FIELD OBSERVATIONS

Fla. Field Nat. 22(3):87-96, 1994.

Winter Report: December 1993-February 1994.—The observations listed here are based on rare or unusual species or significant numbers of birds reported to the Florida Ornithological Society (FOS) Field Observations Committee (FOC). As these reports are not formally reviewed, they may be considered tentative.

Significant reports are welcomed for inclusion in future issues of this section. Reports should include the following information: the species; the number of individuals; the age and sex of the bird(s); the color morph if applicable; the location (including county); the date; the observer(s); and the significance of the report. Reporting periods are winter (December-February), spring (March-May), summer (June-July), and fall (August-November). Submit reports to regional compilers within two weeks after the close of each period, or to the state compiler within one month. Reports may be sent by FAX to the state compiler at (813) 699-1927.

Following the examples set by Florida Bird Species: An Annotated List (Robertson and Woolfenden 1992, FOS Spec. Pub. No. 6) and The Birdlife of Florida (Stevenson and Anderson in press), sight-only observations are considered "reports," while only those supported by verifiable evidence (photographs, video or audio tapes, or specimens) are called "records."

The Thirty-ninth supplement to the American Ornithologists' Union Check-list of North American Birds was recently published (Auk 110(3):675-682, 1993). This FOC report includes all changes to the nomenclature as published in the Auk.

Anderson and Baker (1994, Fla. Field Nat. 22:21-23) recently published the list of birds for which the FOS Records Committee requires documentation. These species are marked in this report with an asterisk (*) to alert the observers of their need to supply the FOSRC with details of their sightings.

A county designation accompanies the first-time listing of each site; further listings of the same site lack the county name. Abbreviations used in this report are: APAFR-N = Avon Park Air Force Range (Polk); APAFR-S = Avon Park Air Force Range (Highlands); CBC = Christmas Bird Count; CP = county park; ENP-E = Everglades National Park (Dade); ENP-W = Everglades National Park (Monroe); FOSRC = FOS Records Committee; NWR = national wildlife refuge; SP = state park; SRA = state recreation area; WMA = wildlife management area; and N, S, E, W, etc. for compass directions.

For their assistance with this report, the state compiler thanks Rick West and Noel Wamer, the winter editors for American Birds/Audubon Field Notes, and Bruce Anderson for supplying information from the forthcoming The Birdlife of Florida. Thanks also to Doug Stotz for identifying the mannikin in Palm Beach County.

SUMMARY OF THE WINTER SEASON

Despite a colder than normal winter, the state did not experience large numbers of avian irruptive events, although one Wakulla County feeder hosted over two dozen Purple Finches. In fact, Cedar Waxwings were especially absent, and numbers of American Robins were down in most areas, suggesting a good berry crop north of Florida. For the first time in 17 years, no robins were banded at Annette Stedman's banding station in Sarasota County.

A "species" that was reported frequently this winter was Bullock's Oriole, although all reports were of females, which may be more difficult to identify from female Baltimore Orioles, or Baltimore x Bullock's hybrids, than was formerly thought.

Eight species for which there are no verified winter records were reported this season: Lesser and Common nighthawks, Yellow-bellied Flycatcher, Eastern Kingbird, Blue-winged, Townsend's, and Black-throated Green warblers, and Scarlet Tanager. The Townsend's Warbler was videotaped, and the Yellow-bellied Flycatcher was audiotaped, so these species should be accepted by the FOSRC. Verification may exist for some of the other species, but it was not provided by the deadline of this report.
