was defending the West's "vital interests."

Of course, Kissinger stressed that the oil crisis can be solved without war. And in the secret policy councils, he has vigorously opposed the idea of military intervention.

Meanwhile, Kissinger has been scheming secretly with the Shah of Iran to find a solution to the Middle East mess.

The two men have developed a warm personal relationship. Kissinger has persuaded the Shah that another Middle East war would increase Arab dependency upon the Soviets and, therefore, strengthen Soviet influence in the Middle East. This would be a threat, Kissinger warned, to Iran's position.

The Shah has secretly agreed, therefore, to supply Israel with the oil she would lose by giving up the captured Egyptian oil fields. The Shah is also willing to join the weekly special

BY JACK ANDERSON
with Joe Spear

United States in guaranteeing Israel's survival. This is significant, because Iran is emerging as a military power in the Middle East.

Egypt's President Sadat has told both Kissinger and the Shah, meanwhile, that Israel must give up more than the oil fields. There must also be withdrawals from the Golan Heights on the Syrian front and the West Bank on the Jordanian front. Sadat explained that he could never accept a deal that didn't also include his Arab brothers.

Kissinger is now bringing pressure on the Israelis to come to terms with the Arabs before it is too late.

Ford's Faultfinders

Congress, the press and the public have been ripping apart President Ford's economic proposals. But some of the President's own appointees have given him the roughest going-over.

At a recent Saturday White House meeting, the President, his energy czar Frank Zarb and his economic adviser William Seidman were raked over the coals by the Citizens Action Committee, a group Ford set up under his "Whip Inflation Now" program.

After Seidman and Zarb briefed the group, Ford strolled in, expecting simply to pass a few minutes in friendly banter. But the citizens committee unloaded on him.

They charged that the Seidman and Zarb presentation were too one-sided, and they complained that the Administration was taking too hard a line against gas rationing. One member said the committee was useless and ought to be disbanded.

Ford, according to those present, calmly tamped down his pipe and listened.

After the fireworks, the committee voted on two proposals. One was a resolution to ask business to hold the line on prices; the other was to create a "victory garden" on the White House lawn as an example for the nation.

The vegetable garden measure passed, but the price resolution was scuttled by a representative from the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

D.E.A. Dope

The Drug Enforcement Administration, the nation's top anti-narcotics unit, has been virtually paralyzed by an internal power struggle.

Congress created the DEA in July, 1973, in an effort to eliminate the inter-agency rivalries that used to plague the war on narcotics. Our own two-month investigation of DEA, however, reveals that the old animosities are still alive. Only now they are under one roof.

Office politics at DEA have gotten so rough, in fact, that the FBI has been called in to investigate charges that the agency has been covering up in-house security probes. And on Capitol Hill, Sen. Henry Jackson, D.-Wash., has begun a full-scale investigation of the DEA.

for your dining pleasure...

WHERE THE EAST

Dine relaxed in front of Waterfalls until dance time. Watch the deer feeding out the windows. Get here early enough to see the peacocks spread their tails or later nested in the trees. Sip a "Mai Tai" in Tropical Splendor. Fri.-Sat. 8:30 'til, dance to the music of the Country Men.

MEETS THE WEST

Watch the Sun go down behind Lake Chapman from our Ranch House windows. Tie your horse or tie one on at Our Barn. Stroll through our Covered Wagon Bridge. "Sit a Spell" on our old front porch. It'll make you want to "whittle". Feed the ducks and squirrels at lakeside.
